Aldermen Hear Another Protest Against Gas Sta.

Cross Street Residents Object To Filling Station

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night. There was little of import on the docket and the time occupied by the open meeting of the Board consumed less than one hour. The meeting started at 8:13, and the inevitable recess lasted three-quarters of an hour.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of Frank Vincenzo for a permit to have a gasoline filling station at 1105 Washington st., West Newton, corner of Cross st. Vincenzo presented a similar petition several months ago and was turned down. He was represented by Max Kalman of Boston. Mr. Kalman stated that the proposed station would be of the latest type and run in a nice manner. He argued that Vincenzo isn't getting enough income from the property to pay the taxes and ought to have the permit. Kalman contended that the station would not affect the values of nearby real estate, because real estate values can't be hurt now, in view of the depression. He said there would be no drive to the station from Cross st., and that there are no houses on Washington st. within 500 or 800 feet of the site. Mr. Kalman obviously was in error on this latter statement.

A number of Cross st. residents appeared to oppose the petition. They offered the same objection as at the previous hearing on this matter. They contended the station would be a fire hazard, dangerous to children living on Cross st., and because of the narrowness of his street, would create a serious traffic hazard. Robert Jiger of 27 Cross st. referred to Washington st. as a race course. One woman told of hydrants, sign posts and letter boxes near the corner of Cross and Washington sts. being frequently knocked over by cars, and predicted much worse conditions if the permit were granted. Herbert Gammons of 49 Cross st. commented that automobiles have done more harm than good, and filling stations have become wayside shrines.

A bus license was given to the Metropolitan Coach Company to operate on LaGrange st., Oak Hill, for a distance of about half a mile. This Newton highway is between the West Roxbury and Brookline lines and there is but one house on it. The bus line is to serve Brookline and West Roxbury residents. The petition of the Public Motor Sales Company to sell second-hand cars at the old coal yard on Washington st., Newton, opposite the Catholic Church, was refused.

On recommendation of the Claims & Rules Committee the following petitions for changing land from residence to business zones were refused—Julia Schwartz, land at Washington st. and Lowell ave., Newtonville; Henry Burke, land at corners of Walnut and Boylston sts., Newton Highlands; Flora Picariello, land at 804 Boylston st.

Appropriations made by the Board included—From School Budget for new equipment for Trade School, $5000; from Excess & Deficiency Fund to pay bills due since 1932—Police Department, $648; Health Department $751.70; Treasury Department $38.65; Water Department (paid from revenue) $122.26; Treasury Department for temporary loans interest, $5000 (paid from revenue).

Want $16,000.00 For Land Donated To City In 1918

Old Church Property At West Newton Was Given For City Hall Site

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Murray moved that a hearing be held at the April 17th meeting on the matter of taking by right of eminent domain the land at West Newton on which the Newton Police headquarters building stands. Alderman Temperley inquired as to the purpose of this taking. Mr. Murray replied that the police station has already been built on part of this land. The land was donated to the city by its owners with the understanding that the new city hall would be erected on this lot and the site of the old city hall. Inasmuch as the new city hall was built elsewhere, the owners of the lot in question now demand $16,000 payment for the property.

On February 15, 1918 the property was deeded to the city by a group of trustees composed of Charles E. Hatfield, John S. Alley and George J. Barker. These trustees represented a considerable number of persons who were owners of the property which was formerly the Second Congregational Church. These persons acquired the property and presented it to the city with the proviso that it be used as part of the site of a new city hall. It also stipulated that the new city hall must be erected within 30 years from October 1, 1917.

In 1930 Mayor Weeks recommended to the Board of Aldermen that a new city hall be built and it was decided that the site at Newton Centre, on Commonwealth ave., Walnut and Homer sts. be the locus of the new building. This site was purchased for such a purpose several years ago at a cost of about $300,000. Later in 1930 the Middlesex County authorities purchased two parcels of land on Elm and Cherry sts., West Newton as the site of a new district court house. Charles E. Hatfield is treasurer of Middlesex County. An attempt was also made that year to have the Aldermen vote to abandon the idea of building the new city hall at the Newton Centre site, and instead, have it erected at the West Newton site. The purchase of the land at West Newton by the county authorities was regarded by many of the Aldermen as an attempt to influence the building of the city hall at that place. The Aldermen, however, adhered to their decision to build the new city hall at the Newton Centre location. They also voted to have the new police headquarters located at the new city hall. Subsequently the Aldermen reversed this vote and decided to build the police headquarters at West Newton. At a meeting of the Aldermen, sitting as a committee of the whole, Mayor Weeks stated that he felt quite assured he could get the consent of the surviving owners of the old church property to allow it to be used for public purposes other than a city hall.

In the meantime, an agreement had been reached with the Middlesex County officials whereby the land on Cherry and Elm sts. which had been bought for a court house site was transferred to the city in exchange for the land on Washington st. on which the court house was subsequently erected. Intentionally, the plans for the new court house and police headquarters first shown to the Aldermen, had the court house located on

Many Scout Honors Are Conferred By Norumbega Council

Boston Council Member Speaks On Indian Sign Language

The first 1933 Court of Honor of Norumbega Council was held in Memorial Hall last Friday evening. Assembly was sounded by Bugler John Nichols and Eagle Scout William Dilaway led the Court members in. All lights were off and America was sung, with the flag on the rostrum picked out by a brilliant spot-light.

In addition to the awardees, listed below, the following people were members of the Court group: Miss Caroline Freeman, Director of the Newton Girl Scouts; Mr. Paul Bander, Secretary of the Community Chest; Mr. Walter R. Amesbury, Secretary of the Chest Budget Committee; Mr. A. B. Root, Jr., Chairman of Troop 9, Waban; Mr. Charles A. Rick, Secretary of the Community Chest; Mr. Walter R. Amesbury, Secretary of the Chest Budget Committee; Mr. A. B. Root, Jr., Chairman of Troop 9, Waban; Mr. Charles A. Rick, Secretary of the Wallesley District Committee of the Council. Mr. L. Lee Street, Director of the Division of Examinations and Awards welcomed guests and Scouts, of whom there were about 550 jammed into the hall.

The awards followed interspersed with songs led by Scout "Sandy" Reidy of Troop 4B, Highlands, with Mr. Lou Hafermehl at the piano. Mr. L. V. Nisbett, of the Boston Council staff, in Indian costume, led the audience about Indian Sign Language and ended with a hunting dance.

The Traffic Police Scouts, under Eagle Scout Robert Laverty, handled the auto traffic so quietly and effectively outside the hall that they deserve special praise.

The following awards were made:

Forty-seven men were enrolled by the Council in the training course which was conducted last Saturday on the Nobscott Reservation. The training included a large part of Scout open air work.

Newton Trust Co. To Open Office In West Newton

Will Be Open For Business on April 17th

On Wednesday, April 12, from four until eight o'clock, the new West Newton Bank Building of the Newton Trust Company at the corner of Washington and Chestnut sts. will be open for public inspection. The new office will open for transaction of business on the following Monday morning, April 17.

The new building was designed by James H. Ritchie of Newton Centre and was intended to harmonize with the Memorial Library Building on Chestnut st. adjoining the bank.

The interior of colonial character is quite unusual for a business or banking office, white finish with mahogany trim and blue hangings. The Trust Company management hopes, of course, that it will prove not only efficient and convenient but attractive in every way to the people of West Newton.

The safe deposit vault is modern in construction and electric protection. The drill proof door and vestibule weighing fourteen tons or more looks as substantial as it is. Two conference rooms in addition to the usual coupon rooms, complete the first floor.

In the fireproof basement is the commodious storage vault for silvers and similar bulky valuables. The building is heated by gas and the rest of the basement floor is given over to bank record and filing rooms, supply rooms, toilet and rest rooms.

It might be interesting to the people of West Newton particularly to review the history of the "West Newton" bank which, sometime during 1884, started in the rooms occupied by Mr. James H. Nickerson who conducted a private bank under the name of Exchange Banking Company.

Believing that a National Bank was needed and would be successful in this part of the city, Mr. Nickerson called together in 1886 twenty-two of the then prominent citizens and offered "The use of a banking room and first class vault, RENT FREE, for two years unless the bank pays a dividend of 6% per annum." The organization of the First National Bank of West Newton was effected and a Charter was received on December 3, 1886.

The original Board of Directors was composed of Messrs. Charles A. Poter, Dr. F. E. Crockett, Josiah E. Bacon, Edward W. Cate, Austin R. Mitchell, Alfred L. Barbour, George Petee, P. C. Brigham and James H. Nickerson, who was elected president. Mr. Mitchell became vice president and Theodore A. Fleu, Secretary.

On January 1, 1887, there were 25 depositors with a total of $4392.00. Three weeks the deposits increased to $28,847. A steady growth is evidenced by the following figures, and in 1913 the Savings Department opened.

Jan. 1890	131,828.00	131,828.00
Sept. 1890	141,329.00	139,629.00
Aug. 1895	280,629.00	282,457.00
Jan. 1900	482,457.00	482,457.00
Jan. 1910	606,428.00	606,428.00
Jan. 1920	700,319.00	755,741.00
Jan. 1925	1,072,292.00	1,594,183.00
Jan. 1930	1,035,398.00	1,643,333.00
April 5, 1933	951,119.43	1,514,146.28

On January first, 1890, there were 250 depositors which number increased to over 300 before the end of the year. On April 5th, 1933, there was a total of 2463 depositors of which 1016 were classed as commercial and 1347 as savings. In 1920 the savings department had on deposit a total of $55,421.00 which increased as follows: Jan. 1925—$431,891.00; Jan. 1930—$807,935.00; and on April 5th, 1933—$563,026.85.

On November 24, 1902, Mr. Nickerson resigned on account of his failing health and Mr. Edward P. Hatch, who had served as Cashier from October 1, 1888, was successful, President. After four become a Boston banker and Mr. Charles E. Hatfield was elected to the Presidency on January 9, 1906.

In June 1922, the Newton Trust Company acquired a controlling interest. The National Bank, however, continued its business until February 5, 1931, on which day it became the "West Newton Office" of the Newton Trust Company.

Mr. Hatfield's long and faithful service as President of the National Bank, twenty-five years, was noteworthy and as Vice President and director of the Trust Company he continues his good work in the public service.

Next Wednesday afternoon Mr. Hatfield, Miss Ethel Gammons, Assistant Secretary of the Company, will together with other officers of the Company including President Seward Jones, assist the Reception Committee, of which Mrs. Herbert M. Cole is Chairman, in greeting the people of West Newton and showing them over the rooms and vaults.

Says Boy Scouts Most Effective in Crime Prevention

Noted Authority Also Says Movies and Newspapers Encourage Crime

Dr. Amos Osborne Squire, for thirty years physician in Sing Sing Prison, declared that the Boy Scouts are the most effective agency of which he knows for the prevention of crime, in speaking in the West Newton Unitarian Church lecture course last Sunday evening. He also laid much responsibility for our present wave of crime to the drug heroin, the movies, the newspapers and the 18th amendment.

Dr. Squire said that his personal observations in examining over 30,000 men condemned to Sing Sing State Prison wholly disapproved many old popular beliefs regarding criminal types. They are not apt to be left handed. Out of 5,000 examined he found only one percent left handed. As a result of hundreds of autopsies and physical measurements, he wholly disagrees with Lombroso that there is a crime physique. He has never found a single criminal who had the measurements which at one time were supposed to belong to the criminal type.

Furthermore, he has not found the men admitted to his prison mentally inferior. Of 1,600 men admitted last year, 97 were college graduates, and 333 were high school graduates. He has found the median of intelligence of the many thousands of men he has examined only one month below the median for whites of the draft in the Great War, 13 and a half years old mentally.

As to the causes of crime, he believes that the following are important: Heroin, the drug of the young criminal, the importation of which has increased 90 percent since 1919, in spite of the fact that the importation and sale has been forbidden for the past nine years. 94 percent of professional criminals are addicts. The movies which attach too little importance to the taking of human life; the newspapers which tend to glorify the criminal, especially his escape from punishment; and the 18th amendment which has produced a wholly new type of criminal. "It makes no difference to me in my personal habits," said he, "but if the 18th amendment is repealed now, it will take 10 years or more to get back to where we were before it was enacted."

"In Westchester county where I am county physician, most of our murders are committed in connection with bootleggers' rackets."

As to the prevention of crime Dr. Squire declared, "I think the Boy Scout organization the most effective agency of which I know for the prevention of crime. I have never met a prisoner who had been a Boy Scout." He also said that he thought that parents might do much more to prevent their children from becoming criminals by taking pains to know what their boys and girls were doing and by giving them sympathetic guidance. He does not believe in capital punishment as it is not severe enough. Only five percent of crime is ever punished and only one percent of murderers are ever executed for their crimes. The murderer does not fear death. He would prescribe exile incommunicado for life, as is done to some extent in France.

He would parole first offenders, instead of sending them to reformatories, which are in reality schools of crime. He said that 50 percent of the men discharged from the Elmira Reformatory lead lives of crime after their discharge, while 94 percent of first offenders whom he has seen paroled have made good.

He would deport alien criminals 100 percent. Crime is now costing this country 10 billions a year. He thinks that certain deportation would do the alien who is now responsible for 10 percent of our crime. He said that 25 percent of criminals are psychopathic and therefore incurable.

Dr. Squire spoke with an ease and assurance which has come from his years of professional observation and lecturing, and the lively barrage of questions at the close of his discourse, showed that he had deeply impressed his audience.

The next and last lecture of the season will be given April 23 by Joseph Auslander, "The White Hope of American Poetry."

Examination For Police Captain

Police Chief Hughes announced on Wednesday that he has asked the Civil Service Commission to hold an examination to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Capt. Joseph Seaver. As there are but three lieutenants in the department, the examination will be open to the sergeants.

Supt. Lund Says Fundamentals More Than Three R's

Defends Present Curriculum in First Annual Report

In his first annual report to the School Committee, submitted last Monday evening, Superintendent John R. Lund strongly maintained that the traditional "Three R's" by no means comprise the fundamentals of education. He also reviewed the economies effected in the school budget following the recommendations of the Subcommittee Report, and said that the brunt of the burden of economy, which has been borne by the professional staff, has been cheerfully accepted.

The following is quoted and summarized from the Report: "The development of innate abilities and interests, of high standards of taste and appreciation, of social understanding, of wholesome social attitudes and habits, the cultivation of a mind at once apprehensive and critical of society of which it is a part—these are the fundamentals of education."

He maintains that there is "a growing appreciation of all of this on the part of parents and patrons of our schools," and cites the results of the Needham questionnaire as proof of his assertion. In reply to the inquiry as to what subjects the parents would be willing to see dropped, the response ranged from 14 to 1 as to physical education, to 4 to 1 as to the kindergarten against dropping any work now carried by the Needham schools.

The Report further states: "Those who ask for the elimination of subjects for the sake of economy tend to forget that the new subjects offer the most certain opportunity for growth in skill, in knowledge, in opportunity for precise thinking, in appreciation and in creative endeavor. The traditional curriculum, important as it is, cannot be adjusted to meet the needs of all boys and girls. We cannot continue to emphasize preparation for the professions and neglect preparation for other basic vocations."

Supt. Lund quotes the report of Superintendent Spaulding in 1910 as to what he believes to be a fundamental concept of the aims of the Newton public school system. "This development (of the Newton school system) has been inspired and directed by the idea that it is the function of the school to educate every boy and every girl, to eliminate none, to accept all. It fits work and method to individual needs, and strives to send children out of school just as individually diverse as nature designed them to be, and as the diversity of service which awaits them requires."

The superintendent also gives in an appreciative vein his impressions of the high conception of duty shown by the School Committee, the devoted, loyal and highly professional attitude of the teaching force and the interest evidenced by the community in the educational advantages offered by the City of Newton.

Will Be Employed On Oak Hill Farm

About 60 men who are obtaining aid from the Welfare Department of Newton will start to work Monday on a 76-acre tract of land at Oak Hill. The use of the land has been given by Arnold Hartman and John Janse, its owners. The men will work 5 days weekly in return for the financial aid they will receive from the city. Mr. Hartman will supply some of the equipment, and the city the remainder. It is proposed to grow a variety of vegetables on the farm and these will be given to the needy of the city.

Bishop Spellman Made Pastor of N. Centre Church

Noted Scholar Comes to Sacred Heart Church

Bishop Francis J. Spellman was yesterday appointed pastor of the Sacred Heart Church at Newton Centre to succeed the late Rev. Timothy Curtin. Bishop Spellman was born at Whitman 44 years ago, graduated from Fordham College in 1911 and then went to Rome to study at the American College where he made a brilliant record. He was ordained at Rome in 1916 and returned to Boston where he was assigned to a Roxbury church as a curate. In 1918 he was made director of Diocesan literature and editor of the Pilot. In 1925 he was recalled to Rome and was detailed to service in the office of the papal secretary of state. He was made a bishop in August of 1932 and assigned to assist Cardinal O'Connell in the Boston archdiocese. He will assume his duties at Newton Centre at once.

Again Make Break At Newton Corner

Burglars who regard the office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at 313 Washington st., Newton, as a likely prospect, have their nerve with them. This office was broken into a couple of weeks ago, a large safe smashed, and about $300 stolen. Early Tuesday morning another burglary occurred at this office and a new safe had been maltreated. Its combination had been knocked off, but the burglars must have been frightened away before they could force the door of the safe open. They left a sledge hammer and other tools behind. Entrance to the building was effected by prying a window. The office door was opened by apparently sliding back the door catch with a piece of celluloid.

Newton Centre House Robbed

The home of Frank P. Rowbotham at 750 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre was robbed on Sunday night of cash and jewelry in the absence of its occupants. Frank Rowbotham, Jr. returned to the house about 10, found the front door latched from the inside, and a window jammed. Going inside, he found three rooms on the second floor looted. He telephoned his father and the Newton police. The latter hastened to the house and made a search, but found no burglars. After the police had departed, the Rowbotham boy phoned a second time to police headquarters, and insisted that the burglars were still hiding in the house. The police returned, but could find no intruders in the building. Mr. Rowbotham told the police that $500 in cash and about $500 in jewelry were stolen from his home.

GILLESPIE

Hat Remodeling, $3.00

If you are budgeting your dollars (and who isn't) you will appreciate GILLESPIE "Service." It restores your hats of other years, (as every available straw is in vogue this season, to even Milano, lace and hair) to their original freshness and adapts them to copies of the new French models. The work is $3.00. GILLESPIE "Service" also resurrects your old frocks, coats and suits, taking them out of the cast-off clothes class and making them not only wearable but SMART. Prices are very reasonable. GILLESPIE GOWN & HAT SHOP, 26 West St., Rm. 507, Fabian Bldg., Boston. L.B. 1855.

As a car driven by Ethel Kidd of 58 Bourne st., Auburndale, was being backed out from a parking space on Washington st., near Cherry st., West Newton, on Monday, it was hit by a car driven by Eugene Edmond of New Bedford. Mrs. Kidd reported that she had received injuries to her head.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

"What! No Beer?" with Buster Keaton and Jimmie Durante is the timely comedy for the first of the week at the Paramount Theatre, Newton. On the same program Barbara Stanwyck will be seen in "Ladies They Talk About," a screen adaptation of the play "Women in Prison." For the last part of the week, George Arliss will be seen in "The King's Vacation," with a strong supporting cast. On the same program Lee Tracy will be seen in "Clear All Wires," a good newspaper story. The Saturday evening audiences are growing, which attend the Paramount to see the good, clean vaudeville entertainment shown each week. A special vaudeville act has been added for Saturday afternoons for the benefit of the children.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

"The Big Drive," the great picture of the World War, will be shown this coming week at the Central Square Theatre in Waltham. The film has been compiled from the film records and archives of the War Department and from the archives of seven other nations who participated in the war. The picture honors the lives of those who made the supreme sacrifice, and is at the same time the strongest argument for the continuance of peace.

DALEY POST N. 2384, V. F. W.

The next regular meeting of the Daley Post V. F. W., will be held at V. F. W. Hall on next Monday evening.

Members of the Post who were elected as delegates to the State Encampment are as follows: Commander, David L. Keefe, Past Commander, John J. Keefe; Charles T. Marden, J. V. C.; Comrades Harold Elliott, Ray Adams, Thomas Treddin, George McNamee, Robert Murray, Martin Stanton, Hugh Boyd, and Thomas Shaughnessy.

Instructor Thomas Treddin is busy engaged with the task of selecting speakers for the annual visit to the Newton Schools on Memorial Day. On next Wednesday evening the final meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held at V. F. W. Hall. Plans for the joint dance under the auspices of the Post and C. Co. 101st Inf., 26th Div., M. N. G., are rapidly progressing. This affair will be conducted on Patriots' Day April 19, at State Armory.

CANEY CREEK STUDENTS IN NEWTONVILLE

Fifteen years ago Mrs. Alice G. Lloyd of Boston who had gone down to the mountains of Kentucky for her health, was so deeply impressed with the scenery of the mountains that she returned with a ten dollar bill, a typewriter and an unbonded faith she started the nationally known Caney Creek School. On Wednesday a group of students from the school were luncheon guests of the Women's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church. Two student doctors and one student lawyer, who is in the University of Kentucky were in the group. One of the boys, Kermit McCoy, is from the McCoy family of the McCoy-Hatfield feud, now forgotten by the two families. Another boy was a moonshiner at 13 but escaped the fate of his brothers, a term in jail.

The Caney Creek School has 400 pupils in the grades, the high school and the junior and normal colleges and a library of 18,000 books which are loaned to 200 small libraries in the state. The school is a place of whom are furnished by the state, are college graduates. The yearly budget is $90,000 which is received largely through voluntary subscriptions. It is the ambition of these young folks to return to their people when they are educated and service. Following the luncheon the guests, in the dress of the mountaineer, gave in dialect a short skit portraying the outcome of a feud over the murder of a son of one of the mountain families. The students, who are on a six weeks' vacation, are accompanied by one of the teachers, a Wellesley College woman, who went down to Caney for a short visit and has stayed ten years.

ANNOUNCE SUPERIOR FUEL OIL WALKER FUELS, INC., HAS NEW FUEL OIL

The Walker Fuels, Inc., owned and managed by Albert H. Walker, are prepared to make immediate delivery of fuel oil from their own bulk station. In conference this week Mr. Walker stated that "by refining improvements a superior fuel oil has been produced that will vaporize and gasify more readily, thus permitting complete combustion and clean burning which always leads to higher efficiency and greater economy. One outstanding feature is the elimination of the objectionable odor so often associated with fuel oil. Satisfactory tests have been made with a varied assortment of burners."

POLICE NEWS

Cornelius Horgan of Roxbury was sentenced to two months in prison in the Newton court on Monday for stealing an automobile and given another for reckless driving. He was also fined $100 for driving a car after his license had been suspended, and $10 for driving without a license. Horgan was arrested by Metropolitan police on California st., Norantum, after a chase from Watertown. Daniel Stuart of Roxbury, who was arrested with Horgan, was present in the courtroom on Monday morning, but disappeared before the case was called. Stuart is on parole from Concord Reformatory and it is supposed that when he saw the parole officer from that institution in the courtroom he decided to vamoose.

The family of Alfred S. Black, 5 Whittier rd., Newtonville, has been absent from home some months, so when neighbors saw three young men leaving the house on Sunday, the police were notified. They discovered that a window had been forced and the house occupied by trespassers. Beds had been slept in and cigarette stubs were thrown on floors. Whether articles had been stolen was not reported.

John FitzPatrick of Fuller st., Dorchester, was arrested early Tuesday morning by Patrolmen Jenkins and Sullivan charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried April 10.

John Crowe of 28 Falmouth rd., West Newton, was arrested early Saturday morning by Patrolmen Davis and Purcell, charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He failed to appear in the Newton court yesterday and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

HUNNEWELL PLAYERS

The Hunnewell Club players of Newton staged their second successful play of the season on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week in the club hall before enthusiastic audiences. Under the direction of Mr. Mortimer Marlieb the local organization presented "The New Poor," a comedy drama by Cosmo Hamilton. The story was that of a millionaire, whose servants left suddenly without notice causing confusion among the family. A staff of "the new poor" or titled Russian refugees, which later turned out to be a group of actors, was engaged and the resulting romances between them and members of the family provided much of the theme of the play. The substitution of copies of master paintings brought into the action a note of crime and detection which was well carried out.

Members of the cast included Donald L. Gibbs, William Parker, James Wright, L. Linder Gravatt, Ralph W. Bartlett, Jr., Luke Goff, Ethelwyn G. George, Alva G. Law, Lucy Bradshaw, Jean Morrow, Miriam J. Gravatt and Clayton Holden.

The presentation was under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the club comprised of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. McAdams, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Tyler. The business staff included F. S. Bacon, manager; Howard Hayward, property manager; and settings; Ralph C. Emory and E. E. Hayward, Jr., stage managers, and assisted in construction by Mason Stone, Jr., Virginia Gilbert, art; and Philip Horne, lighting.

Mrs. E. E. Hayward entertained at the piano with selections prior to the opening curtain and between the acts.

SCARLET FEVER STILL CONTINUES

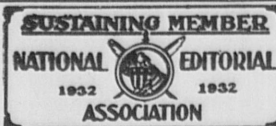

For the first week of April 20 new cases of scarlet fever have been reported in this city. The disease is working back towards Newton Corner after having journeyed South and West in the city the past couple of years. Most of the cases reported the past week or so are among pupils in Our Lady's Parochial School. Another clinic was held this week at Newton Hospital to obtain blood from recent victims of the disease to be used in making serum as a preventive against the sickness. Eight persons gave a half-pint of blood each.

THE RETURN OF BEER

Today marks the return of the legalized sale of beer—the first of steps which may result in the repeal of the 18th Amendment which prohibited the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages in the United States. The particular question of whether or not the malt beverages and wines to be sold are intoxicating or not is not one which concerns us at present. There is a general opinion voiced that the methods under which these beverages are sold during the coming months will have a direct bearing upon the possibility of ratification of repeal of the 18th Amendment in this state. The question of whether or not the State should ratify repeal is another point about which we are not at the present concerned.

Regardless of one's views upon repeal or the question of what is an intoxicating beverage the problem of the present is confined to the determination of the proper method of handling the situation. The legislature and its most important interested committees have given considerable thought to the matter and have offered a plan which it is expected will meet with more or less general approval. Several important features of the plan affect Newton. We do not believe that Newton is comprised of a "beer drinking" population and that there will be little demand for licenses for the beverage to be drunk on the premises. Under the provisions of the bill the local licensing authorities have power to grant such licenses without the approval of the state commission. However, in case of grievance the licensee or twenty-five taxpayers have the right of appeal and for a hearing before the state commission for issuance or revocation of the license in question.

The state commission, however, must approve all other licenses except those which are issued for a temporary ninety-day period until the commission is established and has the opportunity to begin its functions. Until such time or beyond that, until the citizens of Newton have an opportunity to vote upon the licensing question the Mayor or local licensing authorities have power to issue such licenses. There are many who feel that inasmuch as it is perfectly legal for any licensed dealer to deliver the beverages permitted under Federal regulations in the city of Newton that Newton merchants, if desirous, should be given the opportunity to sell these beverages, which are not to be drunk on the premises, to their customers. Under the proposed plan Newton is permitted to issue between twenty-five and thirty such licenses.

There is reason to doubt the feelings of the people of Newton regarding the repeal of the 18th Amendment. There is also some question as to whether or not there is a sufficient change of opinion here to permit such licenses as noted regarding the sale of bottled beverages. In any case local option should be the method of final decision. The situation can be more properly handled the sooner such a decision is obtained.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

The Purpose of Athletics:

All athletic competition, both intramural and interscholastic, is recognized as an integral part of the physical education program. As such its chief function is to enrich the educational advantages provided by the high school. Because of the above statement, ALL boys are encouraged to participate in Athletics. (It is probably true that a larger number of pupils do engage in athletic activity in Newton than in any other high school of its size in New England.)

Varsity vs. Intramural Competition:

On account of the educational precept, the main policy should not be to develop a varsity team capable of winning all its games with outside schools, while the great number of high school boys never have an opportunity to enjoy the benefits derived from wholesome competition. Our policy is to develop each boy to the maximum of his ability, especially those boys who are most in need of the values in physical education which athletics peculiarly offers. He is constantly competing with other boys of approximately his own ability. If he is able to "make" the varsity team he receives greater recognition (from citizens, at least) than many of his classmates who are compelled to play on less publicly recognized teams and squads.

Coaches:

Each team from the smallest Sophomore group to the varsity squad is coached by faculty members. This gives greater assurance that the educational ideals of the school will permeate the athletic contest. In the last seven years an unusually fine staff of coaches has been built up. These are men who have been selected: first, because they are excellent teachers of subject-matter and of boys; second, because they are especially fitted to coach the different branches of athletics. It is a staff of which few high schools can boast and of which Newton should be very proud.

High Spots

We promote and support football, soccer, field hockey, archery, cross country, tennis, track and field, basketball, golf, ice-hockey and baseball, as after-school sports. The cost of every contest with outside schools is paid entirely from athletic funds and not from tax money.

Last year there were several teams in each sport. Basketball was in the lead with more than 220 regular organized teams. Soccer and baseball were close in numbers of players.

Class work consists of such games as soccer, field hockey, touch football, speed ball, volley ball, basketball, relay races, apparatus work, dancing, corrective work, a limited amount of calisthenics, marching, instruction in hygiene and first-aid.

In the elementary schools the work is carried on by the classroom teacher with help and advice from the supervisor. This work consists largely of games, stunts, dances, and with health habits taught in every lesson.

A complete picture from kindergarten to high school senior would show a wide range of games from bean bags to football.

Next week begins a series of articles on Trade and Vocational opportunities in the Newton Schools.

Under The Gilded Dome

Between the varied and conflicting views of the legislature and other state officials upon the budget, beer, and Boston salary reduction bill, it has been a case of "busy bees" this week on Beacon Hill with the varied and conflicting views of the legislature and other state officials upon the budget, beer, and Boston salary reduction bill. The question of beer and light wines was debated at length in both branches of the legislature with Governor Ely issuing definite adopted several amendments which rejected. After several days of discussion the Senate yesterday afternoon adopted several amendments which rejected a number of those adopted by the House previously and a number of others which changed the bill considerably as affecting the powers of the state commission to be set up to regulate the entire question. Late yesterday afternoon the bill was returned to the House with these amendments and as the lower branch refused to concur in several of the amendments a committee on conference was appointed to attempt an adjustment of the differences. With both branches in recess the report of this committee was brought in about midnight when the House came to order. With little debate the House accepted the committee report and sent the measure to the Senate where the sailing was not as smooth. As it would be several hours before the clerical work on the bill could be completed so that the bill could become the law the House adjourned shortly after 12:30. The Senate, after some debate, finally accepted the committee report and adjourned about one o'clock. It is expected that the measure will be enacted some time today although it may not be without considerable debate. Whether or not Governor Ely will sign the bill with the conference report amendments is another uncertainty.

The bill as it now stands divides the question of wholesale and retail licenses and further divides each in bottled beverages or beverages to be drunk upon the premises where it is sold. In regard to the retail licenses affecting the latter the Senate amendment, upon which the conference committee finally agreed that the House should recede in its position, provides that the local licensing authorities shall grant the licenses without the necessity of the approval of the state commission the three members of which will be appointed for one, two and three year terms, by the Governor. In relation to this provision a new section, which the committee on conference strengthened after the House had refused to accept it, was put into the bill. This section causes the commission to act as a board of appeal in cases where there may be grievance relating to the license issued, revoked, or otherwise acted upon by the local licensing authorities. The licensee or twenty-five taxpayers have the right of appeal to the commission for a hearing and decision upon the grievance.

The conference committee recommended that the Senate recede from its position upon the House amendment restricting the issuance of licenses to restaurants to one in each city or town. The Senate was also asked to recede in its position on the bottling of beverages by bottling concerns. Other amendments upon which the two branches concurred prior to the appointment of the committee changed back the provisions relating to minor the age of 21 instead of 18 as adopted by the House and also regarding the issuance of both wholesale and retail licenses to firms engaged in both methods of business prior to the first of this year.

The budget is also having a stormy passage with several recommendations for reductions by the Ways and Means Committee being upset by the House. These items, which for the most part have affected educational institutions, are still considerably before the House yesterday afternoon. The item which would provide for the expenditure of $140,000 for a new dormitory at the Norfolk Prison Colony. Almost all of this sum was to be transferred from an amount appropriated in previous years for the erection of a feeble-minded hospital. It is believed, however, that this amount will not be spent by the department of mental diseases.

The Boston salary bill is expected to provide lengthy debate when it is reached after the budget has been disposed of within the next few days. In order to hasten action on these matters the House meets in two sessions today, morning and afternoon.

Almost all of this sum was to be transferred from an amount appropriated in previous years for the erection of a feeble-minded hospital. It is believed, however, that this amount will not be spent by the department of mental diseases.

The Boston salary bill is expected to provide lengthy debate when it is reached after the budget has been disposed of within the next few days. In order to hasten action on these matters the House meets in two sessions today, morning and afternoon.

Court Hearing on Police Wage Cut Starts Next Wed.

In the Newton court next Wednesday before Judge Braley of Canton the hearing will start on the protest of 123 members of the Newton police force against the 7-12% wage cut ordered by Mayor Weeks, and which went into effect on January 1. City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett will represent Mayor Weeks. Attorney George A. McLaughlin of Cambridge will appear for the police.

3326 DOGS LICENSED IN NEWTON

Up to April 1st 3326 dogs had been licensed in Newton. All dogs in this city were supposed to have been licensed on or before that date. Many dogs in the Newtons have not been licensed. They will not be until the police enforce the law which states that any dog roaming at large shall wear a collar bearing the name and address of its owner. This law has been ignored for years. The small metal tags supposed to be issued at the City Clerk's office when a dog is licensed, were not given out this year as the new supply had not arrived. When they do, they will be sent by mail to the owners of the dogs licensed.

Dazzling Spring colors have already arrived in some quarters. Observe the new uniforms of certain filling station attendants.

Oddments

Here's one I am unable to prove, but it listened so well I have no hesitation in putting it down. A store proprietor possessed a close friend who used to hang around the place a greater part of the day and evening and yet was never known to purchase any of the tobacco, periodicals and such. The proprietor was becoming weary. Finally, one night at closing time he turned to his old friend and said, "John, if you find your pocket-book missing when you get home remember you didn't take it out in my store."

From a former resident of Newton this column has received one of those brief but effective reminders of old times. "I was driving through Newton the other day," said our correspondent, "and happened to see that the old opera house was no more. Well, well, and what a grand place we thought it when it was first built! Remember? And by the way, you and I acted on that stage, which really wasn't a stage but just a few boards made to stand on. I say 'stand on' because that was all I could do. When I tried to dance on that stage I became so ambitious that I sailed off into the musicians' pit. I'm sure that was the funniest thing in the show, although I wasn't the comedian."

A display of pictures of old Boston brought out a good-sized gathering, myself among the number. At least, I accompanied a somewhat cynical friend who really wasn't interested but who had been urged by his wife to look at the exhibition. One of the largest pictures was dated 1870 and gave a view of Washington st., between Winter and Newspaper Row, with the Old South Meeting House in the background. Turning to my companion, I said, "Well, what do you say?" He shook his head. "Take out the horse cars," he replied, "and it wouldn't look much different now."

Newton's Inexpensive Delight

Proof that the companionship of books means a great deal, especially under unusual circumstances, is found in the annual report of Mr. Julius Lucht, Librarian of the Newton Free Library. He says, "There is no 'depression' these days in the activities of a public library. Our circulation has again taken a good leap forward, totaling (for the year 1932) $43,986 books and magazines issued for home use, which is a gain of 62,901 over 1931 or about eight per cent." According to Mr. Lucht "the number of borrowers or card holders Dec. 31, 1932, was 26,759, an increase of 1671 over 1931."

That strikes me as something of which Newton people may speak when describing the good points of our city to strangers. The president of the library, Virginia M. Hutchinson, tells us in the same annual report that although the activity of the library has increased very greatly for the past three years the work has been done with very slightly increased funds. Then she adds, "For the fact this has been possible, we are indebted to the efficient planning and loyal service of the Librarian and his staff." Another fact which Newtonians should not fail to underscore.

And yet a third, and not so trifling a circumstance, if you ask me, is the fact that annual report was not printed because of the lack of funds. It was typewritten and extra copies made by whatever they call the machine that turns them out. Are we not thrifty in our free library administration?

I was eager to learn of the reading appetite of Newton people. Whether they were strong for detective stories or just what. The classification is a bit too general to learn details, but of the total number of books circulated last year 71.70 per cent were fiction. The figures I have graded by the percentage given and they should give you a line on what Newton people are sitting up nights to read and study. Apart from fiction and comprising the remaining 29.30 were the following: language and literature 8.91 per cent, general works 3.71, bibliography 2.71, description and travel 2.41, history 2.03, social sciences 2.08, useful arts 1.41, philosophy and religion 1.32, natural sciences 1.28, fine arts .89, recreation .84, music .50 and foreign (languages, I presume) .27.

That Last Word

A well known Newton Highlands resident is an indulgent reader of this column. If he makes a contribution, which he sometimes does, it is invariably enlightening and worth passing along. Now he comes forward with one interesting and timely. "Do you know what the last word in the dictionary happens to be?" he asked the other day.

Never having boasted of a close association with the work of a great lexicographer I considered it a bit of subtle flattery, smiled and shook my head.

"It is zythum," he continued, "and we're hearing a lot of talk about it every day."

"Spell it," I said.

"Z-y-t-h-u-m."

"And who is discussing zythum," I demanded.

"You and I and other people. Look it up for yourself."

I obeyed, not at once, but when a convenient opportunity offered. What did I find? Bold! "Zythum (Greek) a kind of ancient beer."

Moreover, the second last word deals with the same subject. It is "zymurgy" and is defined as "that branch of applied chemistry which has to do with fermentation processes as in wine making, brewing, etc."

Personally, I do not believe that the

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 9.

The Golden Text is: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases" (Psalms 103:2, 3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy. . . . And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone? But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts? Whether it is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house" (Luke 5:18, 20-24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Healing the sick and reforming the sinner are one and the same thing in Christian Science. Both cures require the same method and are inseparable in Truth. Hatred, envy, dishonesty, fear, and so forth, make a man sick, and neither material medicine nor mind can help him permanently, even in body, unless it makes him better mentally, and so delivers him from his destroyers" (p. 404).

Old City Hall To Be Torn Down

The old city hall building at West Newton will be torn down in the near future. Work of razing the building will be started in about a week. The building was originally used as a church, but since 1847 was used as the town hall, and later as the city hall. Additions built onto it at various times enlarged the original structure and quite altered its appearance. The Mayor's Relief Committee which has been using the building in recent months will move out on April 15th and will have quarters in the basement at the new City Hall at Newton Centre. It is estimated that about $2000 yearly will be saved by razing the old building, as it cost that amount to heat and light it. The work of tearing down the building will be done by men assigned from the Newton Welfare Department.

people who say they want beer are going to call it zythum when they get it. I think the word a good one, however. Might be used to describe the mental condition of those who imbibe too freely.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL

The District Board of Education met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. E. O. Woodward of Newtonville, and completed plans for the District Convention which comes on April 29th at the Newtonville Methodist Church.

One feature of the convention will be a discussion of home co-operation with church school. This involves the problem of study of the Sunday School lesson in the home. A special committee is at work making a survey of church schools in the District to discover what has been done on the Home Study Campaign and other factors in the question of Home Co-operation. This committee consists of the following members: Mrs. H. W. Pitts, Mrs. W. A. McCormick, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Mrs. E. I. Wilson, and several others who represent the District outside of the Newtons. Mrs. Andrews will entertain the committee at her home on Wednesday afternoon, April 12th.

Boy Scalded at Newton Centre

AD BOY SCALDED AT

Herbert Sullivan, 16, of 24 Garland rd., Newton Centre, was scalded about the face Tuesday morning as he was entering the back door of his home. His left eye and cheek were scalded. The boy was about to enter the back door, when his mother, who did not know he was at the door, threw a pan full of hot water out, and it hit her son. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

NE PLUS ULTRA CLUB

The Ne Plus Ultra, the musical club of the High School girls of Newton Centre, announces that it has a list of honorary members, whose names and support, are a source of pride to the young singers. State Federation

LIST OF OFFICERS. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, of 1 Hayden road, Cliftondale, a member of the North Shore Club of Lynn, has been nominated for re-election as president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, according to the slate of officers drawn up by the Nominating committee, for presentation at the State Annual Meeting at Swampscott. Mrs. Bennett has greatly endeared herself to clubwomen for her cordiality, courtesy, friendliness, and great ability.

The complete slate of officers is as follows: First vice-president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker (now serving), Whitinsville; second, Mrs. John H. Kimball, (now serving), Danvers; third, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, (for merly fourth), Winchester; fourth, Mrs. David A. Westcott, (formerly corresponding secretary), Dorchester, recording secretary, Mrs. W. Scott Austin, (succeeding Mrs. Edward M. Cox), Quincy; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Philip A. Terrill, (succeeding Mrs. Westcott), Reading; clerk, Mrs. Robert Parmenter, (succeeding Mrs. Hazel H. Albertson), Arlington; treasurer, Mrs. Frederick S. Davis (now serving), Boston; Directors for two years: first district, Mrs. Frank A. Besse, Warcham; third, Mrs. George W. Davis, Jr., Potteryville; eighth, Mrs. Harry S. MacNish, Medford; ninth, Mrs. Edward B. Botsford, Marblehead; tenth, Miss Lillian G. Rannels, Newburyport; eleventh, Mrs. William R. Taylor, Westford; fourteenth, Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, Boston (Southampton Woman's Club); and sixteenth district, Mrs. Robert O. Harper, Great Barrington.

The Nominating committee for 1934 is as follows: Mrs. Heman A. Harding, first district, Chatham Woman's Club; Miss Maud Sumner, third district, New Bedford Woman's Club; Mrs. George Perkins, sixth district, Massachusetts Daughters; Mrs. Lauren McMaster, eighth district, Kosmos Club of Wakefield; Mrs. Forrest Collier, tenth district, Nineteen Hundred Club of Billerica; Mrs. Arthur Day Club of Marlborough; Mrs. Leon D. Perry, fourteenth district, Agawam Women's Club, Springfield; and (Mrs.) Rev. Margaret B. Barnard, fifteenth district, Greenfield Woman's Club.

JUNIOR CONFERENCE. The Cambridge Junior Woman's Club of Cambridge will be hostess for the Annual State Junior membership Conference tomorrow, Saturday, in the Club House located near Harvard square on Mount Vernon street.

The Conference, directed by Mrs. I. William Crowell, State chairman, will feature morning and afternoon sessions, commencing at 10:30 o'clock. The entire program will be directed by the Juniors, under the supervision of the State chairman, and will include an outline of the conservation program for Junior Garden Clubs, by Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, State conservation chairman; an address "The Value of the Press," by Mrs. Reuben Gleason, Jr., State chairman of Press and Publicity; an informal lecture "What Juniors Are Doing in Other States," by Miss Betty Button, of Framingham, Junior delegate to the Biennial last May; and a 100-word address "Why I Am a Junior," by Miss Ruth M. Lohr, president of the Quincy Club of Juniors. Those attending the Conference will take box lunches, and coffee will be served by the Hostess Club. The noon recess will be featured by a pilgrimage to the Fogg Memorial at Harvard.

RADIO. Health will be featured in the State broadcast of the 15th, with Mrs. Carl W. Illig, Jr., chairman of the division of Public Health, speaking on "Your Toes at Forty," which certainly promises much as a title; and Mrs. Elmer Macdonald, chairman of the Handicapped division showing "Opportunists" as the optimistic aid in this work. Again this week music will be furnished by Howard Harrington, Concert Tenor, and Edwin Biltcliff, Pianist, who are on the program for the 15th. As already announced, Mrs. Robert Parmenter, State chairman of Conservation, and Mrs. Edgar Tregoning, State chairman of Education, will be the speakers for tomorrow, WBZ, at 11:30 o'clock, is the station and time of the State broadcast weekly.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Literature committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club announces that Miriam Franc Skirball will give one of her interesting lectures on Literature at an evening meeting, Monday, April 10th, at 8 p. m. Club members and all interested are invited to bring their husbands and friends.

Mrs. Everett A. Greene, of 1038 Centre street, will open her home for a Silver Tea and Musicale on Wednesday afternoon, April 12th, at 3:30 p. m. An unusual program is planned by Miss Marion Greene, and Miss Marjorie Greene, consisting of two pianos and an organ.

Dr. Samuel McCauley Lindsey will give his last Current Events lecture for the season on Thursday morning, April 13th, at 10 a. m. A Food Sale will be held in conjunction with this event, and Club members desiring to give home-made food for the sale are asked to call Mrs. George H. Crooble, Cen. New, 1094.

For the ATTENTION OF CHILDREN, and of special appeal, is an other attractive event of a full week of offerings of this Club. A Moving Picture Program for Children and their parents will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Saturday afternoon, April 8th, at 2 p. m. The feature picture is to be "Little Orphan Annie," with Mitzie Green, popular young star. Also on the same bill there will be Paramount News, A Gang Comedy, and Aesop Fables. Admission is only 25 cents.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

For the program of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, the 10th, Recent Drama will be presented by Miss Marion B. Morse, and Current Events by Mrs. Edward G. Swift and Mrs. C. Peter Clark. Mrs. R. E. Clark, of 73 Erie avenue, is hostess for this meeting.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Arnold Arboretum, America's Greatest Garden," an available beauty spot that has been explored by many, and may be explored by many more who, perhaps, will be inspired to do so after seeing the natural-color slides and hearing the lecture of Benjamin F. Thompson, travel-lecturer and photographer, is to be the pleasurable presentation as program for the Auburndale Woman's Club on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 11th. Mrs. Charles S. Grover is Day chairman for this meeting.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Tuesday, the 11th, at the home of Mrs. John S. Franklin, 40 Lincoln park, West Newton. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan. Papers will be read by Mrs. George B. Thomas and Mrs. Wilson C. Dorr; one being on the "Amazon River" and the other on "British, Dutch and French Guiana."

Newtonville Woman's Club

A chance to go around the world, by the lecture and movie route, is the final offering for this season of the Newtonville Woman's Club.

Several thousand feet of interesting film will be shown, accompanied by an equally attractive and instructive lecture, depicting a trip made by the lecturer himself, Mr. Wilfred L. Husband, on Tuesday evening, April 11th, at 8 o'clock, at the Club House, and tickets priced at 50 cents may be procured from Mrs. Thomas Shepherd, N. N. 3670M.

The Hospital committee will hold their last meeting for this season on Thursday, April 13th, from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the Newton Hospital. The same plan for bringing lunch will be followed as formerly at these meetings, as this procedure seems to be an enjoyable feature of these committee gatherings. Mrs. Henry J. Barringer, chairman, hopes to have a large number present.

Social Science Club

Professor William A. Mayer will speak to the Social Science Club on "The Challenge to the Old Order in Spain," on Wednesday morning, April 12th, in the Channing Church Parlor. The president and vice-presidents of the Newton Federation, and the presidents of the affiliated clubs of the Federation are invited to attend.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

The regular business meeting of the Newton Centre Junior Club will be held on Wednesday afternoon, the 12th, at 3 p. m.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, April 13th, the Newton Community Club will have Roger Tory Peterson, who will give an illustrated lecture on Birds of This Section. He is an unusual combination of naturalist and artist, an authority on wild life, and a prolific contributor to magazines.

Shakespeare Club

Miss Edith M. McCann will enter tain the Shakespeare Club at her home, 231 Upham avenue, Saturday, April 15th, at 2:30 p. m. The program for the afternoon, in charge of Mrs. A. L. Pratt, will be Acts IV and V of "Pericles," as well as the "Review" of the entire play, and comparisons with other Shakespearean plays.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Members of the American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club were luncheon guests of Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, president of the Club, at her home, 420 Waltham street, on Thursday, March 30th. Mrs. Brackett was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. George N. Abbott, Mrs. John A. Franklin and Mrs. George H. Jackson.

After luncheon, Mrs. Regina Feeney, of the Middlesex County Extension Service, gave an interesting and highly instructive talk on "Food Values." Miss Elizabeth Ross, director of the Health Center of Brookline, followed with a helpful discussion of "The Relation of the Home to the Community." Later in the afternoon, Mrs. John R. McLean read a paper on "The Cultural Opportunities of the Club Woman," and Mrs. Carl Thomas gave notices of some "opportunities" which might be enjoyed during Art Week.

The Class is indebted to the chairman, Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, for the splendid programs which have been offered this year.

The next meeting will be in the form of a May Breakfast, with Mrs. B. Howard Lester acting as hostess.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday, March 31st, the regular business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held with the president, Mrs. John F. Capron, in the chair. The honor-guest of the afternoon was Mrs. John H. Kimball, second vice-president of the State Federation. Following the transaction of business, Wilfred L. Husband gave an illustrated lecture entitled "Round the World in Motion Pictures."

Tea hostesses were Mrs. James Watson and Mrs. Harry C. Gibson, with Mrs. Gordon W. Herdman and Mrs. Samuel R. MacKillop the pourers.

Newton Circle, Inc.

The March meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Circle was held at the home of Mrs. C. L. Harrison, Washington street, Newton, on Friday, March 31st, with eighteen members present. The regular business of the Circle was considered, which included the changing of the By-laws to permit the appointment of more than two vice-presidents for the Circle.

Mrs. Celia Wellman gave the report of her work as probation officer and social worker. Immediate help was voted for some very urgent needs which Mrs. Wellman presented.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. A. L. Pratt was the hostess for the Shakespeare Club at its last meeting. The work for the afternoon, Acts I, II, and III of "Pericles" was in charge of Miss Edith M. McCann, who brought out many points of interest, among them, that who ever reads "Pericles" with attention readily finds the scenes in which there is naturalness, or in which great forces are developed. Especially do those in which Pericles and Marina act stand forth with striking power.

Shakespeare's hand is unmistakable in the fine treatment of Antiochus' crime, the storm at sea, and the meeting of Pericles and his daughter. The profound character of the speeches, the metaphors, the significant brevity, all are peculiar characteristics of Shakespeare's diction.

However, whether one looks upon it as a contribution to Shakespeare's biography or as a poem, this beautiful and remarkable fragment "Pericles" is a work of the greatest interest.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club assembled on Tuesday afternoon, April 4th, to hear a talk by Miss Elizabeth Wooler, who showed beautifully-colored slides to illustrate her topic, "European Inspiration for American gardens."

Gertrude B. Fish, Music chairman, opened the program with several delightful contralto solos.

Predicting the program, a short business meeting was held, over which Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, president, presided.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Howard Brenton MacDonald, travel entertainer, gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on "The Viking Empire," at the regular meeting of the Club, on Tuesday afternoon, April 4th, in the Congregational Parish House. Mr. MacDonald said, describing this Empire, consisting of Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Lapland, Denmark, and Russia, with its natural beauty, peaceful countries, simple people contented with their lot and not lacking in genius, that it surpasses the southern part of Europe.

Mrs. Cranston, of Wayland, spoke briefly of the financial support necessary at the present time at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, it being very difficult to obtain funds to supply food and medical care for the one hundred children.

Mrs. J. Jarvis Preble, chairman of the Community Service committee, requested members of the Club to bring clothing to the Workshop on April 12th, and to come to the Workshop April 17th and see for the Newton Hospital.

Mrs. Grosvenor D. W. Marcy, chairman of the Education committee, announced a play for children for April 21st, and Miss Madeline W. Cobb, chairman of the Music committee, gave Sunday evening, April 30th, as the date for the Annual Musical Sunday Evening, to be held at the Workshop.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton held a very enjoyable and successful Card Party on Wednesday afternoon, March 29th, at the Neighborhood Club, West Newton. In the absence of Mrs. George S. Fuller, Mrs. George H. Fernald, Jr., was in charge of the arrangements. About forty tables participated in Contract and Auction Bridge.

Delicious refreshments of coffee and sandwiches were served, with the president of the Club, Mrs. Frank S. Tower, and Mrs. Thomas Weston presiding as hostesses. Lecture, coffee and the sale of home-made candy added to the goodly sum realized for the benefit of the Emergency Relief Fund. "White Elephant" prizes were won by the successful players.

HEALTH IN THE MENU

Daurice F. Darling

HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR,
BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS CO.

In the demonstration lectures which my department gives throughout our territory one of the most important subjects is that of pastry making. It is a real art to make good pastry and I believe it is an art which many housewives feel they have not mastered. I find the following rule very satisfactory in making a light, flaky pie crust:

Flaky Pastry

For the upper crust, roll half of Standard Pastry recipe out on a floured board spread with 2 tablespoons of shortening. Roll like a jelly roll. Stand roll on end and press down, roll out again and repeat this process. Roll and fold. Cut slits in folded edges and lay loosely over pie.

Standard Pastry

2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold shortening
5 tablespoons ice water

Sift flour with salt. Blend in the shortening. Add ice water slowly, using just enough to hold dough together. Half of the paste is sufficient for the lower crust. Roll out this half on a floured board, handling as lightly as possible. Fit loosely into pie plate, trim around edge. This entire recipe is sufficient for a two-crust pie or 2 pie shells.

Marlboro Apple Pie

1 Standard Pastry recipe
4 sour apples, peeled, cored and cut in eighths
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon bread flour
1/2 teaspoon lemon grated rind

1/4 cup lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
Cook apples until they are tender but still hold their shape. Mix sugar and flour together, add lemon rind, juice and egg yolks. Add carefully to the apples and into a 9" pie plate lined with half of pastry. Roll remaining pastry as for flaky pastry, cut in strips and criss-cross them over top of pie. Moisten the rim of pastry and press strips down firmly. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes, then decrease the temperature to 350° and bake for 40 minutes.

Lemon Sponge Pie

1/2 Standard Pastry recipe
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup bread flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 1/2 cups milk
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Cream the butter and sugar. Add flour, salt and the grated rind and juice. Add egg yolks with the milk. Fold in the egg whites and pour into a pastry-lined pie plate. Bake at 400° for 10 minutes and then at 325° for 30 minutes.

Pruine Pie

1 pound prunes or
2 1/2 cups of pitted cooked prunes
1/4 cup prune juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon bread flour

HOW THEY BEAT THE BREADLINE

The enjoyment of almost perpetual prosperity had led the American people to look on the breadline as a subject for humorous comment. The nab with a million or two was pleased to refer to his proximity to the breadline. But the past two years have brought the dreadful significance of breadlines to us in such a way that there is no longer any humor in the suggestion. The breadlines with all their hardships have saved the lives of thousands of people. They must eat. If no better way is found, they must stand in line and wait their turn in cold or storm even though it seems to them that starvation is nearer than the business end of the line. Yet there is a class to whom the physical hardship is the least of their suffering. The man who has held a good position, has lived comfortably and "kept up with the Jones" finds himself out of work. He thinks that with his ability he can readily get another position. Day after day, month after month of disheartening search reduces his savings to the vanishing point. Still he must continue his search and he must eat. In many cases he has no alternative but stand in line and take his handout with the others, all sorts and classes of men though they be, or starve.

There are those who have chosen the latter course, but after all, it is hard to starve to death.

Boston Has Had No Breadline.

The foresight and experience of Colonel and Mrs. Walter Duncan, Regimental Commanders of the Volunteers of America in New England, aided by the generosity of Greater Boston people, have provided a means to take care of the jobless man without the sacrifice of his self-respect.

The experience of a year ago convinced Colonel and Mrs. Duncan that conditions this winter would reach such a pass that the great unsatisfied call would be for food. How can these people be helped without the sacrifice of their self-respect, was the question that the Duncans set themselves to solve. Their experience has taught them that nearly all of the unemployed have a little money. If that could be paid to go a long way, they might pay part of the cost of their food and be able to eat it in a self-respecting and sanitary manner.

The presentation of their plan to some eminent philanthropists resulted in a building at 25 Brattle street, Boston, being placed at their disposal. This building was named the "Hospice" and in it was opened the Penny-Cafeteria. Here is Boston's secret for escaping the breadline. At this Penny-Cafeteria an unemployed person can buy a satisfying meal for seven cents. But if one has not the seven cents, well, the Volunteers of America boast that no one has passed out of the doors of the Hospice—hungry.

Vancouver Island Named for Prominent Navigator

Vancouver is named for George Vancouver, who discovered it. This famous navigator was born in 1758, and entered the Royal navy in 1777 as an able seaman on the Resolution under the celebrated Capt. James Cook. He became a midshipman on the Discovery, on Captain Cook's third voyage; and in 1780 he passed his examination as a Lieutenant. He attained the rank of commander in 1790, and in 1791 was sent in the Discovery to take over from the Spaniards the Nootka Sound territory. He explored the Pacific coast of the North American continent, and on his return to the Old country in 1795 he devoted himself to preparing his journals for publication. He died when this task was practically completed, on May 10, at Petersham, England. His "Voyage of Discovery to the North Pacific Ocean and Round the World," in the years 1790-1795, edited by his brother, John Vancouver, appeared in London, in three volumes, in the same year.—Montreal Herald.

State of Liechtenstein

Made Principality in 1719

The minute European state of Liechtenstein was constituted a sovereign principality in 1719 by Emperor Carl IV of Austria. It contains two districts, Schellenberg and Vaduz, and its geographical area of about 65 square miles would amount to 100 or more if it could only be flattened out. The country lies east across the Rhine from Switzerland and stretches along the upper courses of that famous river for above twelve miles, beginning some fifteen miles above Lake Constance. Vaduz, the capital, and Schaan, the only railroad station, together with the villages of Balzers, Bendern, and Ruggell, etc., house the major part of the ten thousand inhabitants.

From 1815 to 1866 it was a part of the German Confederation, but at the close of the Austro-Prussian war it again became independent. Up to the end of the World war its postal affairs were entrusted to Austria, and at first ordinary Austrian stamps were used.

Swift-Sailing Clipper Ships Hung Up Records

One of the famous California clipper ship races was that of the Wild Pigeon, John Gilpin, Flying Fish and Trade Wind. They sailed against time, leaving New York on different dates. Flying Fish won, making the passage from New York to San Francisco in 92 days and 4 hours from port to anchor. The Gilpin made it in 93 days from port to port, and Wild Pigeon in 118 days. The Trade Wind, which left some time after the others, followed, with 102 days, having taken fire and burned for eight hours on the way. Another famous race was that between William H. Webb's Swordfish and Donald McKay's Flying Fish. The latter sailed from Boston November 5, 1851, and on the same day the Swordfish passed Sandy Hook. The Swordfish arrived in San Francisco on February 10, 1852, after a passage of 90 days from Boston.

Numbering Pages

The first person to whom it occurred to number the leaves of a book was the Cologne printer, Hoernen, who, in printing a sermon delivered in 1470, put numbers, not at the top corners, but in the middle of the right hand margins.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The way of the world has been, and is, that those who have the least usually make the greatest sacrifices. An example of this inequality on the part of man is evidenced in this city. All city employees received a 7 1/2% wage cut on January 1st. But, since then, the city laborers, who receive the least pay of any men employed by the city, have been further reduced in wages by being employed a half-day less each week than in the past, bringing their wage reduction to nearly 16%.

With the Federal Government operating under a program of strict economy, will it spend many additional millions of the people's money building more huge airships for the Shenandoah and Akron types to be destroyed? It has been proved in this country and Europe that those monster airships are impractical, the playthings of the elements, and other than providing spectacular sights, of no value either for commercial or war purposes. The tremendous sums expended on their construction and maintenance can well be used to relieve the needs of the millions now in want.

With the coming of Spring and the added traffic on highways, the need of regular patrolling along Washington st. by motorcycle officers becomes increasingly apparent. Whereas the city had eight policemen doing motorcycle patrol duty in former years, now it has only two, and six motorcycles are idle in the garage at West Newton. Officers Dowling and Hamill were on the street between 7 and 9 for a couple of evenings last week and in those periods apprehended dozens of autoists driving at speeds of 45 miles and over. There is positive need of this street (and other main highways in the city) being patrolled day and night, as in the past. There is particular need on Washington st. during the heavy traffic periods; from 4:30 to 6:30 evenings, for example. Newton is the only city, to our knowledge, which has practically abandoned motorcycle patrol to control speeding on its streets. And if our citizens realized what a widespread area in the city is supposed to be protected nights by only one of the cruising police cars, they would demand a return (in part, at least), of the former method of police protection by patrolmen on foot.

Among sidewalk defects in this city may be mentioned those at Centre st. alongside the Trust Company building; Union st., Newton Centre, adjoining Bray Block; Commonwealth ave. near Irving st. All these are on sidewalks composed of cement slabs, where some slabs are lower than others.

There is much condemnation of hoarders. People can't be blamed too severely for hoarding when we see the sorry spectacle of crooked bank officials going unpunished. And this condition obtains in Massachusetts. Dishonest men who perverted the savings of thousands of depositors; who reduced thousands of persons to poverty and want. And these crooks have not spent one day in jail; and apparently won't. But, they have sufficient money remaining to hire high-priced, astute lawyers to aid them in escaping the punishment they deserve.

The State should pass laws and city ordinances to restrict or prohibit the dumping of old automobiles hither and thither. Such old cars and trucks becoming eyesores which depreciate the values of real estate, cause mental discomfort to people who must see them daily, and even become health menaces by serving as incubators for insects and vermin.

The parking spaces and cross walks in this city should be kept well defined by painted lines at all times. Paint is not so dear that such a thing would be too costly.

Instead of gasoline filling stations it will be beer filling stations which will from now on occupy considerable part of the time of city aldermen and town selectmen. The politicians and the men behind the scene will try to capitalize on the distribution of malt products instead of the sale of petroleum products.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The regular meeting of the Chapter will be held at the Chapter House on Monday at 2 p. m. There will be a planting of a tree from the original Washington Elm followed by the regular program. The speaker of the afternoon will be Prof. A. M. Davis, Asst. Extension Horticulturist at the Massachusetts State College, whose topic will be "A Garden for Every Home."

During the social hour tea will be served by the hostesses: Mrs. O. L. Schofield, chairman, Mrs. M. L. Copley, Mrs. J. L. Cordingley, Mrs. E. P. Crawe, Mrs. A. P. Dana, Mrs. H. M. Davis, Mrs. F. A. Culture

Grove Patterson, of the Toledo Blade quotes from Matthew Arnold as to his idea of a man of culture. Arnold said: "The great men of culture are those who have had a passion for diffusing, for making prevail, for carrying from one end of society to the other, the best knowledge, the best ideas of their time, who have labored to divest knowledge of all that was harsh, uncouth, difficult, abstract, professional, exclusive; to humanize it; to make it efficient outside the clique of the cultivated and learned; yet still retaining the best knowledge and thought of the time, and a true source, therefore, of sweetness and light."

Trillions of Stars Now Seen Via Telescope

A universe of imagination staggering size, with 300 trillion stars already within the range of the astronomer's largest telescopes and unknown numbers still unseen, was described by Prof. Harlow Shapley of Harvard university at the convention of the National Academy of Sciences meeting at the University of Michigan.

In only a portion of the sky, 76,000 galaxies of stars, of which our Milky Way is a typical example, have been charted, said Professor Shapley. He expects that eventually 300,000 galaxies will be mapped in the heavens, with an estimate of about a billion stars of which our own sun is an average sample in each galaxy.

Stars which appear reddish in color have been thought to be very far away, but now Dr. Joel Stebbins of the Mt. Wilson observatory, California, reported to the academy that some red stars located in the Milky Way are four times closer to us than has been estimated.

A layer of "cosmic dust" which splits the Milky Way makes the stars on the far side appear red, just as our sun appears red at sunset, when its rays come to the observer through a longer distance of the dust-filled atmosphere of our planet.—Scientific American.

Hands Off Spanish Estates

Spanish estates of the duke of Wellington, grandson of the "Iron Duke," are not to be confiscated, as was inferred from an official list of 361 grantees whose lands were slated to come under "agrarian reform." In which the Duke's name was mentioned, Spain gave the original duke 4,000 acres in gratitude for his victory at Salamanca in 1812. The present duke offered to sell his estates back to the republic, but they replied that as his tenants were fully satisfied with his administration, they would not take over his property.—Montreal Herald.

As She Is Spoke

The English Alpine visitor was met in the lounge of the hotel by a Frenchman.

"Ah," exclaimed the latter, "I've heard about you. You climbed the Matterhorn. That is a foot to be proud of."

"The Englishman laughed. 'Pardon me, sir,' he said, 'you mean "feet," do you not?'"

"Ah," said the Frenchman, greatly excited, "see you climbed it more than once, eh?" — in answers.

Very Enthusiastic Meeting Held By Community Chest

Pledge Best Efforts For Relief Of Newton Families

Following a most enthusiastic and successful meeting of more than 70 volunteer workers at the Brae Burn Country Club last Friday night, the Community Chest's effort to secure $55,000 urgently needed for the relief of Newton families in distress is now in full swing.

No full report of the amount so far obtained has been issued as yet, but advice received from Village Chairman indicate that the organization of workers in each village is working smoothly and that the appeal is meeting a generous and wholly encouraging response in all parts of the city. In accordance with the plan which has been adopted of placing full responsibility in the hands of the leader of each local group of volunteers, there will be no general report meetings. Instead, workers will make all reports to their own respective chairmen. Several of these local report meetings have already been held, and they will be continued until the amount sought has been raised.

At the meeting last Friday night special attention was directed to the new and unusual circumstances which have placed hundreds of Newton's most industrious and valuable citizens, and their families, in desperate need. Robert A. Whidden, West Newton Village Chairman and also a member of the Mayor's Relief Committee, showed how the wise administration of relief funds in the form of loans, work and advances for the necessities of life was making it possible for families which are assets to the community to maintain their courage and integrity. In many instances, it was pointed out clearly, a comparatively small amount will set on its feet a family which might otherwise be unable to survive a temporary crisis and which would then, with all assets and all hope gone, cost the community a great deal more than what it costs to furnish the needed relief at the right time.

Will Improve House Numbering

The Engineering Department, under the direction of William P. Morse, City Engineer, will start in the near future a much needed program of correcting the present evils of existing house numbers.

The department will appreciate the co-operation of all citizens, particularly the owners of all buildings throughout the City, in having their street numbers conform to the following requirements: Numbers should be not less than two inches in height, neat and durable, and legible from the sidewalk. If the house sets back from the street any great distance or is located so that the number is not readily visible from the sidewalk, a duplicate number should be placed where it could be easily seen at the entrance to the estate. The entire object of a uniform house numbering plan is that of eliminating as much difficulty and inconvenience as possible in finding any city address.

Judge Braley Denies Motion to Dismiss Action

The legal fight of the Newton police against the 7½% wage cut imposed by Mayor Weeks progressed another step on Wednesday in the Newton court when Judge Braley presided at the first court hearing on this matter. City Solicitor Bartlett, representing Mayor Weeks argued that the Newton district court has no authority to deal with this question as the salary reduction was a legislative and not an executive act, and therefore not subject to appeal to courts. He stated that in Brockton a judge had allowed such a contention, but that when this argument had been presented in the hearing at the Quincy court a couple of weeks ago, the judge presiding there had ruled against it. He asked Judge Braley to dismiss the petition of the Newton police. Attorney McLaughlin for the police, cited a number of court decisions to show that the police are within their rights in appealing to the district court. Judge Braley sided with Mr. McLaughlin's view and ruled that the matter is within the court's jurisdiction. The hearing was continued until April 24.

Mr. Bartlett argued that Mayor Weeks in lowering the policemen's salaries did not reduce them; he merely established a new salary level for 1933. The City Solicitor contended that the 7½% cut was not directed only at the policemen, but was part of the general reduction of the salaries and wages of all employees of this city. He commented that no man's salary is permanently fixed.

Attorney McLaughlin, for the police, answered Bartlett by saying that the notices received by the Newton police from the Mayor in December stating that they were to receive reductions of 7½% in their salaries, McLaughlin argued that the tax rate of this city could continue to be maintained at $25 without the necessity of reducing the employees' wages.

Camp Frank A. Day Enrolls For Sixteenth Season

Plans are beginning to take shape and show signs of definite improvement for the 16th season at Camp Frank A. Day. Enrollment for the season has been active and a large number of campers are expected to start the season. Camp Frank A. Day aims to give boys who attend during the summer more than a vacation. It is an experience and an education to be remembered by each boy. The aims of the camp are to give the boys the finer senses of life and to surround them with an atmosphere of Loyalty, Good-sportsmanship, self-reliance and wholesome development.

In directing the lives of the boys great care and thought is given by both the Director and Camp Committee. The camp will again be directed by Clyde G. Hess, Director of the Boys' Work of the Newton Y. M. C. A., who for eleven years has been at the head of the camp. He will be assisted this year by Mr. C. (Continued on page 10)

Relief Committee Sponsors of New Drive For Work

Will Canvass Newton For Improvements in City Homes

Forty "Home Improvement" salesmen, sponsored by the Mayor's Relief Committee of Newton, will begin on Monday next a city-wide campaign to create employment for carpenters, plumbers, painters, bricklayers, and other artisans by soliciting householders to have needed repair and improvement work done at new low costs. The house-to-house canvass, which aims to create hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of business for Newton contractors and through them jobs for the unemployed, will be carried on for six weeks.

Mayor Weeks will start the two score salesmen on their task from City Hall at 10 o'clock in the morning, April 17th. The men who will canvass have already been employed and will be paid by the Mayor's Relief Committee. They will work five days each week. Each man will be properly identified by a card bearing his photograph. Every home owner in the city will be visited sometime during the campaign and the salesmen are prepared to offer suggestions for building improvements and repairs. Moreover, they will furnish names of contractors who will be asked to make competitive bids on jobs "signed up" so that the property owners may be assured of low cost.

Plans of the Council have been under way for many weeks, directed by George W. Pratt, President, and Harold F. Young, Secretary, and leave no chance for a stray job, large or small, to go by in the city. The men have been undergoing a course of instruction given by Mr. Raymond Hunting who aided last year in the successful Buffalo, New York, campaign in which approximately $1,500,000 worth of home improvement work was uncovered. Mr. Hunting is assisted by Arthur C. Hosmer, who will be in direct contact with the field men.

Not only will the men be engaged in seeking the work, but they will contact the contractors and then keep in touch with the job until it is finished. They will be acting as the agent of the unemployed, and later as the agent of the home-owner. The enterprise is looked upon by Mayor Weeks as one of the most important since the organization of the Mayor's Relief Committee. Savings all the way from 20 to 60 per cent is expected to be realized by property owners who take advantage of the Home Improvement Council's plan.

"Repair that roof, fix the chimney draft, repair and repaint the screens," the salesman will urge. "Don't you want your face repaired, a driveway, or walk rebuilt, put a cement floor in the garage or build a playhouse for the kiddies." Or they will tell the home-owner how new shingles can make a new roof, or they will offer to provide the men to erect arbors, pergolas, trellises, bird houses, dog houses and window boxes.

Besides the structural improvements, they will suggest interior decoration, new linoleum or rubber floor; folding ironing board, rack for plates, man's dressing case in the owner's closet; cedar line another closet.

Mayor Will Put Beer Question up To City Voters

Aldermen Have Still To Set Date of Special Election

Mayor Weeks has declined to assume the responsibility for authorizing the sale of 3.2% beer in Newton, or refusing the same. The Act passed by the Legislature on April 7th vested in the Mayors of cities and the Selectmen of towns the power to decide whether, or not, the new malt beverage can be sold in the various communities of this State prior to January 1, 1935, pending the taking of the vote by the citizens of each municipality at the next biennial State election. In the event a Mayor or a Board of Selectmen failed to take action, the Act provides that a special election may be held to decide the license question.

Last Saturday morning Mayor Weeks held a conference at City Hall with City Solicitor Bartlett and President Collins of the Board of Aldermen. After this conference the Mayor issued the following statement:

"Under the Act passed by the Legislature, the Board of Aldermen has the right to determine whether or not a special election shall be called to permit the voters to decide on the question of licenses in Newton. Having discussed the matter with the President of the Board, and before me his expression of opinion that the Board should have opportunity to decide the question, the whole matter will be laid on the table, as far as the City of Newton is concerned, until the Board meets on Monday evening, April 17th."

The Board of Aldermen has the right to order or to refuse to order the special election. If it took the latter decision, the matter would be passed back to the Mayor. The probability is—that the Aldermen will defer to the wish of the Mayor and the special election will be held within the next couple of weeks. This election will cost around $1000.

A large percentage of places in the State have already had action taken by their Mayors or Selectmen on the matter of licenses. Most have decided in favor, including such towns as Brookline and Winchester, heretofore always dry. Waltham, Watertown, Cambridge and Boston already have issued licenses and the weak beer is being sold in these cities and towns. Plentiful it has been delivered in the Newtons on and since last Saturday by delivery trucks of stores located outside of Newton.

Orders even have been taken within this city. Local storekeepers, hard pressed by prevailing economic conditions, are alarmed over the loss of regular customers who are transferring their trade to out of town stores where they can order beer in conjunction with groceries and other foods. The Newton storekeepers are insistent that they should be given the right to meet this competition. A number of them will appear at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night to urge the granting of licenses.

NEWTON GIRL SCOUTS PLAN CAMP SPRING CLEANING

Two Red Letter Days for the Newton Girl Scouts next week.

Monday—Spring Cleaning at Camp Mary Day.

Pack up your drinking cup and lots of grub
And Hike! Hike! Hike!

There's lots of work at Mary Day
That you all will like.

Bring along your rakes and spades
We'll work until mid-day.

And Play! Play! Play!

Tuesday—10th Annual Movie of the Officers' Association. Time—10 a. m. Place—Paramount Theatre, Newton.

Show—"Movie Crazy," starring Harold Lloyd and, of course, "Micky Mouse" will be there.

As an added attraction the two Newton Girl Scouts Bugle and Drum Corps will play.

The Major Corps will be led by Elizabeth Barba, Drum Major, and the Midget Corps by Nancy Kaufman.

Candy will be sold before the performance under the direction of Miss Margaret Ball, Captain of Troop 2, and Miss Sally Stickney, Field Captain for Newton, will have charge of the ushers.

All Newton Girl Scouts and their friends are looking forward with keen enjoyment to this annual affair which the Officers' Association has sponsored for the benefit of the Newton Girl Scouts' fund in the children's hospital and other projects for the past two seasons.

Troops are competing with each other in selling tickets—and they are going fast.

Last year Troop 1, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Captain, sold the largest number, Troop 22, Mrs. Sally MacMahon, Captain, contributed the greatest amount of candy.

Tickets may be procured from Miss Olive Webster, Hillside ave., West Newton.

STONE INSTITUTE

Ladies of Group 2 of the Women's Auxiliary of Eliot Church, Newton, gave a very delightful entertainment, at Stone Institute, Newton Upper Falls, on April 11th. The program was given by the Betty George trio; Miss George, cellist and reader; Miss Eleanor Davis, pianist; and Miss Ruth Shapiro, violinist. Miss George gave several readings and her character impersonations were extremely clever. At the close of the program refreshments were served.

ZONTA CLUB

The regular business meeting of Newton Zonta Club was held on Monday evening, April 3, at the Iris Garden House in Newton Lower Falls.

The club was privileged to have as guest speaker Mr. John Lind, Superintendent of Newton Schools who talked about "The Problem of Character Education."

He said that communities have always accepted character as one of the objectives of education and stressed the significance of character now in modern life. He pointed out the tremendous scope of the problem as it concerns industry, church, parents, home and schools, in fact, the total community. In schools particularly there is opportunity to change, organize and modify activities so to get better and better character. He emphasized that character cannot be a by-product. It is socially constructive behavior.

At the business meeting $50 from the Service Fund was given to Newton Community Chest; $50 sent to the Foundation Fund for this year; $100 voted to send a delegate to the June Convention in Chicago.

Newton Zonta Club has the honor of having its president, Marion Fuller, elected chairman for Region A at the Spring Conference recently held at Syracuse, N. Y.

AWARDED FIRST PRIZE FOR PAINTING

Mrs. Elizabeth Paxton, wife of William McGregor Paxton, of Montvale rd., Newton Center, was awarded the gold medal and $250 cash prize for the painting receiving the most popular votes from visitors and artists at the fourth annual exhibition of water and oil paintings of contemporary artists of New England. The prize was presented to Mrs. Paxton at her home yesterday by James H. Fairclough, Jr., sales manager of the Jordan Marsh Co. Mr. Paxton is also an artist.

Dr. Griggs Says Any Good Faith Justifies Itself

In the fifth and last in a series of lectures in the Read Fund course at the Underwood School Auditorium on the general subject "Problems of Personal Life," Dr. Edward Howard Griggs, speaking on "The Modern Religious Problem," Friday evening proved himself an Idealist. He said that all the aspects of life rest on a belief often deeper than realized by the individual. Belief and conduct act and react together forming character often continuing to do so after a belief has apparently been abandoned. In old age problems which were shelved in youth are taken down off the shelf and become a comfort.

Dr. Griggs believes that any good faith justifies itself and that most destructive teaching is bad because it removes the foundation of the individual's character. Abandonment of all thought of spiritual life is negation. The agnostic finds the problem too large. He does not see beyond a materialistic naturalism, recognizing no Divinity behind the mysteries of nature or of the stars.

Scientific discoveries have done much to shake the foundations of former religious beliefs. All truths discovered should be held faithfully. All beliefs should be held subject to change, and an appreciation should be shown for all beliefs. A life of intellectual piety should be lived with an altar in the human heart.

DRAMA AT CENTRAL CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

Easter Sunday evening at 7:30 there will be presented in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, the second of its seasonal Religious Dramas, called "For He Had Great Possessions." In reviving the use of drama in churches, the experienced group of players in Central Church are presenting the Easter subject, in the Biblical story of the rich young ruler. Those taking part in the play are: Arnold Nichols, Harriet Bergonzoni, Donald Whitehill, Marjorie Leonard, Howard Vosburgh, Ruth Loud, Betty Hall, Allan Acomb, James E. Peabody and Paul Ellicker. The musical interludes will consist of numbers by the Andress String Trio. The production will be directed by Ernest W. Kuebler, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

At the last meeting of the Friday Evening Club in Boston, President Guy M. Winslow gave an illustrated talk on the development of the Lassel Forests in Vermont where over a million trees have been planted since 1925. On Tuesday evening, April 11, Miss Edith Jamieson demonstrated the proper methods for washing silks and woollens. The closing meeting of the Senior Conversation Class was held on Thursday evening, April 13.

Miss Clementina Butler (Lassel 1880), well-known author on Missions, will speak to the students at the Vesper Service on Sunday evening. Her subject will be "India Revisited." The Physical Training Department is busy with the spring program of sports which includes Baseball, Tennis, Golf, Archery, and Track, in preparation for the annual Field Day on May 16, and Crew practice which will culminate in the interclass races on the Charles River, May 25.

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

The Powder and Paint Dramatic Club presented "Just a Slight Mistake" at the Wednesday morning assembly. Norma Skelton, Rebecca Marshall, Barbara Homer, Helen McKee, Nancy Pierce, and Barbara Buttrick took part in the production.

Forty-six pupils are now availing themselves of the opportunity for a mid-morning lunch.

The Band is now rehearsing marching and letter formation in anticipation of the All Newton Band Exhibition which will be held on May 16th.

Observe Unique Home Festival

Professor and Mrs. H. Augustine Smith of Newton Highlands, in accordance with a custom inaugurated by them eight years ago, observed Home Dedication Day at their home in Newton Highlands on Wednesday evening, by entertaining the Choral Art Society of Boston University.

Every room in their home was thrown open. It required three hours for the 30 students to make the rounds of the home where every avocation, every social, intellectual and aesthetic activity and enjoyment was exhibited or progress. The electric train was set up in the boys' room and in one of the rooms for adults was the moving picture projector and a full battery of drums and traps.

In the girls' room was everything which interests a girl from dolls to an electric stove for making fudge. In the study were two typewriters, costumes for home dramas, books and a stereopticon for showing still pictures.

The living room was alive with jig saw puzzles, radio, bridge, Orphan Annie and a piano. There was also some unusual music by Mrs. Agnes Zottelle from Santiago, Miss Nadia Mihailovska from Sofia and H. Orawa and K. Takaki from Kobe and Nagoya, respectively.

In other words, in their observance of this home dedication festival, Professor and Mrs. Smith brought out so far as possible the interests and diversions which go into the make-up of an ideal home.

Since its inauguration eight years ago by Professor and Mrs. Smith in their Newton Highlands home, as high as three million have been known to observe the home festival in many countries of the world.

Daly Post V. F. W.

Under the auspices of the Post, a motion picture show will be conducted at the Newton Catholic Club Hall on April 26-27, proceeds to go towards the welfare fund.

The feature picture will be that of the Eucharistic Congress held in Ireland in 1932, and two Irish comedy pictures.

An added attraction on these evenings will be the well known Irish team Sharon and Sheila O'Nolan in Irish songs and dance. Selections on the bag pipes will be rendered during the performances by the O'Nolan duet.

Tickets for these performances may be obtained from any member of the Daly Post or at the door each evening.

The Post accepted an invitation from Arlington Post, V. F. W., to attend the Annual Memorial Mass to be held in that town on May 21.

On April 28 the Post will journey to Milford to take part in the parade in conjunction with the reunion of the 10th Inf. Yankee Div. Commander David L. Keefe requests all members whether in uniform or not to turn out on that day, as a real good time is assured.

Junior Vice Commander Charles H. Marden was recently confined to a hospital due to illness. "Charlie" has been a member of the Newton Police Department for several years.

NEWTON

The April meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. Leslie Sanderson in Newton Highlands. Mrs. Katherine Goddard, a president of the Newton Union, presided.

The address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Alice G. Ropes, the State President. She stated that National Prohibition is the best method yet devised for controlling the liquor traffic. Regulation of the liquor traffic, tried many times, has always been a failure.

Repealing the 18th Amendment will not change the nature of alcohol which science has defined as a habit forming, narcotic drug.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will continue to work to keep the 18th Amendment in the Constitution and by so doing help to safeguard our homes and our boys and girls from the evils of legalized liquor.

"Remember," she told her audience, "the W. C. T. U. is enrolled under a banner that never knows defeat."

WEST NEWTON

A number of the members of the West Newton W. C. T. U. went to the Boston Flower Mission to assist in preparing the Easter baskets and flowers for the poor and the sick.

The next regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. May L. Sweet, 10 Jefferson st., Newton, on Monday evening, April 17, at 7:45 p. m. Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton will be the speaker. "Zerelda Wallace" will be the subject. Mrs. Sweet and Mrs. Bertha Dinsmore will be the hostesses.

City Employees Favor License

At a meeting of the City Employees' union at Bay State Hall on last Friday night, it was voted to request Mayor Weeks to permit the sale of beer in Newton. The resolutions passed stated that such sale would be according Newton business men protection from unfair outside competition, and would make it unnecessary for residents of this city to travel to other places to obtain beer.

Autoist Injured At West Newton

Louis Martinson of 28 Ware rd., Auburndale, was injured last Friday night when the car he was driving hit a girder on the bridge over the B. & A. tracks at Washington st., West Newton. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Martinson had swerved to avoid a collision with a car driven by John Phelan of Somerville.

WILL DEMONSTRATE LEATHER- CRAFT AT CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Mrs. Miriam B. Pierce of Hillside Studio, Newton, and Mrs. Eleanor Bangs will demonstrate leathercraft at the Children's Museum of Boston from 2 to 3:30 on Saturday. Mrs. Bangs, who for many years lived in Denmark, is now a teacher of crafts in Newton. These ladies will show the various stages from the beginning with the original biscuit-colored leather to the finished articles with exquisite designs in color. Following the demonstration a film, The Story of Leather, will be shown.

Hand-tooled articles form an interesting part of the Museum's extensive Arts and Crafts of New England exhibition continuing through May 15. The leather articles are varied in form and the designs are representative of the art of various countries.

Attracting much interest in this Arts and Crafts exhibition are the early New England crafts in contrast with the fine workmanship of the present-day crafts. On display, also, in connection with this craft collection is some of the craft work done by the children in the Museum Indian Lore Club, including bead weaving, Bam-tusi baskets, Katchina dolls, clay bowls, knife sheaths, book-ends and strike-a-light pouches.

The Children's Museum is located off Jamaica way and may be reached by a Jamaica car from Park or Dudley sts. It is open weekdays and holidays from 9 to 5 and Sundays from 1:30 to 5.

SARAH HULL CH. D. R.

On Tuesday afternoon the Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., listened to a talk by the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson of Boston on the subject of economy in government. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Frederick A. Gibson of Lowell ave., Newtonville, and the speaker's subject was "Some Pearls of Democracy."

After pointing out the need for governmental economy and the evils which are resulting from overtaxation, Rev. Johnson stressed the theme that the great barrier to the achievement of the curtailment of governmental extravagance lies in the indifference of the people. "It is especially necessary, since our government has become so complex, that the people inform themselves as to the present situation and demand that government be run with such economy that taxes may be reduced and the present heavy burden be lifted from the shoulders of the people."

MR. AND MRS. GULICK ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Gulick of Albemarle rd., West Newton, entertained the friends of the Halsey Gulick Camp, Sebago Lake, Me., at the Women's Republican Club, Boston, on Sunday afternoon. The following guests of West Newton were present: Misses Dorothy and Elizabeth Benson, Mrs. Norman W. Bingham, and daughter Elizabeth, Miss Catherine Bolster, Miss Marion Hutchins, Mrs. C. F. Emmons and Miss Dorothy Emmons.

WE WILL NOT LET OUR NEIGHBORS DOWN

Last fall the organization of the Community Chest in Newton and its drive for funds permitted many families in Newton to carry on through the winter. It was estimated that at least $275,000 was necessary and of this amount some $220,000 was raised. More than 75% of this amount was allotted to relief agencies dealing with families in urgent need of assistance. But the amount raised was not enough—the need for the $55,000 which the Community Chest is now endeavoring to raise is clear.

There are many families in Newton who own or partially own their homes. Under the law any person owning property cannot be aided by the Welfare department. The amount the Community Chest is seeking will be used, almost entirely, to aid this type of citizen—to maintain their lives, their integrity, their courage. They number many of our best and most useful citizens.

They are the sort of people you are proud to have as your neighbors. You talk with them on the street. They sit behind you in church. Your children play with their children. You are glad they live in Newton. In a word they are assets to the community but depression and its far reaching effects have brought them suffering. They do not ask aid, though they need it fully as much as those who have not one bit of property.

They are nearing the end of their battle. The homes they have fought for are endangered. The industry and thrift of years may count for nothing. Help must be extended or the very foundation of our community life and spirit is shaken. We cannot afford to see one fine family after another losing its grip when we know that properly extended help will give them courage to pull through this crisis. We cannot, we will not let our neighbors down.

SPECIAL ELECTION COMING

Mayor Weeks has asked the Board of Aldermen to authorize a special election to determine a popular expression of the voters of Newton in regard to the granting of licenses to sell malt beverages. As we pointed out last week public opinion should rightfully determine the question and we believe it should be done as soon as possible. However, it is almost a certainty that Governor Ely will order a special election within the shortest possible time in order to elect delegates to a Constitutional convention to ratify or reject the proposed amendment repealing prohibition. Incidentally it is also possible that on the ballot to be used at that election there may be a referendum as to whether or not Massachusetts shall legalize gambling at horse races through the pari-mutuel system. It will do no harm to delay the matter of beverage licenses in Newton until that same election and incidentally save the city considerable expense. One election will be necessary and the expense of two elections would be borne by the taxpayers. Meanwhile if there is an appreciable demand for certain types of licenses in Newton the Mayor might authorize a limited number of carefully regulated licenses.

HEMAN M. BURR

Heman M. Burr, Mayor of Newton in 1886 and 1887, died on Thursday, April 13, at his home, 31 Chestnut st., Boston. He was born in this city 77 years ago, the son of Isaac Tucker Burr and Ann (Harden) Burr. He graduated from Harvard in 1877 and then entered the Harvard Law School. Prior to becoming Mayor of Newton he served in the Common Council of this city. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and a member of the Somerset and Harvard Clubs.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice E. Burr, a daughter, Mrs. Otis Russell of Boston; a son, Roger Burr of Berlin, Germany; two brothers, I. Tucker Burr of Milton and Allston Burr of Chestnut Hill; and three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Farlow of Boston, Mrs. Henry Hardon of New York, and Mrs. Bertha Ericson of Sweden.

MRS. ELIZABETH A. WATERS

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Waters of 35 Dalby street, Newton, died on April 11. She was born in Boston 58 years ago and was the widow of James Waters. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Boudrot of Nonantum, with whom she resided, and Mrs. James Rennie of Medford; and two sons, Joseph Waters of Somerville and Raymond of the U. S. Navy. Her funeral was held this morning from her late home and burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

MRS. MILDRED S. MEEKINS

Mrs. Mildred S. Meekins, wife of J. Henry Meekins of 56 Derby street, West Newton, died on April 5. She was born at Richmond, Virginia, 66 years ago, came to Newton when a small child, and graduated from the Newton schools. She was also a graduate of New England Conservatory of Music. She is survived by her husband; three sons, a daughter, and three grandchildren. Her funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at Myrtle Baptist Church; Rev. Virgess Hill officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

THE NEWTON TRADE SCHOOL

(This is the first of a series of articles designed to acquaint the parents of Newton with the opportunities available at the Newton Trade School.)

It has come to be recognized by all progressive school systems that vocational courses are just as necessary in a school program as classical or commercial courses.

In the minds of the public there has existed a great deal of confusion as to the meaning of the term vocational, or as it is sometimes called, trade training. Briefly, vocational education is that branch of education which provides training so that the individual may profitably enter industry upon completion of his school course.

Newton was the second city in the state to recognize the value of vocational education, and established, in 1908, a school known as the Newton Vocational School. The school was recently reorganized and is now known as the Newton Trade School.

While the total cost of the school is raised by local taxation, the city receives from the state one-half of the net maintenance cost. Under the Smith-Hughes Act, it also receives aid from the Federal Government.

The school is under the supervision of the State Department of Education with the School Committee of the City of Newton as its board of trustees, and the Superintendent of Schools as executive officer. It provides an opportunity for worthy and ambitious boys to learn a trade and offers courses in Automobile Repairing, Cabinet Making, Electricity, Machine Shop Practice and Printing.

The requirements for admission are that candidates must have reached the age of fourteen and have completed, preferably, the junior high school course.

A thorough training in the various trades is given, consisting of fifty percent of the total time in shop work, thirty percent in related subjects such as Science, Drawing, Mathematics, Trade Processes, and twenty percent of the time in academic subjects such as English, Civics, History, and Economics.

The length of the course is tentatively fixed at four years, but through a system of individual instruction ambitious boys may graduate under this time.

All shop teachers are approved by the State Department of Education before appointment and must have spent at least eight years at their trade. To the parent whose boy presents an academic problem, the school offers an excellent opportunity for development along practical lines. It is also a boon to the boy who through economic necessity must earn his own living at an early age.

In the articles to follow an effort will be made to show the advantages of each trade, along with statistics as to the number entering and the probability of employment. Next week we will discuss the printing trade.

Under The Gilded Dome

Last week Friday the House of Representatives passed the Boston salary reduction bill after a long and earnest debate during the course of which several amendments were offered. But two of the amendments were successful. One of these protected the retirement right of employees under the pension system. The other provided that scrub women should be exempt from wage reduction. Other amendments which were rejected proposed to limit the reduction to graded percentage for salaries as they increased, to make it impossible to make more than one reduction under the scope of the bill, to postpone the reduction to September 1st, and other various minor amendments which would limit the power of the Mayor under the bill. The amendment which came the nearest to being successful was that limiting the reduction to a maximum of five, ten, and fifteen percent for salaries up to $1,000, from one to three thousand, and over three thousand, respectively. This amendment had been defeated on a roll-call vote on Thursday and was offered again on Friday as the bill came up for its third reading. It was again defeated on roll-call by a margin of 125 to 85. The bill was sent back to the Senate for concurrence in the amendments and it is expected to be sent to the Governor for his signature shortly.

On Tuesday the House again saw acrimonious debate over several measures. Principal activity was centered about an item in the general appropriations bill calling for $140,000 for the proposed new dormitory at the Norfolk prison colony and the distribution of $10,000,000 of gas tax receipts to cities and towns to be applied against appropriations for street and highway work. On Monday the House voted to strike out the budget item for the new dormitory and on Tuesday when the bill came up for its third reading an amendment sought to replace the item in the bill. The effort was successful on a roll-call vote. The appropriation does not call for $140,000 of new money as $118,000 is to be transferred from the appropriation of two years ago for the contemplated building of a feebleminded institution at Andover. This project has been abandoned and the appropriation would lapse within a few months to go back into general funds. In addition the $140,000 item calls for the settlement of damages at the Rutland prison camp which has been condemned and must be abandoned when the Ware river project is completed and accommodations found for the hundred and more prisoners at that institution. These damages are expected to be considerably more than the $22,000 difference represented by the $140,000 needed and the $118,000 available through the transfer. Newton's Representatives, Baker, Brimblecom, and Luitwieler, favored the building of the dormitory at Norfolk.

The bill to distribute $10,000,000 of the gas tax receipts to the cities and towns met with much opposition. The Ways and Means committee first offered a bill which would base the distribution of these receipts upon valuations and the assessors in the cities and towns would deduct this amount from the street appropriations thereby reducing the amount to be raised by tax levy with the intention of relieving the real estate taxpayer. Before the bill came up on the floor of the House the same committee offered a substitute bill which gave towns under a valuation of five millions reimbursement at the rate of 75 per cent of highway in the town (last year the rate was 50 per cent) and distributed the remainder of the ten million among the cities and towns on the valuation basis. The bill favored the small towns somewhat and reduced the amount to be given the cities slightly. Meanwhile other amendments had been offered the principal one of which sought to cut down the amount to be distributed to the identical amounts under last year's bill, some $5,500,000 and permit the balance to be spent in cities and towns under the supervision of the public works department. Rep. Higgins of Boston ardently debated to put the entire amount into the general fund of the Commonwealth along the lines in which Governor Ely suggested in his inaugural address although the Governor recommended but an eight million transfer.

Tuesday afternoon the House rejected all amendments, the substitute bill, and the main bill itself so that at the present time the money remains in the Highway fund unappropriated. Rep. Bigelow of Brookline offered a motion to reconsider the vote and as the Legislature expected to attend the opening ball game this week action was postponed until next Monday. This matter looms as one of the most important of the coming week. If the vote is reconsidered and the bill is accepted the net state tax raised but little over that of last year. If the bill is again defeated and unless the ten million is put into the general fund or the Ways and Means Committee brings in an acceptable bill which will give the money to the cities and towns under some similar plan the state tax will have to be raised to something over $16,000,000.

MRS. BLANCHE McDERMOTT KING

Mrs. Blanche King, wife of James F. King of Revere, died on April 10th at the Chelsea Memorial Hospital. She was born in Newton 26 years ago, the daughter of Henry and Jennie (Paon) McDermott. She is survived by her husband; two children, her parents, five sisters and a brother. Her funeral service was held Wednesday morning at the Church of Our Lady and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Many people speak out of turn because they know it is the only time that attention will be paid to them.

Oddments

Even talking of beer makes some people twist their words. In the State House when the 3.2 beer bill was under discussion at a public hearing one of the ardent "wets" urged the legislators to see to it that "Massachusetts remember the example of the neighboring State of California." There was an uproar of guffawing and applause. I heard one spectator ask his companion, "Where does he get that neighboring State stuff between Massachusetts and California?" The other replied, "Remember, brother, it's a small world after all."

One of the things I overlooked in reviewing the annual report of the Newton Free Library last week was the reference to the shortening from six months to five of the season of Sunday opening. It merely occurred to me that any who felt deprived of an opportunity to read their favorite papers and periodicals might arrange their time differently. No doubt they would appreciate an open-air reading, room in the warmer months, too, but I can't see the city fathers entertaining such a proposition.

The gift of a bottled liquor has been received by this column. In case of any misapprehension let it be said that no time was lost in sampling it. "Perfect," was the verdict promptly rendered. Clear, amber colored and delicious. Moreover, it came from one of the dignitaries of the Commonwealth, accompanied by a letter which asserted, "The finest maple syrup made anywhere is produced right here in Massachusetts." Already grateful acknowledgment has been made to the donor, Hon. J. Arthur Baker of Pittsfield, who has a magnificent farm and woodland track in the Berkshire Hills.

Easter and Eggs

Apparently the custom of distributing colored Easter eggs as gifts is still in fashion. The other day I observed in one of those emporiums where things are sold at a uniformly low cost—say 5 and 10 cents—a combination of three bottles of fluid. They bore a placard which pointed out that the liquids were designed for the purpose of coloring Easter eggs. So the old-fashioned idea hasn't faded out with so many things of the past which, if revived, would make the younger crowd smile with indulgence.

I could not help wondering how many youngsters today go in for the interesting occupation of getting-up for themselves these unique and to me rather cheerful tokens of Easter-tide. When boys and girls were not possessed of means for buying eggs and dyeing fluid they did more for themselves. It taxed their ingenuity, but they enjoyed it. Dyes were obtained from soaking pieces of cloth in water. The colors "ran," as they say, from the cloth into the water and thus became available for dyeing purposes.

There were those of artistic tendencies who adopted water color paint and did a nice job, too, as I recall. Maybe it seemed more wonderful to me then than it would now appear. I'm sure it was something to be proud of—at least I achieved any such triumph I was intensely gratified with myself. Then there used to be employed the science of decalcomania—that mysterious process of transferring a colored picture from one surface to that of the egg. What a delicate operation that was and how the little people squealed with glee if it came out just as they wished.

Patience was more widely practiced in those days. It became a common virtue, due to necessity. Of course, there were just as many impatient youngsters then as there are now, but the demand for self-reliance was greater and therefore more generally met. It is a reassuring thought—this idea that boys and girls still like to color Easter eggs and more gratifying to know that the dainty custom continues to prevail.

How They Talk

Call me ungrateful and say I would look a gift horse in the mouth, but believe me accurate. Offered a ride home from Nonantum square by a young man and his sweetie, who happened to be going my way, I gladly accepted. I could not, however shut my ears to their chatter. From the back seat this is what I heard in part:

"That dress you wore tonight is a hon, dearie," the young man led off.

"Oh, yeah," was her reply.

"No kidding, you're a knockout—the best looking in the whole bunch."

"Don't be silly."

"You like it when your boy friend says pretty things about you, don't you, babe?"

"I'll say I do."

"Some party tonight."

"Aren't you right."

"A lot of hot numbers."

"I'll say so."

"The one last week at Gertie's was an awful flop."

"You're telling me."

"Bout the worst ever."

"I'll say it was."

"Next week's ought to be a pip."

"You said a throatful."

"You'll be the hit of the show."

"Oh, yeah."

"They can't touch you, kid."

"Don't be silly."

It would have been interesting to listen further but I had reached my destination. I expressed my gratitude and said, "Good night."

Three Men Injured In Sewer Tunnel

The first serious accident in the construction of the sewer tunnel in this city occurred last Friday morning in the bore under Mount Ida. Three of the crew of men working about 1000 feet in from Shaft 3, which is located on Mount Ida street, were caught in a fall of soft rock. The place where these men were working is under Bellevue st. The injured men were Otto Makon and Joseph Chartrand, who have been rooming at 507 Centre st., Newton, and William Pitts of Waltham. Makon was the most severely injured. He received cuts on the head and face and a possible fracture of the left leg. Chartrand had injuries to his back and right shoulder. Pitts had slight injuries. The three were taken to the Newton Hospital.

CHANGES IN BUILDING DEPARTMENT

Thomas F. Peppard of Parmenter rd., West Newton, on Monday morning commenced his duties as steamfitter in the Public Buildings Department of Newton. This is a new position. It was created by Buildings Commissioner Hageman with the approval of Mayor Weeks. Mr. Hageman states that the city will save money by having its own steamfitter to make repairs on the steam heating systems in the many city owned buildings, instead of having this work done by contractors, as in the past, and that emergency repairs can be made more speedily. No examination was held for the position as three eligible steamfitters were certified by the Civil Service Commission. Buildings Commissioner Hageman conferred with the School Department, and after an oral examination of the three men certified, decided that Mr. Peppard was best qualified for the position.

Mrs. Mary McMullen Peppard, the wife of the new appointee, who for the past 11 years had been employed as a clerk in the office of the Public Buildings Department has resigned from that position and concluded her duties last Saturday. She has been succeeded by Miss Alice Kenney of West Newton, who was formerly a clerk in the same department, until her transfer a few months ago to the newly organized Billing Department at City Hall.

SPEEDERS FINED

In the Newton court on Wednesday the following autoists were fined $5 each for speeding—Francis Methot, Capital st., Newton; Persis Green, Chapin rd., West Newton; Dorothy Sprague, 17 Perkins st., West Newton. Charles Kimball, 2nd of Shorncliffe rd., Newton was fined $5 for not stopping before entering a through way.

COMING EVENTS

Newton Community Club

On April 17th the Newton Community Club is to enjoy a pleasant Play Day, as a grand finale for the year, in a Desert Bridge Party and Fashion Show, to be held at the Hunnewell Club, at 1:30 o'clock. The "dessert" will be served at this hour, in charge of the Social committee chairman, Mrs. R. M. Patterson. The Fashion Show, directed by Mrs. Arnold Barker, offers unusual opportunity to inspect the costumes, as the "models" will go about among the bridge tables, so permitting the spectators to see at close range the many important details, and even to feel the materials. The Sally Wheeler Frock Shop, of Newton Centre, will present these model gowns.

Mrs. Charles Glueck is arranging for attractive prizes, and Mrs. C. Burton Cotting is making ready dainty baskets for nuts and candy which will be sold by the Juniors assisting her. Players should bring their own packs of cards.

Mrs. Harold C. Daniels is in general charge of this event. Tickets for this party should be obtained early, as arrangements for the "dessert" must be made. Tickets are 75 cents each.

Members interested in the Garden Talks of the Newton Community Club will meet on Thursday, the 20th, at the home of Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, 11 Washington street, at 10:30 o'clock. An illustrated lecture on "Flower Arrangements" will be given by Mrs. William Rising, of the Newton Centre Garden Club.

The time schedule for the Rummage Sale at Newton Corner to be given by the Club for two days, has been unavoidably changed to April 28th and 29th. This Sale will give opportunity for many bargains for purchasers and help the fund for Scholarship and other worthwhile purposes. For details those interested may call the president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, New No. 1129W. Those who have articles to contribute are asked especially to notify her.

Flower Show

A timely announcement for Garden Week, is that of the Newton Garden Club, for a Flower Show to be held at Channing Church on May 24th and 25th, for which all Newton residents are invited to exhibit, as well as to attend, free of charge. Exhibitors are asked to notify Mrs. Ralph N. Hall, chairman of this delightful event, as soon as possible of their intention.

On the 24th the Show will be open from 3 to 8:30 o'clock; and on the 25th, the Show will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Tea will be served to those who wish it. While this affair is being arranged by the Newton Garden Club, two women's clubs of Newton are deeply interested in it, since many of their members are working upon it, especially their Conservation committee, of which Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland and Mrs. Joseph W. Gerrity are chairmen respectively for the Newton Community Club and the Social Science Club.

Shakespeare Club

Tomorrow, Saturday, the 15th, the Shakespeare Club will meet at the home of Miss Edith M. McCann, of 231 Upland avenue, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. A. L. Pratt is in charge of the program which is to be a study of Acts IV and V of "Pericles," and then the "Review" of the entire play.

Christian Era Study Club

The Christian Era Study Club of Auburndale will hold a meeting Monday, April 17th, at 3 p. m. at the home of Miss Susie C. Johnson of 81 Grove street. Two papers will be given; one by Miss Mary M. Gould on "The Charm of Scandinavia," and the other by Mrs. M. Belden on "China."

Auburndale Woman's Club

April 17th marks two attractive meetings for members of the Auburndale Woman's Club, quite different in topic, but each having special appeal. In the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, members who have joined the Garden Club group will have discussion of "Spring Work," the outstanding interest of garden makers at this time, who feel the urge and fever of assisting the warming and awakening earth to make that lovely spot that exists always in the dreams of garden lovers. The Club meets at the homes of members, and guests may be brought at the regular guest fee. The Group has met once each month, beginning with September, with the exception of December, preparing for the spring season by acquiring information.

In the evening at 8 o'clock, in the Congregational Church, the American Home committee of the Club presents a program to which Club husbands are invited. For this guest meeting the committee has secured the Assistant District Attorney, Frank Volpe, to speak on "Why So Much Crime."

Waban Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Waban Woman's Club will be held at the Neighborhood Club House, on Monday, April 17th. Following the successful innovation of last year, dessert will be served at 1:30 o'clock, by the Social committee, with Mrs. John E. Denham and Mrs. Louis W. Arnold the hostesses for the afternoon. This will be followed by the business meeting at which reports of the year's work will be presented, and the officers for the coming year elected. A card party will then bring to a close another year of combined work and play.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its Annual Meeting at the Chapter House of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, on Tuesday, April 18th. Members, with their cars will meet at the Auburndale Railroad Station at 9:40 a. m.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The American Home committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club announces Annual Home Day for Friday, April 21st. From 10 a. m. until 12:30, homes of different types of architecture and one of historical interest will be opened. A strip of tickets, costing 75 cents, entitles one to visit these homes, to return to the Club for luncheon and to enjoy an afternoon program, in fact, includes everything. If anyone cannot visit the homes she may come to the afternoon program, fee for which is 25 cents. At 1:45 p. m., Miss Alice A. Kretschmar will give a lecture on "China and Pottery—Old and New." She brings with her a choice collection of China and pottery from different countries, to illustrate her lecture.

At 3 p. m., Mrs. Norman H. Hastings, State chairman of the American Home committee, who is to be guest of the day, will speak on a timely subject "Budgeting."

At 3:30 p. m. there will be a Fashion Show of spring and summer styles for clubwomen. Club members will model dresses from the Sally Wheeler Frock Shop which is located in the Stuart building over S. S. Pierce's. Hats from the Ogden Hat Shop at Newton Highlands will be worn with the street costumes.

Tickets must be purchased from Mrs. S. R. Porter, tel. C. N. 3232-M, or from some member of the committee before April 19th.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Play Readings that have been given by the Drama committee and members of Mrs. Hortense Ralls back's voice-training class have stimulated such an interest that another will be given on Friday afternoon, April 21st, at 2:15 o'clock, at the Club House. A play with an international problems bright, witty repartee, and lively comedy, is the one that has been chosen. A silver collection will be taken to defray the cost of the tea that will follow the Reading.

State Federation

HEADQUARTERS. A most interesting piece of news of the week for State clubwomen is the announcement that on May first—which is noted as being "moving day" in all walks of life—the State Federation is taking up Headquarters in a new location, 15 Arlington street, where officers of the organization say with enthusiasm they are to have more spacious quarters, and with the pleasing feature of a room for the president, which she may occupy over night, when her many duties and engagements may make such an opportunity of vast usefulness. Clubwomen will look forward to seeing these new rooms, and it is sure to prove helpful, in the many gatherings which find such a meeting place for committees and conferences, to have more spacious quarters. The use of Headquarters has been growing steadily among committees during the past two years, when clubwomen have been invited for informal teas and discussion of work, and the State Federation is to be congratulated in being able to make such a step of progress, which should add greatly to the usefulness of these meetings, and to many more similar gatherings.

RADIO. Miss Helena B. Shipman, chairman of the State committee of International Relations will give a description of "Implementing the Kellogg Pact" during the radio half-hour of Saturday, the 22nd, over WBZ, and the West Roxbury Woman's Club will present a Playlet. Music will be for two pianos, the players being Viola Silver and Frances Lowe, of Brockton.

The April 15th program, as already announced, is one on Health and what might almost be termed its allied work in the Federation for the Handicapped.

CLUB INSTITUTE. Addresses in response to questions asked of the Club Institute committee of the Massachusetts State Federation during the past year featured the final meeting of the Institute for this season, at the Y. W. C. A. last Thursday morning, the 6th, at 10:30 o'clock. It is interesting to note what these included: "The Council Meeting at Richmond," "Duties of a House Committee," "Club Houses in Prospect," "Club Finances," "Duties and Privileges of a Past President," "Our Club Projects," "Our Club Programs," this being presented by a Newton president, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair of Newtonville; "What the Club Institute Means" and "The Art of Broadcasting."

INTER-RACIAL UNITY CONFERENCE. "Faith, courage and understanding" was the keynote sounded at the Conference of the State Federation division of the International Unity last Friday, the 7th, in the Boston Y. W. C. A. Home, national, and international problems were discussed by authoritative speakers, the topics including the following: "Wandering Youth," by Miss Marjorie Warren; "Second Generation Problems," Miss Theresa Scott; "The Need of Further Work with the Foreign Born," Miss Alice W. O'Connor; "The Future and How It Will Be Met," Mary Guyton; two phases of China, "Religion in China," Paul Klant; and "Education in China," T. S. Tse; and an enlightening address on "The Danzig Corridor Problem," by Professor Samuel H. Cross, of Harvard University.

Welcome to the Conference was extended by Mrs. William I. MacAulay, State chairman; Mrs. John Kimball, second vice-president of the State Federation; Mrs. David Goodwin, Sixth District director; and Mrs. Hazel H. Albertson, division director; and Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon brought a message from the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Luncheon was served at noon, followed by an entertaining program including vocal selections by Edward Matthews, negro baritone; Polish dances, Lela Zydabowicz, with Miss Zonia Zydabowicz and Miss Marcia Zapolska, soprano and pianist, respectively.

Other features were addresses: "Books to Read," by Harland Carpenter, of the Massachusetts Library Club; and "The Cinema," by Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell, State Motion Picture chairman; and selections by the Music division committee Choral, in peasant costume.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"Home Talent Day" was observed Friday, April 7th, at the West Newton Women's Educational Club and the program, under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Dockstader, afforded an afternoon of pleasant entertainment, the play "Mary the Third," by Rachel Crothers, being read by a group of Club members and two Juniors, each of whom read her part with feeling and an accurate intuition of the character which she portrayed. The play is one that shows plainly the attitude of the so-called modern generation toward many of the customs and traditions of the present, to say nothing of those of the past, but the final curtain left the audience with the feeling that "all's well that ends well."

The cast included Mrs. Gordon S. Heath, Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan, Mrs. John S. Franklin, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren, and Mrs. Le Roy Davis, with Miss Elizabeth Bencks and Miss Harriet Bergensson from the Juniors. Refreshments were served after the play. Mrs. Samuel P. Darling, Mrs. James W. Messenger, Mrs. Henry L. Goodman, and Mrs. Arthur D. Batson served as hostesses in the tea room.

Newton Community Junior Woman's Club

The last meeting of the Junior Group of the Newton Community Club was held on Monday, April 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Louis J. Hunter, 35 Hyde avenue, one of the directors of the Senior Club. The election of officers for the coming year was the main business of the meeting, the following being elected: President, Lucille Holmes; vice-president, Janet Hollis; secretary, Julia Dwight; and treasurer, Minnie Spier.

A discussion of the coming party took place and final plans were made. The party is to be held on Thursday, April 20th, at Grace Church. The invited guests are girls eligible for membership next year.

After refreshments and music as a social feature the meeting adjourned.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Owing to the illness of Mr. Benjamin F. Thompson, the announced speaker, Miss Katherine Brooks Norcross, from the Cambridge School of Landscape Architecture, lectured before the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, April 11th, on the "History of English Gardens from Medieval to Modern Times." She showed many beautiful slides.

Inspired by timely lectures the Garden Group of the Club is planning to visit the Arnold Arboretum with a guide on Monday, May 15th. Mrs. Charles S. Grover, chairman of the Garden Club, was day chairman of the Tuesday meeting.

On March 31st, the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross received its final allotment of flour, 440 sacks, from the National Red Cross and which has been milled from wheat donated by the government. The Newton Chapter has already received 5 car loads of flour which has been given out to needy families at the direction of Social Agencies. It has been of great assistance to families where the earning power is very small and particularly to Italian families who are most grateful for the flour to use in the making of macaroni.

Musical at Newton Methodist Church

EDWARD MacHUGH

Edward MacHugh, New England's leading radio baritone, will give a musical program at the Newton Methodist Church, corner of Centre and Wesley sts., Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. For the past three years Mr. MacHugh has given weekly Sunday afternoon programs over station WBZ and has become noted for his gospel hymn singing. It would be safe to say his fan mail is more than that of any other New England Artist. He has sung in practically all of the leading churches in and around Greater Boston, and merely to announce his name means a capacity audience, Mr. MacHugh is a Columbia Recording artist.

Rev. Harry Belmont Hill, the minister, will preach on the theme: "The Power of the Endless Life."

Pack 2 Holds Charter Night

Pack 2, West Newton, of the Cub Division of the Council held its first Annual Charter Night last Friday evening, with Mrs. R. H. Nodine, Chairman of the Pack Committee as master of ceremonies. The meeting opened at 7:10 with the Grand Howl by the Pack followed by games by the Dens and demonstrations. One Den gave a scene from Robin Hood, which was well done.

The Charter was presented to Miss Bradley, Principal of the Davis School, which sponsors the Pack, representing Mr. Ellsworth, Headmaster of the schools in that district. Mr. Nodine, Chairman of the Pack Committee, presented the membership certificates to the members of the Pack Committee, Messrs. R. H. Nodine, Arthur Murphy, Edwin Benson, Robert Burns, Chester N. Reed, Louis Myers and C. S. Marden. Service Stars, denners' cords and badges of rank were presented by the members of the Pack Committee.

Scouters' Meeting

On Thursday evening, April 13th, Troop Scouters held a meeting at the Newton Centre Public Library at 7:45, with Mr. R. H. Peirce, Scoutmaster of Troop 13, Centre, in charge as Chairman. The meeting discussed briefly the new plan of having 2nd and 1st Class tests given by Certified Examiners, trained and certified by the Council. The records show a total of about 130 men now acting in this capacity and the new system will under way and proving much more satisfactory in every way than the former plan of a centralized board giving tests. In addition, the coming events were considered, including the Rodeo on May 13 and 14, the Annual meeting of the Council on May 17th, the outdoor Court of Honor at Nobscot on May 26th, the Memorial Day Parade, and the mass Troop Camp at Camp Barker, Douglass, on June 17 and 18.

Scouts, sleeping bags and the like made by Scouters and Scouts were shown and designs for making them, together with samples and prices of materials. Inexpensive Patrol clothing-kits to care for eight Scouts in camp and special gadgets and utensils were displayed.

Vacation Week Program

During the coming school vacation week, the Assistant Scout Executive, Mr. W. R. Speirs, will be at the Nobscot Reservation. Patrols under Junior Officers approved by their respective Scoutmasters will be allowed to go for day and overnight hikes to the Reservation, with general supervision exercised by Mr. Speirs.

Rodeo

During the past three years the Scouts and Scouters of the Council have set out 50,000 small trees over the Reservation, to provide forest growth. Events will replace that destroyed in 1930 by fire. It is hoped the State will be able to provide trees as in the past and they will be set out on April 29th, during the Rodeo. In the evening, there will be a big round-up at the Legion Cabin, where there will be roping, broncho busting, cross-cut sawing competition, branding and all the rodeo that go to make up a real rodeo. Each troop which wishes to take part must have a brand which the Scouts have designed and which each Scout wears. There will doubtless be several hundred men and boys on the Reservation for the affair, as in the past.

Rotary Club

"The 24th Annual Convention of Rotary International will bring together the largest number of Rotarians that have ever assembled in New England," was the opening statement of Dr. Cecil W. Clark, past president of the Newton Club, meeting at Brae Burn for their regular meeting on April 10th. Dr. Clark, the local Convention Committee chairman, was the speaker of the day. His subject was "The Boston Convention," which was held at the Hotel Huntington, 1933.

This is the first time that the Rotary International Convention has come to New England. While Boston is the host club, the Rotarians of all New England are looking forward to making this a truly New England Convention.

The plenary sessions of the convention will be held in Mechanics Hall. This building will also include the house of friendship, a most important and interesting adjunct to the convention. Speeches by outstanding Rotarians the world over on various Rotary subjects not only governing the various service club activities, but touching upon International service, as well as the relation of Rotary to a changing world, will command the attention of all.

Outstanding features of entertainment will include the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Meister Singers, and numerous trips to the many points of historic, educational, and scenic interest. Courtesy cars furnished by Rotarians will take visiting Rotarians wherever they wish to go.

It is already estimated from the large number of early registrations that over ten thousand Rotarians and their wives and families will be in attendance. The Newton Club has the distinction of being the first club in New England to register 100% attendance for the convention.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Anyone who thinks that the price of beer is too high, does not have to buy it. When the demand falls off, the price will come down. Our belief is that when the novelty of this re-galized malt beverage wears off, there will be a decided lessening in the sale of it. Unless one has a decided fondness for beer, this 3.2 liquor will not appeal greatly to the majority of persons. It hasn't got sufficient kick to satisfy those who have been imbibing strong alcoholic concoctions during the 13½ years of "prohibition." Possibly, the people of this country will develop a liking for this low-powered beer.

The Newton Centre Improvement Association has petitioned the Newton Board of Aldermen to grant no more licenses for billboards on business buildings in this city. If the association expects to obtain the results it desires in this matter, it must divert its efforts to another channel. It must seek the co-operation of the members of the Legislature from Newton—including Speaker Saltonstall of the House of Representatives, Senator Hollis, and Representatives Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler. A few years ago, the writer, as a member of the Aldermen, urged the then members of the Board to turn down all petitions for billboards on roofs or walls of business buildings in the Newtons. The other Aldermen agreed. But, the officials in the Department of Public Works of Massachusetts, who have authority over billboard locations, and who can override the decisions of the Board to turn down all petitions for billboards on roofs or walls of business buildings in the Newtons. The other Aldermen agreed. But, the officials in the Department of Public Works of Massachusetts, who have authority over billboard locations, and who can override the decisions of the Board to turn down all petitions for billboards on roofs or walls of business buildings in the Newtons.

And it is logical at this time to call attention to the fact that the will of the people of Massachusetts, as manifested 14 years ago regarding billboards, has not been respected, and the abatement of this nuisance is perennially deferred. Snow is snow, whether it falls in November, January or April. And when it is heavy, wet snow, such as fell Wednesday night and Thursday, it is a nuisance. It is a nuisance, together with snowing, to receive proper attention from city officials. Crosswalks and gutters, even on the principal streets of the city, and in business sections contained inches of slushy water yesterday which caused hundreds of Newton residents to get wet feet and ankles. With thousands of unemployed men there is little excuse for such a condition. Economy that ignores the health of the people and subjects them to the probability of catching colds and other ailments, is false economy.

Engine 1, the fire apparatus of ancient vintage that protects the most congested part of this city, has returned from Middleboro where it has been undergoing extensive repairs. This veteran fire kit has been in such decrepit condition the past couple of years that it was a number of times found to pump out the pond which formed on Wilde rd. at Waban after times get prosperous again, Newton Corner will get a needed, new fire truck.

Evan Johnson, teacher in Physical Education of the Walpole Schools, Mr. Morton H. Wiggin will again direct the nature and outdoor activities of the boys. Mr. Wiggin has been in camping seven years and during the winter is teacher in history in the Malden High School.

Directing the Swimming and Life-saving again this year will be Mr. Winston S. Brown. Mr. Brown graduated from Annapolis in 1923 and is a graduate of Harvard Business College.

A new department will be established this year on the water. That of teaching and understanding sailing. This particular activity will be supervised by Midshipman Robert Morton who will be on leave from Annapolis. Mr. Morton has grown up with the camp and has had a great experience with the sailing fleet at Annapolis.

A younger boys' camp or the mid-days as they will be termed, will be inaugurated this year, particularly boys under the age limit. This will include younger brothers who want to attend and also smaller boys who would like the camp experience for a shorter time. Mr. Edward Campbell a student at Bowdoin College will head this group and will be assisted by Kenneth Lane a student at Colby College. Both Mr. Campbell and Mr. Lane have had a great deal of experience handling the younger boys and they have been selected from a large number of men because of their training and ability.

The program will be varied to a larger degree giving the boys more latitude in their activities. Craft work and out-door-living will be stressed in their activity. Located in the heart of Massachusetts on a beautiful small lake gives unbounded activity both in the woods and on the water. All activities are guarded and every known precaution is taken at all times for the boys' safety.

Other counselors who are being considered for this season are many of last year's men. Jack Brown, graduate of Georgia Tech, will be back to take over the dramatic work of the camp. "Scotty" Kyle from Springfield will again have charge of the indoor lore and scoutcraft. He is a student at Springfield College and also an instructor in the freshman camp. Malcolm Robb of the Yale School of architecture will be in charge of the crafts and small handwork. Mr. Irving Keene of Watertown High School is being considered with the following men: William Miller of Duke University, Leslie Lefont of Northeastern, Silas Phillips of Exeter Academy, Stems McNutt of Watertown High School and Euan Davis of the same school.

The following boys have enrolled for either the entire season or in part: Arthur Appleton, David Ashton, Arthur E. Barnard, Frank C. Brimblecom, Robert H. Clapp, Prescott A. Coan, John M. Day, Jr., Richard S. Emery, Edward C. Fettes, Jr., Robert C. Fettes, Robert Harlow, Norman Haas, Stanley Hall, Lester G. Hawkins, Jr., Robert A. Hawkins, David G. Hunting, Raymond D. Hunting, Jr., Warren Kelley, F. Kimball Loomis, Edwin C. Meserve, Frederick W. Oesting, Jack M. Perry, Marvin B. Perry, Jr., Wilfred D. Potter, William D. Reid, Jr., Arthur D. Reitz, Jack A. Reitz, Jr., Richard D. Schaaf, Hans G. Walz.

Over fifty applications have left the office of the Director and are being returned almost daily. At a recent meeting of the Camp Committee the change of rate was discussed. It was decided that at $11.00 per week the camp should give the boys the largest amount of worth both in leadership and pleasure. The kitchen will again be manned by "Timmy," as the boys know the chef. He has been cooking at the camp for seven years. He has cooked for schools and camps for nearly thirty years. He understands boys' appetites and it is one of the strong talking points among the boys. High class food is purchased and the very best Jersey Grade A Pasteurized milk is used. Each boy is encouraged to eat some of everything and in most cases it works to the boys' advantage.

Ground has been broken for the new lodge and it is being built by Mr. Bedell the caretaker and carpenter for the camp. This building will be the new administration office and will also be the living quarters for the Camp Director's family. Here also will be the place for boys to meet their parents on other than visiting days. It will also be used for conferences before and after the summer season. Arrangements for week-end conferences may be made with Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

Moreover, they will tell the man's cellar shopping burden can be lightened by installing at small cost a fuel lift from the basement woodpile right to the side of the living room fireplace.

Planning will be surveyed, if the owner wishes, and the electrical wiring and fixtures will be modernized. Painting, heating and landscape work also will be solicited. Yet even the small miscellaneous jobs like rug cleaning, window washing, and woodwork cleaning will be acceptable.

"The bank holiday is over," declared Mayor Weeks, "and a feeling of renewed confidence prevails today to an extent that has not been equalled in many months. Help others and help yourselves by doing the home improvement work so long postponed. In this manner you will assist in translating this new confidence into better business and better times for all."

Citizens Club Votes For Beer License

The Newton Citizens' Club held a meeting on Wednesday night at Columbus Hall, Nonantum. President Lawrence Mazzoli, Jr., presided. A discussion was held on the matter of granting licenses for the sale of the new, legal beer in this city. The meeting voted unanimously that this city should grant such licenses. Arguments were offered that it will be unfair to Newton business men, who have been struggling against adverse conditions, to prevent them from having the right to compete on equal terms with storekeepers in Boston, Waltham, Brookline and adjoining places where licenses have been granted. It was the sentiment of the speakers that Mayor Weeks should have assumed the responsibility vested in him by the Legislature and decided on this important matter. A resolution was passed which read: "Hon. Sinclair Weeks, City Hall, Newton Centre."

Resolved, that the Newton Citizens' Club be on record that the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton grant licenses for the sale of 3.2% beer now legalized in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in order that it will help to increase the revenue of our city, and keep business in it."

Newton Emblem Club No. 8 was honored in having its Supreme President with her suite, Mrs. Carlton H. Newton, of Dover, N. H. install its newly elected officers on Monday evening, April 10, 1933, in Elk's Hall, Newton. A large delegation from the affiliated clubs in Massachusetts gathered with Dover and Manchester, N. H. Clubs were present. A currency shower was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Marion A. Brophy. Gifts were presented to the Supreme President and the retiring officers. A tribute to the Supreme President, written by the new president, Miss Gertrude McCrudden, was read by Miss Theresa Caruso and very much appreciated and enjoyed. A buffet lunch was served and Harlow's Orchestra furnished the music throughout the evening.

The newly installed officers are: President, Miss Gertrude McCrudden; Past President, Mrs. Marion Brophy; Vice President, Mrs. Fannie Bernard; Treasurer, Miss Margaret Priest; Financial Secretary, Miss Grace Dalton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Blanche McGowan; Marshal, Miss Florence Gegan; Chaplain, Mrs. Edith Gillies; Trustees, Miss Eleanor Mulcahy, Mrs. Bertha Dunne; Pianist, Mrs. Alice Smith; Press Correspondent, Miss Mary Guzzi; Guards, Mrs. Helen Borelli, Miss Marie Barry.

Portrait Of Newton's First Mayor Presented To City At Meeting Of Aldermen

Mayor Weeks Accepts Gift—Alderman McKay Lauds Long Public Career of Hon. J. F. C. Hyde

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen at City Hall on Monday night a large oil portrait of Hon. J. F. C. Hyde, first mayor of Newton was presented to the city by his daughter, Mary E. Hyde of 22 Floral st., Newton Highlands. Miss Hyde and Mayor Weeks were escorted into the aldermanic chamber by a committee composed of Aldermen Cronin, Hutchinson and Pratt. In behalf of Miss Hyde, Alderman McKay of Newton Highlands made the speech of presentation. He said:

It is my privilege to address you as the spokesman for a lifelong resident of Newton, a citizen loved and esteemed by her fellow-citizens, Miss Mary E. Hyde, the daughter of the first Mayor of our city.

At the last Board meeting I conveyed to you her wish to present the city with the portrait of her father which is before you. It was unanimously voted that we designate this evening for the acceptance of this valued gift, and that she be invited as our guest to receive the expression of appreciation voiced for the city by His Honor the Mayor.

Possibly I can speak more freely than a daughter's modesty would permit in enumerating the high positions of trust held by her illustrious father. It is most fitting to review the superior qualities which commanded the respect of his fellow-townsmen. There are some among the audience who knew him personally. We all know of him, and of his achievements which must necessarily be all too briefly recounted.

James F. C. Hyde was born in Newton July 26, 1836, in the seventh generation of Jonathan Hyde who was the fourth settler of what is now Newton. Jonathan's brother, Samuel, was the second settler. That ancestry established every possible reason for his pride and interest in the town which he served so well.

At the age of 15 he took an interest in good politics, attending meetings and caucuses and working at the polls—long before becoming a voter himself. At seventeen his plans to study law were changed when it became necessary for him to stay at home and care for his father and mother. When called upon to make this decision he unhesitatingly said, "All I am I owe to you and I cannot do too much for you."

He was, however, not to be denied an education. After each day's work of 12 or 14 hours upon the farm he devoted three or more hours to reading and studying, so that he became known and was frequently introduced to audiences as the "Walking Encyclopedia."

He was elected selectman at the age of 29 and remained on the Board sixteen years, and during that period was Moderator of the town meetings. At 31 he was elected representative to the Massachusetts General Court. He was on the ballot for various offices for the town, and later the City of Newton more than fifty times, and was never defeated.

At the town meeting April 7, 1873, the subject of whether the General Court should be petitioned for a City Charter was warmly discussed. Although some favored union with Boston the majority voted for the motion introduced by Mr. Hyde looking toward a city government. On October 13th the people assembled and voted to accept the change. And on the 4th of November, 1873 the last town meeting was held. Newton became a City, and James F. C. Hyde was elected its first Mayor, receiving all but 13 of the votes cast. He was re-elected to a second term almost unanimously. Although urged to do so he declined to be a candidate thereafter.

Among his many public and semi-public positions of trust were:

Two terms on the State Board of Agriculture.
Four years President of Massachusetts Horticultural Society.

President of the Newton Horticultural Society.

Director of John Hancock Life Insurance Company.

Director of Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

President of the Newton Savings Bank.

One of the founders of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

Trustee of the Newton Cemetery Corporation.

He was chosen to deliver the address upon the 20th anniversary of the incorporation of the town.

In his second inaugural address he advocated making the Newton Library which was then privately supported, a free city library. This was shortly thereafter put into effect.

Through five years of untiring effort he was successful in securing the building of the Highland Circuit, thus giving railroad service to the southern part of the city.

Under his leadership and wise guidance Newton was given a start in good government which has been an inspiration to every subsequent Mayor and Board. An excerpt from his second inaugural address delivered January 4, 1875 is worthy of our careful thought today.

"The signs of the times most fully demand that we shall continue to exercise the most careful economy in all our expenditures—a true economy that will not lead to waste or extravagance and its inevitable results—heavy debt or taxation, but will give us the dollar's worth for every dollar expended, and enable us to keep our debt small, and our rate of taxation reasonable. With such management we should be even more prosperous in the future than we have been in the past, and many more of such as we shall be glad to welcome, will come among us to find pleasant homes on our beautiful hillside and along our peaceful valleys."

Our Honor—Miss Hyde presents to the City of Newton this portrait of its first Mayor, her father, the Honorable James Francis Clark Hyde.

In accepting the portrait, Mayor Weeks said that it was a privilege to accept the gift of Miss Hyde. The record of her father is one that all Newton citizens can take a vast amount of pride in. The Mayor commented that Newton residents who think they are old timers, must take a back seat when they realize that the Hyde family moved to Newton in 1648. Mr. Weeks said that the good government which Newton has always enjoyed is a heritage received from (Continued on Page 10)

UNUSUAL BENEFIT BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Prominent women of the Newtons and of other Greater Boston cities interested in the Elizabeth Peabody House will hold an unusual bridge tournament at the Copley Plaza Monday, May 1.

Among the women of the Newtons who are interested in the affair are Mrs. F. Reed Estabrook who is chairman of the publicity committee, and Miss Louise Fessenden, a member of the board of directors and serving on the entertainment committee. Both women are from Chestnut Hill. Because of the nature of the bridge, no invitations are being issued.

Depression Over, Says R. W. Wilson Of Babson's

Gives Ringing Message of Optimism Before Kiwanis Club

Ralph B. Wilson, Vice-President of the Babson's Statistical Organization, Inc., Babson Park, Wellesley, Mass., was the speaker before the Newton Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon, at the Charles River Country Club.

In a vigorous message ringing with optimism, Professor Wilson definitely stated that "the wheels of business are beginning to turn once more on the Road to Recovery."

"The crisis of this depression is past," he stated. "The events of the past three months were a blessing in disguise. They proved the need for drastic action. They gave Congress the courage to give the President power to act. They secured the cooperation of the people so that our problems could be met without further delay."

"President Roosevelt's vigorous action, courage, and constructive program turned a period of gloom into one of optimism."

"He has already instituted economies totaling a billion dollars, increased our revenue and passed constructive measures that would normally require many months. He has broken the red tape and conventions of delay. He is balancing the budget, strengthening the national credit, relieving unemployment, attacking the problems fundamentally and hastening the return of confidence. In the history of the world's legislation no such accomplishment is recorded in so brief period of time."

"Over night Franklin D. Roosevelt by his frankness, courage, open-mindedness and sound thinking has become the man of the hour both at home and abroad."

"Although there are many more spots yet to be healed, a business recovery is in the making. Barring any world upheaval, there is the prospect of better business ahead. The foundation of a new era through a new deal is being dug down deep to solid rock."

"The readjustment has been most drastic and thorough. The efficiency of management and labor is greater than it has been for years. Wages have been reduced. Overhead expenses have been cut. The cost of living is low. Commodities, stocks, and bonds are in the bargain basement of a buying zone. There is an accumulated demand for goods augmented by heavy replacements in many lines. The characteristic of the new administration is vigorous decision and clear thinking."

"The administration program is in full swing. State, city and local governments are falling in line with the economy regime. The emergency bank legislation cleared the air. Confidence is returning. Millions of hoarded money have rushed back to our banks. Our credit standing has been greatly strengthened. Business enterprises are beginning to buy raw materials at these unprecedented low levels. The public is beginning to replenish its depleted stocks of consumable commodities and the wheels of business are beginning to turn once more on the Road to Recovery."

Leg Broken By Alleged Drunk

Louis Nichols of Orchard ave., Weston, had his left leg broken about 3 a. m. Sunday morning, when his car was hit in the rear by a car operated by Dr. Robert Horn, a dentist residing at 6 Vane st., Wellesley. The accident happened on Beacon st., Waban, near the Angier School. Nichols' car was stopped alongside a police car occupied by Patrolmen Brosnan and Dalton when the car driven by Horn hit the rear of the two automobiles. Nichols was removed to the Newton Hospital. The police car was badly damaged. Horn was arrested charged with drunkenness, driving under the influence of liquor, and reckless driving. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until April 24th.

Community Chest Hopeful of Results Of 2nd Campaign

Will Issue Report of Member Organizations May 1st

The second of the series of monthly reports now being issued by the Newton Community Chest is in preparation and will be issued on or about May 1. It was announced at Chest headquarters yesterday. This report will give, in addition to a summary of the recent activities of the Mayor's Relief Committee, accounts of the work of the Newton Welfare Bureau, The Catholic Welfare Bureau, the Newton Hospital and the Newton District Nursing Association.

These are the member agencies of the Chest which share the responsibility of administering funds subscribed for the relief of Newton families in urgent need of financial assistance and medical care. It is to permit the continuation of their work on the scale which the seriousness of local conditions requires that the present campaign of the Chest to secure $55,000 is now being carried on. By the end of the month, it is hoped that the Chest may be able to report a favorable statement of the financial results of the campaign.

In each local village the activity of volunteer workers continues unabated, and many individuals who subscribed to the Chest fund last fall have already given generously again. The two most recent local report meetings were one held in Waban last Sunday at the home of C. Adrian Sawyer, Jr., and one held on Tuesday in Newton at the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harrison.

Due to the forthcoming demolition of the old City Hall, where the Chest has made its headquarters since last autumn, these headquarters will be moved tomorrow to Bray Hall, Newton Centre. All those wishing to send checks direct to headquarters should make them payable to the Newton Community Chest and mail to that address.

New License Commissioners Have Been Busy

Licenses May Be Issued July First

The three members of the newly created License Commission of Newton have been busy men since their appointments last Monday by Mayor Weeks. They have held several conferences to formulate rules and regulations to govern the sale of beer in this city, and they have been sought after by many applicants for the privilege of selling and dispensing the new beverage. This city, under the recently enacted statute, may issue 33 licenses for the sale of beer by retail by stores. Nineteen stores in the various villages have received favorable consideration already by the commission, and will probably be granted licenses by today. The fee for licenses for the months of May and June has been fixed at $50. The regular licenses will be issued on July 1st. No licenses for the dispensing of beer on premises have been issued as yet. Many of the would-be applicants for this type of license will, in all probability, be turned down, as they do not at present possess common victualer licenses.

The sale of beer at retail will be restricted to the hours between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m., and no sales will be made on Sundays or holidays. Beer sold in restaurants and lunch rooms can be sold at all hours except between 1 and 5 a. m. The number of applications for licenses already received totals over 125, including those from the five golf clubs in the city and the Longwood Tennis Club.

William T. Glidden, Jr., chairman of the commission, resides at 8 Barnstable rd., West Newton, and has been living in this city for 20 years. He is a native of Brookline, a graduate of the Class of 1907 at Harvard, and served in the navy during the World War. He is a member of the banking firm of White, Weld & Company, 111 Devonshire st., Boston. Mr. Glidden is married and has three children. Bernard L. Gorinkle has been a resident of the Waban Hill section for the past ten years. He lives at 59 Algonquin rd., Chestnut Hill. He was born in Boston, is a graduate of Boston University and a lawyer by profession. He served with (Continued on Page 10)

RED CROSS

Tomorrow, Saturday, two members of the Junior Red Cross will go to Washington, D. C., to attend the Annual Convention at Washington, April 24, 25, 26 and 27, as guests of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross. Miss Thelma Cutter of the Bismack Junior High School and Miss Dorothy Goldstein, a student at the Weeks Junior High School. Miss Ellen G. McGrath, assistant principal of the Weeks Junior High, will act as chaperone. Miss Cutter will lead a round table discussion on the subject of "Participation in Regionals." Miss Callista Roy, Chairman of the Junior Red Cross and Assistant Superintendent of Newton Schools, appointed delegates. The group will have ample time for sightseeing before attending the convention.

Protest Against New Gas Station At Newton Hlds.

Men's Club of Newton Hlds And Others Object

A number of Newton Highlands residents were present at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night to protest against the petition of Joseph W. Crowell for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 1651 Centre st., Newton Highlands. Mr. Crowell, a former well-known Newton resident, but now a resident of Marion, said he wants an opportunity to return to this city and enter business here again. He argued that any fair-minded person would not consider the proposed station detrimental. He said the business section of Newton Highlands is bound to move in the direction of the station locus, and he promised to conduct the station so that it will not adversely affect surrounding properties.

John Mills, owner of the property at 1657 Centre st., objected to the petition. He said when he bought this property several years ago he did so with the knowledge that there was a restriction on the use of the property at 1651 Centre st. as a result of an agreement between its former owner, Albert T. Stuart, and Mrs. Mary Tunley. He said that a record of this agreement is on file at the Registry of Deeds at East Cambridge. Paul Mullen of 843 Boylston st., Newton Highlands, protested against the proposed station. He said he represented the estate of Thomas W. Mullen. He told the Aldermen that 5 years ago Albert T. Stuart obtained a permit to build a show room for automobiles on this locus, and promised to erect this show room when he obtained a permit for the filling station at the corner of Centre and Walnut sts.

H. D. Reynolds, representing the executive committee of the Men's Club of Newton Highlands, objected to the petition. He produced a map of Newton Highlands which showed 10 filling stations on State Highway Route 128 within a radius of half a mile of the proposed station, and 3 more filling stations at the junction of Boylston and Woodward sts., on the new turnpike. Mr. Reynolds said there are too many filling stations already at Newton Highlands; no more should be allowed. He expressed the hope that the new turnpike will be kept attractive and residential, as is Commonwealth ave., that it will become an asset to the city, and not be littered with vending stands and filling stations. This same sentiment was voiced by Mrs. Alexander Peckham of Fisher ave., chairman of the localistic committee of the Newton Highlands Women's Club. She said Newton should co-operate with Wellesley in keeping the new Worcester turnpike attractive.

James Klingman, a member of the Newton Planning Board, speaking as a private citizen, objected to the proposed station because he believed it would create an added traffic hazard to the many school children who pass by this locus. Several other Newton residents also protested against the petition. The matter was referred to the License Committee for consideration.

Assault and Rob W. Newton Youth

John Milligan, 19, of Cottage place, West Newton, was knocked unconscious Saturday night on Webster st. in that section, and robbed of about $150. Milligan was employed at a chain grocery store in West Newton and had been collecting money Saturday night. He was driving his car on Webster st. when a sedan approached and forced Milligan's auto towards the fence at Hatch's coal yard. Two men alighted from the sedan and forced Milligan at pistol point to get out of his car. He was made to hand over the money in his possession and was then slugged with the butt of the pistol and knocked unconscious. Milligan was discovered by two men walking along the street, and the police were notified. He was removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance, and it was first thought that his skull was fractured.

Mayor Weeks Authorizes Sale Of Beer In Newton — Aldermen Approve

Aldermen Pass Question Back to Mayor By Refusing To Authorize Special Election

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted against authorizing a special election at which the citizens of Newton would vote on the question of granting licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages of not more than 3.2%. This election had been suggested by Mayor Weeks following a conference he held on Saturday, April 8th with members of the Aldermen and City Solicitor Bartlett. At that time the Mayor stated:

"Under the Act passed by the Legislature, the Board of Aldermen has the right to determine whether or not a special election shall be called to permit the voters to decide on the question of licenses in Newton. Having discussed the matter with the President of the Board, and having before me his expression of opinion that the Board should have opportunity to decide the question, the whole matter will be laid on the table, as far as the City of Newton is concerned, until the Board meets on Monday evening, April 17th."

On Monday night the Mayor conferred with the Aldermen, meeting as a committee of the whole, prior to the Board meeting. When the regular meeting started at 8:07 the presentation of the portrait of Hon. J. F. C. Hyde was made. Following this, President Collins of the Board stated that although the first matters on the docket were hearings on several petitions, that because a large number of citizens were present through interest in the beer question, this matter would be first acted upon.

Alderman Floyd said that under the Act recently passed by the Legislature, two provisions were made regarding the granting of licenses in any city. Either the Mayor of a city could decide, or a special election can be held to allow the voters to decide. Mr. Floyd commented that there has been wonderful co-operation between the Mayor and the Aldermen, but he believed it would be quite unwise to hold a special election with the city burdened with financial problems, such as exist. He said the matter of granting licenses should be placed back in the Mayor's hands. He referred to the fact that licenses will be issued not by the Board of Aldermen, but by a Board of License Commissioners. He then moved that the following resolution be adopted by the Aldermen:

"Resolved—That it is the judgment of this Board that licenses for the sale of wines and malt beverages, under the provisions of Chapter 120 of the Acts and Resolves of 1933, shall be granted in the City of Newton, and that the question is not of sufficient moment to warrant the calling of a special election to pass on the question, particularly in view of the cost of such a special election under present economic conditions."

Alderman Temperley said that he agreed with Alderman Floyd, insofar as it would be inexpedient to hold a special election. He also agreed that the matter should be placed back in the Mayor's hands. But, he objected to the Aldermen expressing an official opinion on this question, inasmuch as they were not deciding the matter. Alderman Floyd replied that as one of twenty-one Aldermen elected by the people to help govern this city, he believed that the Board should not place the entire responsibility of the beer question on the Mayor alone; the Aldermen should share equally in this responsibility and criticism. Alderman Cronin stated that he concurred with Alderman Floyd.

Alderman Gallagher prefaced his remarks on the matter by indulging, as has been his custom, in belittling remarks directed at Alderman Temperley. He then said that the whole country has gone "wet," all surrounding towns and cities have granted licenses to sell beer, and that storekeepers of this city should have this right. He asserted that last Saturday one outside grocery firm alone delivered 400 cases of beer in the Newtons. Gallagher ridiculed persons who condemn the sale of 3.2% beer when anyone can go to drugstores and purchase port and cherry wines, supposedly medicated, but which really contain little medical ingredients, and which do contain from 18 to 22% alcohol. He said, speaking as a physician, that beer is the best bitter that ever entered a human stomach. He commented that if a person drank the 3.2% brew all day and through the night, one might feel its effects in the early morning hours, but Newton residents would not sit up that long. He argued that the Aldermen are duty bound to favor the sale of beer in Newton as their constituents want it sold here. He said that nine-tenths of the people of Ward 1 want beer sold in Newton.

The resolution presented by Alderman Floyd was then voted upon and all members of the Board favored it except Alderman Temperley. As evidence that the action taken by the Aldermen was expected by Mayor Weeks, was the fact that right after the Board had taken this action, the Mayor made the following announcement:

"Under the act passed by the Legislature establishing the conditions governing the Sale of Beer and Wines in this State the Board of Aldermen of any city was given the power to call a special election to decide the question of License. The first meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen since the passage of the act was held last evening and at that meeting the Board determined that there is no occasion at this time to call such a special election. This action on the part of the Board of Aldermen therefore brings the question before me for decision and I have, in my capacity as Mayor, determined to allow the Sale of Beer and Wines in the City of Newton. Licenses under the Act are granted by a License Commission, and in view of the fact that we have not heretofore had such a commission in this city, I have asked the following named gentlemen to serve on this commission and have received their acceptance of the appointments: Mr. William T. Glidden, Jr., of West Newton, Chairman; Major B. L. Gorinkle of Newton Centre; and Mr. A. L. Moriarty of Abundant. The Commission will meet immediately and proceed to issue licenses."

BUSINESS ASSOCIATES TO HOLD MEETING

A meeting of the Newton Business Associates will be held next Thursday night, April 27 at 8:30 in Elks Building. President Wilfred Chagnon will preside and the meeting will be addressed by Mr. Nichols of the National Cash Register Company, whose subject will be "Business Statistics of the Present Day." A buffet lunch will be served and a very interesting meeting is anticipated.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

MANY NEW FACES
IN NEWTON LINEUP
FOR OPENING GAME

Many new faces will be in the lineup of the Newton high school baseball team next Wednesday when Coach Jeff Jones sends his charges against a highly touted Framingham High nine on Clavin field, Newtonville. At the end of the 1932 season graduation took a few of the regular players from the squad but left a veteran infield intact and three pitchers who seemed to give Newton much all-around strength. But the picture is decidedly different as the season rolls around again. Two of the three pitchers, Rhodes and Choquette, left school, the former to work and the latter to prep school, leaving the burden of the twirling to Phil Giles. Johnny Waters, second baseman in 1932, received a football injury that caused him to fall behind in his studies and he is now making them up and may become eligible midway of the season.

Charlie Houghton held down first base regularly last season. He is again available this year but the dearth of pitching material caused Coach Jones to make a pitcher out of the versatile Newton athlete. Thus Jimmy Byrnes gets a chance to show his ability at the initial sack and if he comes through he will hold it regularly. If he is found wanting Houghton will take over the job when not pitching and either Byrnes or another player will hold forth when Houghton is on the mound. For the sake of teamwork Coach Jones wants a first baseman for regular action with the rest of his infield. At second base in Johnny Waters' place will be Charles Flagg. Flagg saw more or less service at third base last year in competition with Alex Kevorkian and Teddy Johnson but with other third base material available this season Flagg moves to the keystone sack. Captain Huston will be at his usual position at shortstop and is apparently headed for a great season. Having been up among the topnotchers in schoolboy baseball as well as in other sports, for the past several years Huston will be the key man in Newton's lineup. Billy McDermott has clinched the third base berth for the opening game. Captain Huston will be at his usual position at shortstop and is apparently headed for a great season. Having been up among the topnotchers in schoolboy baseball as well as in other sports, for the past several years Huston will be the key man in Newton's lineup. Billy McDermott has clinched the third base berth for the opening game.

Alex Kevorkian, last year's third baseman, will be behind the bat in the opening game and probably the greater part of the season. Like Huston, Houghton, and Flagg he is a three-sport athlete, and should be well able to take care of the catching burden. For reserve catcher Coach Jones has developed Pete Morrison.

In the outfield will be three entirely new faces. Al Fraint will be in the left field sector with Joe Mastropi and in center and Dick Di Russo in right field. The latter takes over Bill Terry's position as the latter has passed his twentieth birthday and is ineligible. Fraint is the hardest hitting player on the nine and will bat in the cleanup position. He is one of the major finds uncovered by Coach Jones during the practicing sessions at the state. Louis Di Russo, brother of Dick, will be the reserve outfielder on the squad.

In addition to Giles and Houghton the Newton mentor will carry Charlie Conway, Roger Myrick and George Taylor as pitchers and will use them in relief capacity. Framingham high will send down a strong nine next Wednesday led by "Doc" Kennedy, three sport star, whose pitching abilities are well tested. Last year he fanned 18 Newton players in the opening game. The orange and black squad will have to have their batting eyes wide open to come through. On Friday of next week the Newton team opens the suburban league season in a game at Russell Field, Cambridge with the Cambridge Latin nine.

Coach Jones has announced a policy of interest to local fans in scheduling all home league games for Saturday afternoon instead of the usual Friday date. This policy should result in awaken interest in the local ball team by local fans.

ALUMNI NOTES

The Bourneau girls play an important role in Radcliffe's activities. Jessie Bourneau is treasurer of the Student Government, while her two sisters, Alice and Aimee, have held the highest position offered by the college, president of the Student Government.

Elizabeth Harrington is the permanent secretary of the senior class at Radcliffe.

Helen Brooks is the current events editor on the Radcliffe Daily. Alice Bourneau, Helen Finnerty, Elizabeth Harrington, Jane Herman, Mary Lenox are the seniors on the dean's list; Helen Brooks, Janet Ryther, Lillian Wright, are the juniors; Jessie Bourneau and Mary Douglas are the sophomores.

Lillian Wright and Virginia Townsend are the president and vice-president, respectively of the Radcliffe Science Club.

Eleanor Vanderhoof is treasurer of the Catholic Club at Radcliffe. Robert Bennett was in the highest honor group at Dartmouth. Reginald Bankart is also in that class.

Marjorie Murdock is a member of the swimming team at Penn Hall, Chambersburg, Pa. This is the team which broke New York University's seven year streak in swimming.

Albert Haberstroh is the only high school candidate for crew at Harvard. Walter A. Johnson and George D. Somers are on the honor roll at Huntington.

James Sutcliffe will be among the commencement speakers at Bridgton Academy. He has been selected to present the Class Will.

Sports Briefs

Alfred K. Brown, Jr., of Waban captured the gold medal offered to Northeastern University shooters for the best score for prone shooting at the N. U. rifle range last week. On Friday he scored 100 for the second time—earlier in the week the N. U. sophomore was one of three to turn in a perfect performance. Fred Schipper of Newtonville captured the New Hampshire U. freshman hockey team this past season—he played centre ice and was recently awarded his numerals. Dartmouth won its opening game last Friday defeating Wesleyan 8 to 2 at Middletown, Conn. Frank Spain was one of the Green's stars—in the second with the bases full he knocked out a two-base hit to score three runners—in the fifth he started a double play to prevent Wesleyan from scoring—an error by Spain resulted in one of Wesleyan's best hitters, Yale's 24 victory over Lehigh but made one sacrifice to help the Blue's cause. Harvard awarded letters and numerals this week for 18 teams which were in competition the past winter. Francis Gleason, who is on his way to a third major letter this year, received his hockey letter—last fall he got this spring in baseball. Henri Bourneau, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, manager of the Crimson varsity hockey team, also received a major hockey letter. Bob Waldinger, like Gleason, a Country Day product, received his freshman numerals in hockey. Charles L. Jack, West Newton Junior, won a minor H in swimming as a regular member of the team.

A regular member of the team several athletic events on the holiday say local athletes performing well. Francis Gleason, Harvard first sacker, produced a hit in Harvard's big third inning at Princeton which helped keep the ball rolling—the Crimson tallied six runs and as it went scoreless during the rest of the game just managed to pull out a 6 to 5 victory over the Princeton team. Charlie Hall, former Newton high and Tech track star, won first place in the annual O'Connell 10-mile road race at Jamaica Plain—it took a sprinting finish for the Newton youth to nose out Linden Dempster of the Norfolk Y for the honors—the pair were practically side by side for the entire distance with the Newton runner a yard or two ahead. Vincent Signore, another former Newton high runner, placed sixth—he is running for the Dorchester Club. Daniel Heard, representing the Newton Y. M. C. A. finished in 40th place in the B. A. A. marathon—for almost half the distance he was with the leaders—other Newton runners who had sent in their entries for the race were Elmer J. Dezottell of the Victory Club, Edward Smith of the Shamrocks, Warren F. Moore of Waban and Donald L. Olson of the Newton Y.

Three Newton teams were eliminated in the Boston Boys' Club basketball tourney on Tuesday night—the Newton Seniors, composed of Newton high school players, were on the short end of a 25 to 15 score with the Dillon Jrs.—the Newton Arrows were defeated by the Revere Bruins, 26 to 20 after winning their game on Saturday and Monday—the Newton Cubs lost to the Waltham Cubs in a close fought 17 to 16 game. Newton will have a horse show on May 13th—it will be an All-day affair for charity on the grounds of the Waltham estate at the corner of Centre and Mill streets. Allan J. Wilson, Newton sportsman, whose fine saddle horse he kept and trained on the estate is responsible for Newton's first horse show. E. C. Potter of Newton is chairman of the horse show committee—with Arthur Lovesey as manager and ringmaster—eighteen or twenty classes are planned—further announcements will be made later. Bradford Dyer of Auburndale, former Newton high jumper, is on the pitching squad of the Bridgton academy baseball squad. Jackson Skillings is on the baseball squad at Wilbraham academy. Al Robinson is out for baseball at Colby College and his brother Eliot is out for freshman baseball at Williams College. John Alden, of Newton, placed in the 1 1/4 mile run at the practice handicap track meet at Tech last Saturday. Dorothy Hunter has been given a two stroke handicap in the women's golf ratings—last year she had a six stroke handicap but her outstanding play has brought the reduction. Yale defeated Dartmouth last Saturday 6 to 3 in the latter's first intercollegiate league game of the season. Allie Fletcher made one single driving in an Eli run, in two times at bat—he also had two sacrifice hits and one stolen base. Frank Spain, Green shortstop, made one hit in three times up.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. will conduct its annual Community Free Swimming Campaign next week from Monday to Saturday (inclusive). This campaign is conducted in cooperation with the Humane Society of Massachusetts for the purpose of teaching the schoolboys of Newton, Watertown, and vicinity, to swim free of charge. The boys are given a medical inspection and then are assigned to a definite period for lessons each day of the week. The instructor is Mr. Jack Manning of the Humane Society who has been doing this work in the Y. M. C. A. since 1920, and was also a crew coach at Harvard for many years.

During this campaign last year, of the 134 boys enrolled, 110 were actually taught to swim. Watertown boys will come to the "Y" to be enrolled and assigned to periods on Saturday morning, and Newton boys on Monday afternoon.

During the rainy days, game tournaments have proven popular in the Boys' Game Room. In the tournament held Friday, April 14, Sam Jennings, proved to be the best all-around game player by winning with 46 points. Jack Meyers was a close second with 43 points and Jack Keefe third with 42 points. The tournament included Cue, Rook, Ping Pong, Ta-Bowl, Camélot, and Checkers. Points were given for each round and extra points for the winner and runner-up.

A second tournament was held on Monday, April 17, and this time Jack Keefe proved to be far superior to the others by collecting 71 points while Gardner Hess came in second with 27 1/2 and Joe Prout third with 23 points.

On Tuesday morning 18 boys with the Associate Director of Boys' Work visited the Boston Herald-Traveler Building.

Wednesday, being a holiday, the regular gymnasium classes were discontinued, but a swim for all classes was held at 10 a. m.

On Thursday morning at 9:30 a group left the "Y" for a trip to the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company in Cambridge. The destination of the group was unknown to them as it was a "Mystery Trip."

The same program will be carried on during next week for the boys who live in Watertown as the schools there will be closed during the coming week.

The Newton Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Arts will present on April 27 and 28 "The Lady of the Weeping Willow Tree," by Stuart Walker, a Japanese fantasy in three acts. It is a beautiful play with music, dancing, and singing. Philip Hale Bierstedt says of the play: "It is beautiful because it is true, and equally true because it is beautiful."

The leading roles are being interpreted by Robert Currier, Robert R. Reed, John Damon Richards, Muriel Pearce, Betty Tobey and Louise McInnis. The play is directed by Mr. Currier. The proceeds are for the Dramatic Fund. The play will be given Thursday and Friday at the school's auditorium, 378 Centre st., Newton. Curtain at 8:15 sharp.

Y. M. C. A.

On Tuesday, April 18th, Field Marshal Edmund Lord Allenby delivered the dedicatory address of the new Y. M. C. A. Building in Jerusalem. The occasion marked the expansion of one of the world's most significant experiments in International and Inter-Racial understanding. The Association's work began as far back as 1878 in an obscure book shop. Under the leadership of an English General Secretary, the work grew to significant proportions up to 1914 when all activities were curtailed by the World War. In 1920 it was reorganized under the leadership of Dr. A. C. Harte who interested the late Mr. James N. Jarvis of Montclair, New Jersey, in this project and whose generosity made possible the completion of this plant. The main building will serve Moslems, Jews, Christians, and all other races which compose the population of Jerusalem.

Newton people will be especially interested because Mr. Walter Heinrichs, the present General Secretary, has many friends in this city. Mr. Charles D. Kepner, formerly President of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association, and Mrs. Kepner, for many years President of the Woman's Auxiliary, are now in the Holy Land and were present at this dedicatory service in Jerusalem.

This week silver cups were awarded to Messrs. Arthur Bills, Edward Worcester, Bruce U. Gardiner, Ralph S. Washburn and Lewis C. Bills, members of the winning team in the Boston Pin Tournament just finished. Cups were awarded also to Dr. George N. Abbott, Holland Hazen, Raymond Clarke, John Joyce, and George L. Hicks who won the Second team prize. The High Average cup went to A. F. Tucker, High 3 String to Paul McKinnon, and the High Single to Edward Worcester.

The Annual Wrestling Championships of the N. E. A. A. U. will be held Saturday at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Competition for first, second, and third places will be held in all of the A. A. U. wrestling classes—115, 125, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175, and heavyweight. Winners in these classes will be eligible to compete in the national wrestling championships of the A. A. U., to be held in Chicago, April 28th and 29th. The New England meet on Saturday at the "Y" is open to all registered amateur athletes.

The Newton "Y" will be represented by: Leo Cormier, a former New England A. A. U. heavyweight champion, George LaRocque, Murdock Weathers, Wesley and Hardy Curran, Henry Parkinson, Joe Santillo, Clifford Benoit, Henry Vachon, William Bellefante, and Tony Paglia.

PLAYGROUND DEPT. ISSUES
PERMIT NOTICES

The playground department has issued the following notices in regard to permits for tennis and bathing as follows:

Notice to Tennis Players:

Citizens of Newton are entitled to the use of the public tennis courts, free of charge, but the regulations require that they secure a permit from the Playground Department at City Hall. Application blanks can be secured at the office of the Playground Commission.

The use of the public tennis courts is subject to a very simple set of rules in order to insure home rule and the largest possible distribution for the use of the courts. Since the license is accompanied by a registration number in the form of a button and since this license number plays an important part in the proper use of the courts, nobody should make application unless they are willing to abide by the rules which require the wearing of the license whenever they are playing.

The charge for the issue of the tennis license is 15c.

Bathing Permits:

Bathing at the beaches under the supervision of the City of Newton is subject to permits. These permits are now ready for issue. The cost for issue of these bathing permits is 25c. The public is urged, particularly those who wish to bathe at Crystal Lake, to make their application as early as possible since a rush involves extra clerical expense. Application blanks are available at the office of the Playground Commission at City Hall.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE

At the Bowdoin Square Theatre, beginning Sunday, April 23, the management puts forth a gigantic program of worth that comprises six selected acts on the stage and features pictures, sure to meet with favor by all patrons. That outstanding film hit, "Rasputin and the Empress" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which serves to bring to view those three American stars of the screen, John, Ethel and Lionel Barrymore. The story is one of historical value and deals with the Russian Rasputin, a powerful man who conquered women including the Empress herself. Another picture is "Parole Girl" with Ralph Bellamy, Mae Clark and others. Wednesday night is bargain night with extra acts. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Bob Emery (Big Brother) in person and his Radio Rascals will be seen.

Adopt Resolution On Heman Burr

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, on motion of Aldermen Pratt, the following resolutions were adopted:—

WHEREAS: The Hon. Heman M. Burr served the City of Newton as Alderman in 1887 and 1888, and as Mayor during the years 1889 and 1890, faithfully, unselfishly and with great ability and distinction, and during all of his life has retained a constant interest in the welfare of the city and its people, and

WHEREAS: the Mayor of the City of Newton and the members of the Board of Aldermen have learned of the death of the Hon. Heman M. Burr on Thursday, April 13, 1933, at his home, 31 Chestnut street, Boston, therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this Board officially extends to his widow, Mrs. Alice E. Burr, and to the members of his family, deepest sympathy, and that this resolution be made part of the official government records of the City of Newton, and that a copy be sent to his widow, Mrs. Alice E. Burr.

GIVEN in the City of Newton, Massachusetts, on this seventeenth day of April, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Three.

By the President of the Board of Aldermen.

ROY V. COLLINS (Signed),
Mayor of the City of Newton,

DRAMATIC CLUB IN WODEHOUSE FARCE

The play chosen by the Newton Dramatic Club for its spring production on Saturday, April 29th, is the hilariously riotous farce by P. G. Wodehouse "Baa! Baa! Black Sheep." It has not been produced in this country, but ran a most successful season in London. It will be presented by the Club in the Newton Centre Women's Club House. The leading part will be taken by Samuel Fuller, Jr., who will be remembered for his excellent work as the comedy king in the Command Performance. Jean Beach will play the musical comedy dancer.

The other members of the cast are: James Clark, Obert Bassington, Carl M. Bigelow, Francis Feeney, Ann Dudley, Cushman Clapp, Elizabeth Follett, Mrs. Farrar Cobb, Merrill Hammond, Helen Morgan, Clifton Follenberg, Spencer DeMille, Mrs. Harold Keller, and Virginia Cameron.

Who is the Black Sheep is not revealed till the final curtain. Probably no English writer has a surer pen for farce than Wodehouse. Assuredly Wodehouse never wrote a funnier story than Baa Baa Black Sheep.

Tribute To Dr. David E. Baker

A beloved physician has been called home. Dr. David E. Baker will be seen on our streets no more; but he walks we believe those streets of the eternal city, a city that standeth four square, whose builder and maker is God. Although the good doctor has been removed from our earthly gaze yet the real essence of his fine brave life is still with us. His radiant spirit and inspiring manner, his kindly heart overflowing with good will still exist. Energy is never destroyed say the wise men of science; and an earlier and equally true writer has said: "The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."

How inadequate is any estimate of a life like his! For half a century he went about our city ministering to the sick, bringing comfort and good cheer and health to many a home in Newton. Often he gave of his rare skill to those in need when no financial return was forthcoming or expected, but only the blessing of a grateful and thankful heart. He loved to minister to the poor and needy and in his fifty years of practice there was many a labor of love rendered.

No one can accurately weigh in any scales devised by man, no matter how delicately balanced they may be, such a life as that. The impalpable, love, faith, hope, goodness, sacrifice, service can only be estimated by the one who taketh up the scales as a very little thing.

How much money did Dr. Baker earn in those fifty years of earnest and faithful devotion to his profession? I do not know. This I know, he had accumulated very large treasure in that bank where there are never any deductions or embezzlements, nor where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal. Oh, yes, in that great bank Dr. Baker's funds were ample and secure.

The doctor believed in public service and gave generously of his time and strength. He served as Chairman of the Newton School Board, President of the Associated Charities, Deacon in the Central Congregational Church and President of the Central Club, and he it was who originated in the Club the annual boy's night.

He had a passionate love for music and the world of nature. In his prime he possessed a rich voice with a wide range; as a member of the Every Saturday Club of Newtonville he often delighted the members with a solo. One of the selections he rendered with particular enthusiasm was entitled, "The Pilgrim's Song" with words from the Russian by Count Tolstol and music by Tchaikowsky. The first verse runs as follows:

My blessing fall on this fair world
On mountain, valley, forest, stream,
The claron winds in ceaseless motion,
And Heaven's blue banner high unfurled.

Dr. Baker had a great love for flowers. The touch of beauty seemed to soothe and nourish his rugged and manly nature. For forty-nine years he went every year in the early Spring to gather the first hepaticas in a quiet and beautiful dale a few miles from Newton, which he had discovered long ago in one of his nature strolls. One year while abroad with Mrs. Baker he gathered some hepaticas near Vienna, thus making an even fifty years of association with this early spring flower. This year due to the backward season he had not visited his favorite haunt, but the morning of the service his two daughters paid a visit to the spot and secured a few hepatica buds as a tribute to him. The wisest man cannot say but what the father knew and appreciated this loving act.

When Dr. Baker entered the sick room he brought with him a dauntless and valiant courage that was most heartening. He grappled with the grim spectres there and his rare skill, judgment and courage won many a victory. He was a skillful surgeon as many a grateful patient can attest.

Now he has left his accustomed earthly path. His physical body we shall see no more. We know that the things that are seen are temporal. We also know that the things that are not seen are eternal. We may have a nearer contact with this good man than ever, for there is a spiritual communion possible that comes from the deepest and truest part of our nature. Lord Tennyson well expressed it in a verse in his beautiful poem entitled "The Higher Pantheism":

Speak to Him, thou, for he hears, and Spirit with Spirit can meet—
Closer is He than breathing, and nearer
Than hands and feet.

A humble poet has also voiced it in "Borderland":

BORDERLAND
There is a mystic borderland that lies
Just past the limits of our workday world
And it is peopled with the friends we met
And loved a year, a month, a week, or day,
And parted from with aching hearts
yet knew
That through the distance we must lose the hold
Of hand with hand, and only clasp
the thread
Of Memory. But still so close we feel this land,
So sure we are that these same hearts
are true,
That when a waking dreams there comes a call
That sets the thread of memory aglow,
We know that just by stretching out the hand
In written words of love, or book, or flower
The waiting hand will clasp our own once more
Across the silence in the same old way.

"What do you mean 80c?"

"I mean 80c for repairs in 21,000 miles.
Boy, that's Terraplaining!"

Eighty cents for repairs in 21,000 miles of driving! Incredible? Well, here's the actual story—and it's only one of hundreds . . .

A. A. Brandon of Wilmington, N. C., delivers 900 lbs. of newspapers and motion picture reels every night on a 240-mile route. In 90 days up to March 21st, his Essex Terraplane had run over 21,000 miles—at a total repair cost of 80c for a fan-belt. That's Terraplane ruggedness and economy—and Mr. Brandon's record is typical of many. The Unit-built Essex Terraplane, according to all available records, is the most rugged and economical full-sized car on the market. Proof? Ask any Terraplane owner.

WHY ESSEX TERRAPLANE MAKES POCKETBOOKS SMILE

No need to take the manufacturer's word for Terraplane ruggedness and economy. Just read the following paragraphs from owners' letters, each backed by a sworn affidavit:

Over 39,000 Miles—No Repair Expense. "I have driven my Essex Terraplane

Coupe more than 30,000 miles in 7 months, and have not spent a cent on it other than gas, oil and greasing. It has averaged around 20 miles to the gallon of gas."—R. A. Willard, Decatur, Ill.

27,000 miles—$26 for Repairs. "My Terraplane has been used on my regular route with 200 stops per day, on mountain gravel roads, with several steep grades. Have driven through snow and slush with water often as high as the bottoms of the doors. Total mileage to date (March 20) 27,575. Total repair expense, $26. Gas mileage, 20.5."—C. A. Walrath, Cig Harbor, Wash.

Rotary Club

"Music is more than an appeal to the ear; it is a universal language, a means of emotional self expression", said Karl Switzer at the noonday meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Brae Burn Club House on Monday.

The program of the day of musical nature was unique and of unusual interest to the members and their friends. In addition to Mr. Switzer, who gave a few beautifully rendered piano solos, the guest artist was Ernest Schleicher, director of music in the schools of Dover and Wayland. Mr. Schleicher, a baritone of fine melodic voice, sang to the delight of those present, "Were I a King" by Speaks, "To the Sun" by Curran, "Kitty O'Toole", by Sanderson, and "Drum-madonn". Mr. Switzer contributed on the piano "Liebestraume" by Liszt and "Reflections in the Water" by Debussy.

JOSEPH AUSLANDER SUNDAY EVENING

Joseph Auslander, one of America's leading poets, will be the speaker at the final number in the lecture course at First Unitarian Church in West Newton on Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Auslander, though still a young man, already has more recognized poetical production to his credit than most writers may hope for during a lifetime. His varied works show an amazing versatility, all of which have been acclaimed by critics. Mr. Auslander is a graduate of Harvard and has taught English at Harvard and Radcliffe for three years. Mr. William Ellis Weston will give an organ recital for thirty minutes previous to the lecture.

SPRING RUMMAGE SALE

The Spring Rummage Sale of the West Newton Community Centre will be held Friday, April 28, opening at 9:15 a. m., at the Portable Club House, Eden Avenue Playground, West Newton. Mrs. Paul Bauder is the chairman in charge of the sale. The public is cordially invited.

Each year, the Board of the Directors of the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., run two sales, spring and fall, the proceeds of which are used to carry on the activities of the organization. Nearly four hundred children and women are members of the Centre and come to it for clubs and classes each year. If you have articles of a salable nature, which you would like to contribute to the sale, send them to the Portable, Thursday morning, April 27th.

MR. AND MRS. LUCAS OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Lucas of 20 Hunter street, West Newton, observed their golden wedding on April 19. The occasion was quietly recognized by a small party of friends at the home. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas lost their only son in the Great War. They were married in the parsonage of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church by the Rev. O. D. Kimball.

LEGISLATIVE DELAY

Recent editorials in the metropolitan press have criticized the legislature for its slowness of action as well as for its attitude upon certain questions. Newspapers as well as individuals are entitled to have and express their own opinions. But the matter to which we refer does an injustice to the legislature as a whole and to its individual members. It has been our privilege to play our small part in the actions of the present general court and we feel qualified to present the situation in the proper light.

The session will undoubtedly be remembered as one which has had before it an unusual number of perplexing and definite problems of vital importance. These problems have contributed to a delay in handling other more routine matters. The present session is considerably behind that of last year and previous years in the number of matters acted upon and it has more matters before it than recent legislatures. Emergency banking legislation, the beverage question, the proposed special election relating to the repeal of prohibition and other unexpected problems have arisen, to say nothing of the important matters affecting the budget, relief of cities and towns from added expense, salary reduction measures and the like. The legislature has been and still is in the midst of major issues. Chief among the more pressing matters are a possible sales tax, a possible tax upon intangibles, possible reduction in income tax exemptions, chain store taxes, investigation bills, legalized gambling at horse races, and other varied and highly controversial matters.

Legislation which is controversial is necessarily slow and the present session is finding it slower than ever. This is largely accounted for through the fact that public hearings have been more fully attended and there is apparently a greater interest in many matters. True it is, that this makes for better government. We would not discourage it in the least. Thus, in considering whether or not the legislature is dilatory in its actions all angles of the situation must be considered. The metropolitan press sometimes, and in the particular instance to which we refer, has, perhaps, misguided public opinion to some extent.

SETTLE THE BEER QUESTION IN JUNE

As we stated in this column last week the Governor would call a special election to name delegates to a Constitutional Convention to consider ratifying repeal of prohibition. This week the Governor signed the bill authorizing such an election and with the advice and consent of the Governor's Council has named June 13th as the day upon which the voters shall go to the polls for this purpose.

A few weeks ago the State enacted a malt beverage act which in Section 19 orders the cities and towns to put the question of beer licenses to its voters. To quote a portion of that section: "If a vote on such question is not earlier taken in any city or town, such vote shall be taken therein at any special state election held prior to the next biennial state election, for whatever purpose called." Thus the beer question in Newton will be determined on that date. Meanwhile we shall have temporary licenses issued by the newly created Newton License Commission.

By Edw. H. Powers

The stench from the Everett chemical manufactory which waited into this city at various times the past couple of years, returned again during the past week. It was particularly obnoxious late Monday night and Tuesday morning, and was strong enough to disturb the sleep of many residents of Newton. Just why the State Department of Public Health permits this plant at Everett to continue this nuisance indefinitely, to the detriment of the health of much of Greater Boston, is something that demands the attention of the vast multitude affected? It's about time State and local authorities took some action on this matter.

In our opinion the Aldermen displayed good sportsmanship in going on record as favoring the sale of beer in Newton. In sharing, as Alderman Floyd said—"The responsibility and criticisms with Mayor Weeks." We believe the Mayor did the right thing in deciding to grant licenses for the sale of beer in this city. Much of this 3.2% beverage will be purchased and drunk by residents of Newton. Owners of Newton stores, struggling against adverse economic conditions, should have the right to the profits which will accrue from such sales. We hope that the American people will drink this light beer as a beverage, rather than the strong, intoxicating, alleged whiskey, gin and other alcoholic stimulants which have become so popular since so-called prohibition started in 1919. But, we have our doubts. The sale of this beer in the Newtons should be confined to established, reputable grocery stores, and markets that sell groceries. If licenses are granted in Newton for the sale of beer to be drunk on the premises, great care should be used by the License Commissioners. If persons of questionable character obtain such licenses, it is easy to expect that more potent liquors than 3.2% beer might be sold by them.

PRINTING TRADE AT NEWTON TRADE SCHOOL

"The World Owes Me a Living"

Quoting Horace Greeley, who had made famous the statement, "Go West, young man, go West", it is only fair to pass along the information that Horace Greeley, like Benjamin Franklin, was a printer and the founder of the New York Tribune. Just before his death he answered those skeptics who always had said "The World Owes Me a Living" as follows:

"How owes? Have you earned it by good service? If you have, you have acquired a just right to a livelihood. But if you have eaten as much as you have earned, or worse still have done little or no good, the world owes you nothing."

Horace Greeley followed printing as his life's work like many great men before and after his time. In all large cities the printing business has long been one of the leading crafts and stands today in the forefront among the city's business enterprises.

It is recognized that a young printer's future is mainly dependent upon the way he is started. If he is taken at the beginning of his career and carefully trained in the fundamentals of the business, he will naturally become a more efficient workman than if he is left to acquire his education haphazardly.

It is generally acknowledged that the modern printing office, with the speed due to sharp competition and the practice of specializing along certain lines, does not provide that training which an apprentice should have in order to become an intelligent, competent workman. The Trade School, properly equipped with a well-planned course of instruction, and under the personal guidance of competent instructors, will lay a better foundation for the future workman.

The aim of the course in the Newton Trade School is to give boys an opportunity to learn and thoroughly understand the fundamental operations of good typographic printing. The school work is practical and the instruction is individual.

The course is broken up into several parts embracing in the shop, book, job, linotype composition and platen press work. Relating Printing or the academic work includes Mathematics, English, Science, Design and Civics.

The Printing Course of the Newton Trade School is organized along lines that meet the demands of both the employer and the apprentice. Some of the advantages are as follows:

- (1) The boy is learning a trade.
- (2) The work is real.
- (3) The boy is under the supervision of an instructor and all instruction is individual.

A brief resume shows that a boy is receiving individual instruction at a good trade school that will enable him to obtain profitable employment.

The world goes on and the boys in trade schools today will be the editors of tomorrow. Advertising, text books, newspapers, fiction, magazines will always be a necessity. The youth of today must be ready and trained to step in and fill the shoes of the men higher up, and the boy who has had that early training obtained in the trade school has a head start on his opponents, because the secret of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well.

Thirteen Day Trade School Printing Departments in Massachusetts have graduated a total of 234 boys in the last five years. Seventy percent of the graduates have been employed, at an average entering wage of $16.71, in the ranks of Massachusetts printers. Next week we will discuss the machine trade.

Under The Gilded Dome

Yesterday the legislature received a message from Governor Ely in which he recommended legislation which would raise and distribute thirty millions of dollars to cities and towns in an effort to keep down local taxes upon real estate. This amount would be raised in several ways and would be distributed in proportion to the assessments levied upon municipalities for the state tax. Ten million would be raised by a general sales tax; two million would be raised by changing exemptions in the state income tax; eight million would be raised from tax titles; nine million would be raised from a tax on intangibles; and one million from taxes on beer.

The Governor made no recommendation as to the form of the sales tax other than it be so constituted as to raise ten million dollars for the balance of the year. The action of the Governor in this direction is a result of the receipt by the Legislature on Monday of an opinion from the state supreme court that such a tax would be constitutional. The tax on beer has already been provided for in the legislation which was enacted several weeks ago.

Regarding changes in the income tax the Governor would eliminate all exemptions except one of $1500 for a single person and $2000 for the head of a family. He would change the income tax law to cover as taxable income, dividends upon the shares of stock in Massachusetts corporations and a change now contemplated in reference to the tax on the shares of certain public service corporations. The addition of the tax upon dividends of Massachusetts corporations would create a source for taxation upon approximately $125,000,000. He characterized the exemption of this source of wealth as unjustified in the present critical times.

The eight million from tax titles was authorized some weeks ago by the legislature in a bill which created an Emergency Finance Board and the raising of this money by bond issue. The Board is directed with the responsibility of loaning money to cities and towns based upon the outstanding tax titles for the previous year.

The Governor further recommended that eight million dollars be transferred from the highway fund to the general revenues of the Commonwealth, a repetition of his recommendation in his inaugural message last January. Since that time the House of Representatives rejected a report of the Ways and Means Committee distributing ten millions of dollars from the highway fund, or gasoline tax receipts, to the cities and towns in an effort to keep down the state tax. The Governor's recommendation in this purpose but does not spend the money upon road work of any kind. The Governor said in connection with this transfer of funds that propaganda against it at this time was unwarranted—that it was essential that the other functions of government be maintained for the protection of the motorist citizens as it is that the highway be enlarged or rebuilt.

In concluding his message the Governor said that his measure, "will bring to the citizens of Massachusetts generally a more equitable distribution of the governmental burden, in particular relief to the home owners and at the same time increase the value of real property, stimulate the real estate market, improve mortgage securities, and generally tend to the advancement of business."

As much of the message as related to taxation was referred to the Committee on Taxation which will hold a public hearing on the matter Monday morning at 10:30. That part of the message relating to the gas tax receipts was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Should the methods of raising the amounts of money recommended by the Governor be enacted into legislation it will mean the elimination of the annual state tax upon the cities and towns for this year at least. This in turn should result in a lowered tax rate by the cities and towns and more equitable distribution of taxes with the state. It is estimated that on the average tax rate of cities and towns of the state it would mean a reduction of from four to five dollars per $1000.

The House of Representatives on Monday refused to reconsider its vote of last week which rejected the proposal to distribute ten millions of dollars from the Highway fund to the cities and towns. Representatives Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted in favor of reconsideration. The roll-call vote was 106 to 116.

The House also voted to sustain the Governor's veto on two measures. The first, exempting veterans of the Spanish war from certain requirements of civil service which had passed both branches but was disapproved by the Governor failed to receive the two-thirds votes necessary to pass the lower branch without the Governor's approval by three votes. On roll-call 149 voted to override the Governor and 78 to sustain him. Rep. Baker and Luitwieler voted to sustain the Governor and Rep. Brimblecom to override the veto.

The second veto message of the afternoon disapproved a bill relative to the powers of certain special police officers in towns. The vote in favor of sustaining the Governor was 101 to 122 which was far short of the necessary two-thirds vote. All three of Newton's Representatives voted to override the veto.

Another matter which brought forth considerable debate on Monday was a resolve providing for an investigation relative to state assistance to veterans in acquiring farms and homes. The resolve was passed on a roll-call 133 to 70. Representatives Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted against the resolve and Rep. Baker was not recorded.

The Senate this week considered the general appropriations bill which caused considerable debate. Sen. Hollis and others sought to have several items reduced or eliminated but were largely unsuccessful. Among the items which Sen. Hollis talked upon were those of a new automobile for the Governor, cash prizes at agricultural fairs, a reduction on the amount for reimbursement of tubercular condemned cattle, an item of publicity and travelling expenses in the Savings Bank Life Insurance department, and one for continuing the work in gauging the flow of water in the streams throughout the state.

By L. D. G. Bentley

If all promises come true the ordinary bottle of 3.2% beer is really a modern Aladdin's Lamp.

Oddments

A victim of the surprise snowstorm last week, I found myself deprived of home telephone service for three days. The resultant silence was peaceful and I suspect the telephone company knew it. They paid no attention for some time to my requests for repairs. Probably thought they were doing me a favor, knowing I like things quiet. Trouble was the operators didn't tell friends who called up that the line was out of order. Don't know why; maybe they thought I wouldn't have any important business, anyway. Had the company been on the job I wouldn't have to weary you with all these uninteresting details. Sorry, but you understand.

Often the advice is given that in face of adversity one should "grin and bear it." In some cases it isn't necessary. Many, in fact, are content to smile when taking it on the chin. I asked a friend of mine, in whose affairs I have a sincere interest, "How is business?" He replied, "Fine, when I last saw it three years ago."

Somehow or other the town of Rehoboth has always attracted me. The name has an odd sound, at least to my ears, and because of that I have rated it, in my imagination, as an unusual place. Never do I remember of having been there, though I have covered many sections of Massachusetts. The other day I asked a friend from a neighboring town, "What kind of a place is Rehoboth?" "Great," came the reply. "You can drive over it all days and not find your way out." This was more than a jocular fling. I found by further questioning, and really a Yankeeism used to describe the tortuous roads which are mainly of dirt it seems, and like those of all rural communities. At any rate, I have made a mental note to have a look at Rehoboth some day. This Summer and learn how difficult it is to find one's way around.

Jobs that Go Begging

Discouraging as it must be to seek in vain for employment, there is also the keen discouragement that comes to those who offer jobs only to have them spurned. However, there is nothing that should warrant a cessation of effort to help. It may be provoking but we owe it to ourselves to continue.

It probably was the grim humor that appealed to me when I read the record of several cases where perfectly good jobs had been turned down for reasons that appear beyond all human understanding. A man who said he was willing to take anything in the line of unskilled labor was told that he could work as handy man on an estate. For this he was to receive $3 a day, carfare to and from work and a noonday meal. Applicant declined when he learned that the man who was to work with him had once been employed in a non-union shoe factory.

Another man was to have a moderate wage, board and room as handy man on a large country place. Shook his head and said that he had been promised a job in a brewery. Never had worked in a brewery, either.

A third case tells of a man who refused three jobs each of which offered $1.25 a day. Applicant said he had never worked for less than $2 a day and never would. Notation on paper says, "His wife is in a hospital and the family is cared for by a religious organization."

Another who had been out of work three months did chores about a private house and garage. After three days he failed to show up, but sent his small boy to take the job. Father found his back lame and declared that the job was too much for him.

The lesson I seem to get from these incidents is that there are two sides to every story and that criticism heard frequently of those who are striving to give assistance should be withheld until all facts are known.

Puzzle Within Puzzle

It would be difficult to find, I feel sure, one among us who has not at some time or other endeavored to locate the missing section of a jig saw puzzle. Some of us are at it all the time, or at least whenever opportunity presents itself, together with a nice big 300-section puzzle, a table on which to spread it and ample time for the task. In speaking of the matter as occasional rather than chronic, I must be permitted a personal reference. The puzzlers in my own case are off and on, although I have sufficient appreciation of the skill of the expert.

It never occurred to me, however, that the puzzle ever went beyond the room where it started. Circumstances have convinced me that I am grossly in error. I have a puzzle of my own and that is the possible explanation of three pieces from a jig saw puzzle which I found in my own pocket. How did they get there? To whom do they belong and what friend (he'll be an enemy after this) is fuming over his incomplete piece and wondering where those blooming, dashed and dotted pieces have disappeared.

Honestly, I am positive I never picked up three pieces of any puzzle and put them in my pocket. Why should I? What I strongly suspect is that there was a joker at some house where I called who thought to "start something" by sneaking the sections off the table and slyly dropping them into my pocket. Frankly, I don't know how to proceed. Shall I

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 23. The Golden Text is: "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved" (Matthew 24:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them; then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. . . . Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed; blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed" (John 20:26, 29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave. Jesus was 'the way'; that is, he marked the way for all men" (p. 46).

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL RECITAL

The pupils of the Claffin Branch of the All Newton Music School will give a recital on Friday evening, April 28th, at 7:30 o'clock. This program will take place in the hall of the Claffin School, Washington park, Newtonville, and there will be violin, cello and piano solos as well as numbers by a string trio and the small orchestra. There is no admission fee for this recital. All lovers of good music and friends of the Music School are cordially invited to attend.

The final concert of the season will be held in the auditorium of the Newton High School on Wednesday, May 24th, at 7:00 p. m. This concert will be given by the whole school—both Peirce and Claffin Branches, and will be open to the public.

About Town

The Ward 1 Improvement Association, which has urged in the past few years that the open part of Laundry Brook, along Jackson rd., be covered, as a sanitary measure, will take more drastic action in the near future. This brook, for the past couple of months has been an open sewer, in direct violation of the State health laws.

Beads of Coral as Charm

The Romans used to hang beads of red coral on the cradles and round the neck of infants to "preserve and fasten their teeth" and save them from "the falling sickness." It was considered by soothsayers as a charm against lightning, whirlwind, shipwreck and fire. Some say it should be worn round the neck of children as a preservative against "fits, sorcery, charms and poison."

NEW RECORDS SET BY ESSEX TERRAPLANE

Breaking A.A.A. record on Lookout Mountain

Rounding the famous "W" curve on Signal Mountain

The Essex Terraplanes pictured above are the cars which broke seven hill climbing records in 5 days over mountainous grades in Georgia and Alabama. They are stock cars taken from the production line at Detroit.

Similar cars on display by Hudson-Exsex dealers in Newton will be used to demonstrate to residents of this city to show how the Terraplanes can soar over the steepest hills in this city. If you desire a real thrill, or want to prove to your satisfaction how the Essex easily takes the stiffest grades on high, arrange for an appointment with the dealers specified in this week's Hudson-Exsex advertisement in the GRAPHIC.

Gas Kills Woman; Two Sons Saved

When Charles H. Wilkins of 11 Endicott st., Newton Highlands, arrived at his home Monday evening from his business office in Boston, he found the house filled with gas which had come from open jets on the kitchen range. In a bedroom on the second floor he found the unconscious forms of his wife and their younger son, aged 4. In an adjoining bedroom he found his 11 year old son, also overcome by the gas fumes. Opening windows, he then phoned Dr. A. R. Fried of Newtonville, who speeded to the house. Dr. Fried summoned the police ambulance and Mrs. Wilkins and the two boys were rushed to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Wilkins could not be revived, but the two boys were resuscitated. The woman had been in poor health and was despondent.

Mrs. Wilkins was born at Boston and had resided at Newton Highlands for 14 years. Her funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at Mount Auburn cemetery chapel.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Federation

The last of the Executive Board meetings of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the 1932-33 Club Year will be held on Monday, April 24th, at 10 a. m., at the Newton Library. A full attendance is desired.

At the March meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, the proposed ballot to be voted upon at the Annual Meeting, which will be held May 1st, was submitted by Mrs. Hiram A. Miller, chairman of the Nominating committee, and was unanimously accepted by action of those present.

The Nominating committee is to be complimented upon the list of candidates they have selected. For president for the 1933-34 season, this committee has submitted the name of Mrs. Charles C. Willson, of Auburndale, who for the past year has filled the office of first vice-president, resigning as a director for that appointment.

Mrs. Willson is well-known for her many activities in club and community work. In 1927 she became first vice-president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, serving until 1929 when she was elected president, her term expiring in 1931, and as president she attended the General Federation meeting at Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Willson has just completed three years on the State Federation committee of Junior Club membership last year as State vice-chairman, which necessitated her visiting and assisting all Junior Clubs in Eastern Massachusetts, and helping in the formation of new clubs. Massachusetts now has sixty-five of these Junior organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Willson make their home at 127 Rowe terrace, Auburndale, and are the parents of one daughter and two sons.

Among her community interests Mrs. Willson is a member of the Girl Scout Committee, in Auburndale drives for the Red Cross Motor Corps is the director in her district for the Needlework Guild, and is choir mother and a member of the choir at the Church of the Messiah.

With her proven ability and wide experience in club and community activities, Mrs. Willson should bring to the Federation a broad vision and a capacity for helpful leadership.

The Annual Meeting will be held on Monday, May 1st, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, where luncheon will be served at one o'clock and reports of officers and election of officers will follow, the business session beginning at 2 o'clock. Club members are reminded that they should reserve their luncheon tickets as soon as possible.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Recent Biography and Fiction will be the subject for the program of Monday afternoon, the 24th, for members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. The meeting will be held at 29 Manchester road where Miss Christine Norton and Miss Marian White will be hostesses. Mrs. Hiram A. Miller and Miss Marian White will present the program.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held this year in the new Club House, on Tuesday, April 25th, at one o'clock. Arrangements for the Luncheon are being directed by Mrs. Harold D. Billings, chairman of the Social committee.

Departing from the usual plan of reading the annual reports, a new idea has been introduced this year. The reports, while stating the activities covered by the officers and various committees, during the past year, will also furnish the entertainment for the afternoon's program. These reports will be dramatized, some in the form of plays, others pantomimed or in tableaux. To make a complete program the Glee Club, always an enjoyable feature, will sing several selections, under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Curtis. Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Drama chairman and Hortense Creede Rallsback are directing the dramatized reports, while Mrs. William F. Fish, Music chairman, is in charge of the musical program.

Newton Community Club

By vote of the members at the meeting on April 13th, the Newton Community Club will hold its Annual Meeting on Tuesday afternoon, the 25th, instead of on Thursday, the 27th, as would be the usual meeting for the fourth Thursday of the month. This change was made in order to enjoy a musical program by the famous artists, Arthur Fiedler and Jesus Maria Sanroma, at two pianos, as these musicians were unable to fulfill the engagement planned for Thursday, due to a concert which was arranged for which they are under contract—Brahm's Festival planned by the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

At 2:30 p. m. in Underwood School Hall the business session will be held, including election of new officers and the annual reports of committee chairmen.

The musical program will follow and then tea will be served by the Social Committee, of which Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson is chairman.

A Rummage Sale, to add to funds needed for the Scholarship and other Club expenses, will be held at Newton Corner on the two days, April 28th and 29th.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Art committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles K. Badger, has arranged a visit to the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, under the guidance of Mr. Carter, on Tuesday, April 25th. All those interested please communicate with Mrs. Badger, C. N. 1357M.

The Annual Concert by the Newton Centre Woman's Club Chorus will be held Wednesday evening, April 26th, at 8 p. m. Mr. Walter Kidder, baritone, well known in local circles and familiar as a radio artist, will be the soloist. Two violinists will furnish obligato accompaniments for the Chorus, which Mme. Apolline Blair will conduct. Club members and their friends are invited to enjoy this community event. There is no admission charge.

On Friday, April 28th, at 2 p. m., the last regular business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be followed by a Dramatic program. Mrs. James Mitchell and her committee will present "An Oriental Fantasy." Part One will include incidental music from "Madame Butterfly," played by Kathryn W. Ford; a reading, "An Aria," and a Duet from "Madame Butterfly," given by Ruth D. Welch, Gertrude Cummer, and Dorothy M. Waite and Gertrude Cummer, respectively; and "An Oriental Interlude," by Barbara and Joan Mitchell.

Part Two will be a Chinese play, "The Turtle Dove," by Margaret Scott Oliver, with a reading, "Marion L. Waterman, Freda A. Nilsen, Mary E. Hallet, Gertrude Cummer, Katherine Wilkins and Beatrice Eastman; accompanied by Kathryn W. Ford.

Those responsible for the success of the program besides Mrs. Mitchell are Mrs. H. E. Wilder, coach; Mrs. B. D. Nickerson, Prompter; Mrs. L. H. Schall, Properties; Mrs. W. H. McCabe and Mrs. M. D. Liming, costumes; Mrs. A. S. Richards and Mrs. H. M. Sutton, stage; Mrs. H. R. Keller, Dressing Room; and Mrs. G. F. Sargent and Mrs. Mitchell, make-up. Tea will be served following the program, with Mrs. Richard H. Norton and Mrs. H. R. Keller serving as hostesses.

Residents of Newton Centre, not members of the Club, will not be admitted to this program.

All will be glad to hear and of special interest to the children, is news that on Saturday afternoon, April 22nd, the Newton Centre Woman's Club will sponsor another program of Moving Pictures for Children, Charlie Chaplin in "Easy Street" and a "Mickey Mouse" cartoon are among the pictures to be shown, at 2 p. m. Admission is 25 cents.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, the 25th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Club House, Mrs. Herbert Farrier is chairman of the day. There will be a buffet lunch, followed by an entertainment and election of officers.

On Friday, the 28th, the Art committee will hold a Scholarship Bridge at the Club House at 2 o'clock, to benefit an art student, directed by Mrs. John D. Heibek, chairman of the committee.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

A gala and happy occasion will close the Club activities Tuesday afternoon, April 25th, at the Congregational Parish House. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock. An opportunity will be given to meet all of the past presidents of the Club in the ladies' parlor just before the luncheon.

The Annual business Meeting will open at 2 o'clock, and this will be followed by an entertaining program, "A Short History of the Club in Black and White," which will be put on by the Art committee, with the aid of the Music and Dramatic committees. Important events in the history of the Club, its founders, and its presidents, will be shown in shadow pantomime.

Tickets for the luncheon must be obtained before April 21st, from Miss Hildur Bloom, Mrs. Westford M. Taylor, Mrs. Thomas I. Goodwin, or Mrs. O. C. Mackay.

The Newton Highlands Woman's Club Chorus directed by Mrs. Florence Hale Ginn, will present an evening of music for club members and their friends on Sunday evening, April 30th, in the Club Workshop. A trio from the Highland Glee Club, of which D. Ralph MacLean, is director, will sing a Mozart number which was included in one of the concerts of this Glee Club this season.

As additional surprises to these two choruses, Mr. John Tullock, Jr., Tenor soloist, will sing a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Simonds, and Mrs. Maurice Reidy will play a group of piano solos, as well as act as accompanist for the Chorus numbers.

The program will be concluded by the "Chorus singing Clay Speaks" "Morning" and "By the Waters of Mattitunka."

Refreshments will be served by the Music committee, with Mrs. Robert Flansburgh and Mrs. Ray Kelley in charge.

There will be a basket collection, to assist financially.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday, April 26th, the Community Service Club of West Newton will hold its Annual Meeting with election of officers at 12 o'clock noon, in the Second Church of West Newton, followed by the Annual Luncheon at one o'clock, of which Mrs. C. H. Lippincott is chairman.

The afternoon program at 2 o'clock opens with a group of songs by the Club Chorus, under the competent leadership of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury.

Miss Olive Macy Appleton, who has a high soprano voice, will be heard in solo numbers, for which the president of the Club, Mrs. Frank S. Tower, will preside as accompanist. A delightful feature of the afternoon's entertainment will be the presentation of Zona Gale's one-act play "The Neighbors," by a group of students from Leland Powers School, under the direction of Hortense Creede Rallsback.

Social Science Club

The Annual Meeting of the Social Science Club will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Wednesday morning, April 26th, at 10:45 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at 12:30. The guest of honor will be Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson Habicht, who will talk about her life in Geneva.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club, on Friday, April 28th. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harry S. Wells is chairman of the Day.

State Federation

ANNUAL MEETING. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the speaker on Tuesday afternoon, May 16th, at the Presidents' Luncheon which will be the opening activity of the State Federation Annual Meeting to be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, on May 16th, 17th, and 18th.

Mrs. Poole's topic will be "Getting Acquainted with the General Federation" and tickets for the luncheon, scheduled to take place at 12:30 o'clock, may be reserved with Mrs. John J. Jennings, chairman of Meetings.

An extensive program, featuring Juniors' Night, Tuesday; and Governor's Night, Wednesday, has been planned, with vice-presidents of the State Federation presiding during various meetings. Tuesday evening's program will feature a parade for district directors and Juniors, a banquet for Juniors, and a program at which Mrs. Poole will be the guest speaker, and a musicale will be contributed by Juniors, assisted by the State Federation Chorus. Trumpet selections will be played by Miss Elaine Liset; Miss Inez Arvillo will be the cellist; and Miss Besmondia Fortino, member of the Italian Woman's Club Juniors, will be the pianist.

Dr. Samuel Graff, editor of the "American Aristocrat," will address the assembly at the Wednesday afternoon meeting, his topic being "Staging a Comeback"; and Governor Joseph B. Ely and Mrs. Ely will be honor guests Wednesday evening, when past presidents of the State Federation will speak, and "Paola and Francesca" will be interpreted by Adele Hoes Lee and Nicholas Stominsky.

The election of officers and the reading of officers' annual reports will feature the closing session Thursday morning.

ANNUAL CARD PARTY. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, president of the State Federation, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, Mrs. John H. Kimball and Mrs. Fred B. Gross were guests of honor at the Annual Card Party sponsored by the Cooperation with War Veterans' division, Mrs. Walter S. Woods, chairman, held at the United States Veterans' Administration hospital, Northampton, last Wednesday afternoon, from 2 to 4:30 o'clock. Miss Isabella R. MacShane, recreational aide, was hostess for the affair, and Dr. Dobson, medical officer in charge, greeted the guests. Attractive decorations, candy and nuts, prizes and favors, were among the features of this delightful affair.

RADIO. On Saturday morning, the 29th, Mrs. William H. Piper will speak as chairman of the Child Welfare Division, his topic being "The Future Generation." Another committee chairman, Miss Marian C. Nichols, of Civil Service and Citizenship Training, will speak on "How to go about Getting a Civil Service Job." Music will be furnished by Leonard Wood, violinist, and Edwin Blitcliffe, pianist.

Tomorrow, the 22nd, as already announced, over the same station, WJZ and at the same time, 11:30 to noon, Miss Helena Shipman, chairman of International Relations, speaks on "Implementing the Kellogg Pack," and a playlet will be given by the West Roxbury Woman's Club.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Herbert H. Blair, the retiring President of the Newtonville Woman's Club, recently entertained the members of the Executive Board who have served during her term of two years, at a very delightful luncheon, in the Social Hall of the Club House. Forty guests assembled for the luncheon, which was served at small tables, attractively decorated, and each guest received a pansy favor.

After luncheon, contract was enjoyed and jig saw puzzles were provided for those not playing cards. The lucky ones who received prizes of spring bouquets were Mrs. Royal Packer and Mrs. William Vosburgh for contract; Mrs. Henry J. Baringer for auction; and the jig saw award went to Mrs. Harry Harwood.

FELLOWSHIP PLAY

May 6th is announced as the date for the play "Down By the Sea" to be given by The Young People's Fellowship of St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands. This changes the date from May 5th as previously announced.

Mr. Arthur Logan is directing this group in their last production of the present season. The cast includes some old favorites including Kemp Lambert, Edgar Swail, Sewall Logan, Jack Allen, Martha Swail Benson, and some of the newer actors among the young people.

The play is given in connection with the 5th anniversary of St. Paul's Church and serves as a fitting revival of a play first produced in 1896. The director's skill in bringing out the quaint touches together with the spirit of present day drama promises an evening of worth while entertainment.

Proceeds of the play are used to carry on the work of the Young People's Fellowship.

WEEKS' PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETING

The next meeting of the Weeks Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, April 25, at 8 o'clock. The annual election of officers for the ensuing year will take place at this time.

After a short business meeting, the time will be devoted to a consideration of a phase of the junior high work which is frequently misunderstood, "Fads and Fills Versus the Three R's."

The following speakers from the School Department will explain the nature of the work of their respective departments: Mr. Edward N. Griffin, Director of Vocal Music; Mr. E. Ewing Wilson, Director of Physical Education and Health; Mr. Fred H. Daniels, Director of Art; Mr. Charles R. Spalding, Director of Instrumental Music; and Paul E. Ellicker, Principal of the Newton High School.

During the evening there will be vocal solos by Mr. Griffin. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of parents at this meeting to listen to the discussion of this important subject.

W. C. T. U. GETS FIGURES FROM WELFARE BUREAU

The Newton W. C. T. U. has recently examined the records of the Newton Welfare Bureau as to the effect of prohibition on its work and have found the following facts:

The records of the Newton Welfare Bureau in 1917, before prohibition, showed 390 families were being looked after and of these 90 were more or less in trouble because of drink. In 1929 the number of families in Newton receiving aid was 408 and of these only 11 were troubled by drink.

Here are the figures: 408 families—1929, 11 complicated by drinking; 390 families—1917, 90 complicated by drinking.

HORTENSE CREEDE RAILSBACK AT NVILLE METHODIST CHURCH

A Monologue, a short skit and two one-act plays, under the direction of Hortense Creede Railsback, is the program of the Dramatic evening at the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church on next Friday evening, April 28th, at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Railsback, who is Mrs. Walter Railsback of Mt. Vernon street, Newtonville, is a graduate and former member of the faculty of the Leland Powers School and as a dramatic reader and coach has well known ability.

The artists who are appearing with Mrs. Railsback in the plays are Millicent Stanger, managing director of Boston Players, Florence Landers, Mollie Westcott Lathrop and Patricia Pulver, all of whom are professional readers and graduates of the Powers School, Gladys McGill, Madeleine Barrett and Drucilla Guiry, well known clubwomen in Newton. The male parts are taken by Samuel Tuthill of the Copley players and Peabody playhouse and Cushman Clapp, also of the Copley players.

The two plays, "Double Solitaire," by C. Antoinette Wood and "Neighbors," by Zona Gale, were recently given by these players at the 47 Work Shop in Cambridge, and will be given by them at the May program of the Professional Woman's Club of Boston.

The monologue is given by Mrs. Railsback. This program is sponsored by the Woman's Association of the Methodist Church and the committee for the evening are Mrs. Ernest Railsback, president of the association, Mrs. Frank E. Morris, Mrs. Carl Ell, Mrs. Howard Thomas and Mrs. Herbert Stevens. The guests of honor of the evening are to be the Young People of the church.

Tickets for the Dramatic Evening may be obtained from the above mentioned women of the church from the group chairmen, at the church office and at the door the evening of the entertainment. Tickets for adults are 50 cents.

FREE CLINICS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

Newton U. P. Falls—May 10, 3:30 P.M.

Stearns School—April 27, 3:00 P.M.
Jassett Street—May 4, 3:00 P.M.
Nonantum—May 11, 3:00 P.M.

Bowen School—April 28, 3:00 P.M.
Langley Road—May 5, 3:00 P.M.
Newton Centre—May 12, 3:00 P.M.

It is hoped that these clinics will meet with a general response from parents of young children, and that all who attend will return the children for all of the necessary three doses in order that the treatments may be effective.

Recent Weddings

RAND—GATH

Miss Janet Gath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gath of 22 Jenison rd., Newtonville, was married to Ellis Rand of Marshfield, Mass., on Saturday evening, April fifteenth at the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Lawrence Emig performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lillian Hicks of Newtonville was the maid of honor. The best man was Russell Baker of Hartford, Conn. Joan Wade of Wellfleet was the flower girl and Walter Wade of Newton Centre the ring bearer. The ushers were Arthur and Harry Gath, Jr. and brothers of the bride. John Wilson of Brighton and Leon Kingsley of Marshfield.

A reception was held in the church immediately after the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Rand left on a wedding trip to Bermuda. After May first they will make their home in Marshfield, Mass.

SWAIL—BENSON

Amid decorations of Easter lilies and fern with soft candle light, Miss Martha Valentine Swail became the bride of William Russell Benson of Cambridge, in St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, on Easter Saturday, April 15th, at 8:30 in the evening.

The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Chas. O. Farrar, Mr. Geo. Loud was the organist and Emery N. Leonard, violinist.

The bride wore a simple gown of white crepe, with a cape and white hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was given in marriage by her brother in law, Donald D. Blackington of Needham. Miss Alice Thompson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Thompson was the bride's only attendant. She was gown in hyacinth blue with white hat and carried pink roses. Edgar S. Swail, brother of the bride was best man. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. V. Swail of Newton Highlands.

No formal invitations had been mailed out but friends had been invited to attend the church service. A reception for the family and close friends was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Malcolm T. Cummings of Newton Highlands.

for the Shakespeare Club on Saturday, the 15th.

The work, "Review of Pericles," and comparisons with other plays, was in charge of Mrs. A. L. Pratt, whose wealth of knowledge of Shakespeare's plays, enabling her to be readily conversant on the individual characters as well, furnished a most delightful afternoon, replete with interest and enthusiasm.

The picture of fatherly affection of Prospero's love for Miranda, and of Pericles for his daughter Marina. Shakespeare's love for his favorite daughter, Susanna, may have inspired these plays.

The loyalty of friendship between men was illustrated by that of Pericles and Helicanus, and by Camillo and Pallicanes in "Winter's Tale," and the selfish jealousy of Dionysia was compared with that of Goneril and Regan in "King Lear," and Iago in "Othello."

Marina in Shakespeare's hands is a glorified being, and he brings her with unspotted innocence out of the most terrible situations. The whole personnel is like that of Isabella in "Measure for Measure" whose genuineness in her robes of spotless purity has never been disputed.

The study of Shakespeare's works as presented for the program, added valuable information to these students' knowledge of the great dramatist.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

The Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held their Annual Meeting for the election of officers at the Iris Garden House in Newton Lower Falls, where a delicious dinner was served. The Club owes its thanks to Miss Dorothy Enwright and her committee for the delightful program and other arrangements. Mrs. Victor Ratsburg, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, director and assistant director, respectively, and Mrs. Earl Brackett, Senior Club president, were present.

The Club has enjoyed a very pleasant year under Mrs. Ratsburg's direction and the Club members are very grateful for everything she has done for them. She has been asked to take the directorship again for the coming year, and it is hoped that Mrs. Ratsburg will accept.

The newly elected officers are: Miss Elizabeth Benckes, president; Miss Doris Ratsburg, factotum; Miss Betty Mills, recording secretary; Miss Priscilla Hay, corresponding secretary; Miss Lorna MacDonald, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Brackett, press correspondent; Miss Dorothy Enwright, auditor; and Miss Helen Brandt, keeper of the scrapbook.

The retiring officers are Miss Kato Rhodes, president; Miss Elizabeth Benckes, recording secretary; Miss Harriet Hadd, corresponding secretary; Miss Virginia MacAlear, treasurer; Miss Betty Harris, press correspondent; Miss Betty Mills, auditor; and Miss Doris Ratsburg, keeper of the scrapbook.

The Club has been urged to attend the Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, on May 16th. Junior's Night will be on Tuesday, and the Junior presidents will speak, and there will be a banquet for the Juniors and district directors. Juniors will furnish the music, and Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will be a speaker.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Theron B. Walker, president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, gave a very delightful tea at her home on Bowdoin street, on Tuesday afternoon, April 18th, to the members of the Executive Board. Mrs. Hiram A. Miller and Mrs. Frederick T. McGill poured, and Mrs. Harry B. Bradford and Mrs. J. Jarvis Preble assisted in serving.

Newton Community Club

A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by members of the Newton Community Club and their friends at a Desert Bridge and Fashion Show, held in the Hunnewell Club Parlors, on Monday, April 17th.

Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, as General chairman of the afternoon, was assisted by Mrs. X. Nolan, Mrs. C. T. Pierce, Mrs. Margaret Tyler, Miss Phyllis McKee and Miss Jean Morrow.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, as president of the Newton Community Club, expressed her gratitude to all who helped to make the affair such a charming party and great success.

Former Newton Boy Killed at Quincy Quarry

Hugh Lawrence, 16, of 29 Gilmore st., Wollaston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Lawrence formerly of Newton Highlands, was killed Wednesday afternoon in a quarry at West Quincy by a large stone, which either was hurled, or fell from the top of the quarry, nearly 175 feet above. Young Lawrence, who moved to Quincy with his parents some months ago, had descended to the bottom of the quarry with a boy friend, John Smilie of Wamesit rd., Waban. Smilie said that before going down into the old quarry, they had noticed a man and a boy near the top of the pit. The piece of rock which hurtled down crushed young Lawrence's skull. Smilie climbed the 175 foot ladder to obtain aid. Several youths and girls later admitted they had thrown the rocks, one of which killed Lawrence.

Driver Crashes Into Greenhouse

Lee Woolston, Jr., of Mossfield rd., Waban, was the alleged driver of a car which on Wednesday night collided on Centre st., Newton Highlands, with a car driven by William Taylor of Watertown. Woolston's car then crashed into Quint's greenhouse, breaking some plate glass windows. Woolston was badly cut on the head and was taken to the Newton Hospital. He was there technically placed under arrest by Serg. Sheridan on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

ANOTHER POLICEMAN HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Patrolman Lawrence O'Donnell of the Newton police was hit last Friday night by a car driven by Alfred Houser of River Ridge rd., Wellesley. The accident happened at the corner of Washington and Bacon sts., Newton. O'Donnell received a fractured right ankle and other injuries. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Houser said he did not see the policeman until the car hit him.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

"Character Education and the Church School" will be the theme of the District Annual Convention to be held this year on Saturday, April 29th, afternoon and evening, at the Newtonville Methodist Church.

"Experience as a Factor in Character" will be the topic of an address by Professor Howard M. LeSourd of Boston University. "The Place of Religion in Character" will be presented by Dr. J. W. F. Davies, Administrative Secretary of the "Institute of Character Developing Forces," being held this week in Boston.

Complete programs will be announced next week, including the separate Young People's Section under the auspices of the Inter-church Young People's Council.

Supper at the Convention will be served at 6:30 p. m. by Mrs. Melvin V. Clay and her committee from the Methodist Church.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

President Ernest Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth College will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Dartmouth Women's Club, April 26, to be held at the Women's Educational Club, Boston. The musical program will consist of soprano selections by Mrs. Hannah White, a member of the club and Miss Leona May Smith, trumpet soloist. Marguerite Norton will be the accompanist.

Mrs. Joseph R. Byram, chairman of reception, will be assisted by Mrs. Alex. D. Sallinger and Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt at the tea table.

ribbons, and Miss Barbara McKissick in white net, carrying a large bouquet of tallisman roses. These beautiful flowers, which were donated by the Miller Rose Company, Great Plain ave., Needham, added greatly to the picture and were very much admired.

Other models were Mrs. F. Sayford Bacon, Mrs. Raymond G. Coppins, Mrs. Robert A. Cox, Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, Mrs. Albert B. Hinkle, Mrs. Elwood A. Howe, Mrs. Arthur B. Nash, Mrs. John X. Nolan, Mrs. C. T. Pierce, Mrs. Margaret Tyler, Miss Phyllis McKee and Miss Jean Morrow.

Flees After Crash

About 7:30 Monday night a car, driven by Isadore Rogozin of Garland rd., Newton Centre, was hit by an other car on Washington st., Newton, near Copley st., Newton. The second car hit a tree and overturned. Rogozin went into a nearby house to telephone for assistance and when he came out again, the driver of the other car had vanished. The wrecked car was registered to Chester Dunlap of 207 Brown st., Waltham. Three hours after the accident Dunlap reported to the Brighton police that his car had been stolen. Newton police have been investigating this matter.

Alcoholic Beverages Was Live Subject In Newton Sixty-Two Years Ago

There Were Many Famous Hostleries In City In Early Part of Last Century

A Boston newspaper last week had an article relative to the issuing of licenses in Newton. It stated that Newton had been dry for 144 years. Obviously someone had misinformed the writer of the article. Old residents of Newton, living in the city today, remember when liquor was sold in the old Nonantum House at Newton Corner, well into the 70s of the last century.

The old Nonantum House, for generations a landmark at Newton Corner, was located on land which was once owned by Richard Dummer, grandfather of Governor William Dummer. Dummer sold this land to William Clements, Jr., and the latter in 1669 sold it to Daniel Bacon. In 1799 Gen. William Hull purchased the site and erected thereon a brick residence. Hull occupied this place until 1805 when he went to Michigan to become Governor of that territory. The building was then occupied by Susanna Rawson, who conducted therein the first seminary for females in the United States. In 1837 the property was purchased by John Richardson, who added wings to the mansion house and started a hotel there. This hotel was a favorite resort for wealthy Bostonians, who came there to spend weekends and their summer vacations. So popular was the hotel, that its limited accommodations were overtaxed and some of the guests had to be lodged in the homes of nearby farmers. Newton Corner was then a beautiful country village with groves of stately pine trees covering the slopes of Nonantum and Brighton hills and extending to the bank of the Charles River.

Richardson was succeeded as owner of the hotel by a man named Marshall. It was known as the "Peacock Tavern," and in front of it swung a signboard on which was painted a picture of the showy bird for which the place was named. Later the hotel was conducted by John Davis, a military man and a member of the Ancients and the Lancers. About 1850 the hotel was purchased by Abel Harrington and he conducted it for about a score of years. Later, Mr. Harrington and his sons ran the Oregon House at Hull, but the Boston & Worcester Railroad had made Newton easily accessible to Boston and the attractiveness of the place had caused it to become increasingly popular as the location of residences of Boston business men. So, the popularity of the hotel waned, and in the late 70s of the 19th century it was converted into tenements.

Before the Boston & Worcester Railroad reached Newton Corner in 1835, the village was known as Angier's Corner. It was named after Oakes Angier, who in 1731 bought property near the site of the Nonantum House and built thereon an inn which he conducted successfully for over 50 years. His trade came largely from farmers and drovers traveling to and from the markets at

In the early 19th century the principal building among the group at Angier's Corner was the tavern of Joseph Bacon, located about where the bank building now stands. There was much traffic through the village then by farmers and drovers going to the Brighton cattle fairs. Nearby, at the Corner, was Murdock's store where much New England rum was sold. It cost only 50 cents the gallon, and nearly every farmhouse had its barrel of rum; this stimulant being quite freely consumed in those days, even by the most respected of people. The farm hands stopped work at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. to get their portions of rum. As they worked practically from sunrise to sundown, they believed they were entitled to some stimulant.

West Newton, formerly known as Squash End, had as one of its pioneer settlers John Fuller, who was a maltster. He owned about 1000 acres of land stretching along Cheese Cake Brook. At Houghton's Corner, at the junction of Washington and Elm sts. was the old colonial tavern. The old building which housed this tavern and the giant elm spreading above it stood until a few years ago. Lafayette visited this tavern in 1825. The tavern went out of business in 1833 when the brick hotel was erected on Washington st., opposite Chestnut street, and for many years following this hotel dispensed malt liquors and rum to the thirsty. Other old taverns in the town were located at Newton Highlands, and at the triangle between Washington and Wales sts., Lower Falls. This latter was once conducted by Colonel Ephraim Jackson. Tavern keepers in the old days were men of standing in the community, and prominent in church activities.

The temperance movement in Newton started in 1648, when John Elliot, the first missionary to the Indians, sent a petition to the General Court asking that the sale of drink to the Indians be restricted to one "ordinary" in Boston. Public houses were then known as ordinaries. On December 15, 1826 a temperance association was organized in Newton, probably the first in New England, with the exception of one formed at Andover. Weekly meetings were held and the society established a library of several hundred volumes at the academy in West Newton. It also started an Institution for Savings, which evolved into the Newton Savings Bank. In March 1853, the citizens of Newton at a town meeting, voted not to license anyone to sell intoxicating liquors. On April 1, 1862, the Selectmen of Newton issued a certificate which appointed a citizen as the agent in the town for the sale of spirituous liquors under the laws of the Commonwealth. On September 6, 1870 the town voted to prohibit the sale of ale, porter or beer in Newton, but this vote was repealed on May 2, 1871.

Organize Protest Against Sewage in Laundry Brook

Claimed Dumping Necessary To Prevent Flooding Cellars

Residents of Jackson rd., Newton, and nearby streets are taking concerted action against the health menace and nuisance caused by the continual use of Laundry Brook for sewage disposal purposes. For nine weeks past much of the sewage of this city has been flowing through this brook. Laundry Brook is covered for most of its course from Bullough's Pond to the Watertown line, but, near Dexter rd., Newtonville, and for a couple of hundred line, but, near Dexter rd., Newtonville, is open. A number of houses on Jackson rd. are close to the brook, together with houses on Wiltshire rd. and Pearl st. Not only have residents of these houses been subjected to the flowage of sewage by their homes with the unsanitary condition this creates, but they have had to view the very objectionable features which accompany this use of the brook.

It has been necessary to divert sewage into the brook to prevent scores of house cellars in Newtonville and Nonantum from being flooded. The existing sewer system is not sufficient to carry the volume of sewage and ground water the past couple of months. For several years past it has been necessary to divert sewage into the brook at times during the late winter and early spring months. This year, because of the excessive rainfall, the situation was even worse and the pollution of the brook more, and for a much longer period.

Protests have already been sent to the Street Department and to Mayor Weeks and the matter will be brought before the meeting of the Ward 1 Improvement Society on May 3rd. Residents on and near Jackson rd. have for years been asking that this remaining stretch of the brook be covered. Not alone as a health measure but to prevent drowning of children. In recent years, before the brook through Boyd Park was covered, two children were drowned in it there. Several small children have had narrow escapes at Jackson rd. After heavy rains the brook becomes a deep torrent. Although the new high level sewer, now being built, will care for sewage disposal, except under some extraordinary condition, those demanding the covering of the brook contend that there is always the possibility of sewage escaping into it. They cite as proof of this the fact that a few summers ago sewage was entering the brook for six weeks from a connection on Washington st. Some of those protesting are going before the State Health Department with this grievance.

Gets Five Years In State Prison

James P. Young (colored) of Curve st., West Newton, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Collins in the Superior Court at Cambridge to serve from 5 to 7 years in State Prison. He was found guilty of having assaulted and robbed Francis McNeil of Prospect st., West Newton on March 2. McNeil went to Young's home on that date and bought a drink. Afterwards, Young hit McNeil with a blunt weapon and knocked him unconscious. He took his victim to a Boston Hospital, claiming McNeil had been hit by an automobile. McNeil was unconscious at the hospital for two days and it was feared his skull was fractured. He had been robbed of $8 by Young after he was assaulted. When McNeil recovered, he informed Arthur McCarthy, an officer of Newton Post, American Legion, of the circumstances of the affair and the latter told the Newton police. Dist. Attorney Bishop asked that Young be given a heavy sentence and specified from 3 to 5 years, but Judge Collins thought Young deserved even more than that, and gave it to him.

Borrows Money At Three Percent

Newton, unlike many cities can still borrow money for temporary loans. On Wednesday the city was loaned $250,000 by the Merchants National Bank of Boston at a rate of 3%. Last month the city borrowed $250,000 at 3.02%. The money will be used for the running expenses of the city and is borrowed in anticipation of this year's revenue.

Improved Housing, Farming Project by Relief Committee

Community Chest Makes First Of Series of Reports

Two projects of an unusual nature have recently been incorporated in the program of the Mayor's Relief Committee. The first is a Housing Improvement Campaign modeled after a plan used in Buffalo and some other cities with great success, as a means of giving employment to a number of men and also stimulating spring business in the housing improvement field. The second is a farm project on a 70 acre tract of land made available through the courtesy of Arnold Hartman and John A. Janse of Oak Hill.

More than 40 men are now employed by the Committee on its housing improvement undertaking to solicit home-owners to make necessary repairs and additions now. All business secured is then turned over to the Committee to local contractors and individuals who are both capable of doing the work and in need of the business. Thus the plan is devised to have a doubly beneficial effect, with a further benefit to be anticipated in those instances where the men employed to solicit business may be able to secure permanent positions.

The farming project will also give employment during the summer to a considerable number of men, and the produce raised will be available for distribution next winter among families in need of food. Staple produce, such as potatoes, turnips and carrots will be raised, and arrangements are being made for adequate cellar space for storage.

The Committee also reports that there has recently been some increase in the number of inquiries received from prospective employees, and that as a result several men have been placed in positions.

Mount Ida Tunnel Boring Completed

At 7:55 Monday morning a blast of dynamite 150 feet under Mount Ida, beneath a point about at the corner of Bellevue and Claremont sts., Newton completed the boring of the tunnel which burrows under that big hill. The accuracy of the work of the engineers of Metcalf & Eddy, under Arthur Shaw of Auburndale, who has been engineer in charge of this project, was proved by the fact that the lateral difference between the bore from Shaft 3, starting from Mount Ida st., and the bore from Shaft 4 on Langdon st., 2150 feet distant, was but a half an inch. This tunnel was completed well ahead of schedule. The tunnel under Tremont st., from a point opposite Hibbard rd. to the Brighton line, has also been completed, as far as the excavating is concerned. The pouring of concrete to complete this tunnel will be started next week. The concrete will be brought ready mixed and will be forced into the tunnel by compressed air from a large hopper at one of the shafts. The blasting of the short section on Mount Ida st., between the shaft and Centre st., is expected to be finished the end of next week and then work of pouring concrete into the bore under Mount Ida will start.

Teachers Added to H. School Faculty

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night it was voted to increase the faculty of the Newton High School by four teachers. This action was deemed necessary because of the increased number of pupils at the school. Two of the teachers were selected Monday night. They are Miss Ruth Twiss, transferred from the Weeks School, and Miss Alice Haworth. The former will teach commercial subjects. Miss Haworth will teach English. The other two teachers will be selected at the next meeting of the committee. Four teachers for the grade schools of the city were also appointed. They are Stuart Dean, special assistant at the Cabot School; Miss S. L. Mitchell, building assistant at Hyde School; Marguerite Hatch, special assistant at Rice and Bowen schools; Dorothy Stauty, assistant at Ward School.

Judge Reserves Decision on Police Pay Cut

Counsel Says 10 Per Cent Contribution Sufficient

The legal fight of the Newton police against the 7½% pay cut put into effect by Mayor Weeks on January 1st was continued in the Newton court on Monday before Judge Abner Braley. The police were again represented by Attorney George A. McLaughlin, and the Mayor by City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett argued that the amount of unpaid taxes had increased from 1930 to 1931 the city had sold 247 parcels of property for unpaid taxes and last year 570 were sold. He said that in 1932 $114,000 listed as collected in taxes was represented by tax titles, thus showing the inability of many persons to pay their taxes. Mr. Bartlett said that the State tax is bound to increase, and the income of the city from the State will decrease. He asserted that the city has received decreasing amounts from excise taxes the past 3 years. He stated that nearly every one has suffered large decreases in income, wages and salaries, that wages of State employees are to be reduced, that salaries of Federal employees have been lowered much more than those of Newton's employees, and that the citizens expect city employees to share in the conditions of the times to a reasonable extent. He called attention to President Roosevelt's statement that the cost of living has been reduced 21%.

Mr. McLaughlin, counsel for the police, said that 90% of the police in this State have made voluntary contributions of 10% and more from their salaries to help their various communities and that the Newton policemen's offer of a 10% contribution should have been accepted by the Mayor, rather than forcing the matter into courts. McLaughlin argued that the policemen did not have their salaries increased proportionately during the boom years, but now during less prosperous times persons who owned Rolls Royces in past years want the police to share their misfortune. Replying to Bartlett's contention that the City of Newton has had to advertise hundreds of parcels of property for non-payment of taxes, McLaughlin said that the city did not lose money because these taxes were paid by the mortgagees. He credited Mayor Weeks with having displayed executive ability by reducing the tax rate, but he argued that the low tax rate last year was largely due to the diversion of $400,000 from the Excess and Deficiency Fund, and that much of this amount had been accumulated before Mayor Weeks took office.

Mr. McLaughlin said that the value of the dollar has dropped considerably because of President Roosevelt's action in taking this country off the gold standard so that the purchasing power of the city employees' salaries has decreased. He said that although prices on foods and clothing have dropped, other costs of home maintenance remain high, and interest on mortgages is still at the old rates. McLaughlin contended that Mayor Weeks' action in reducing the employees' wages and salaries was actuated by his ambition for future political advancement. Judge Braley commented that this phase did not interest him and the case would be tried on law and evidence. The judge said he would reserve his decision on the matter until he studied all the evidence presented.

Newton Boy Killed Falls Off Bridge In Front of Train

Edward G. Pearson, 10, son of Ezra and Marjorie (Wilson) Pearson of the Church st., Newton, was killed Wednesday afternoon in a peculiar accident. According to the account given by his brother Walter, 11, the two boys were walking over the railroad bridge at Washington st., Newton Corner, when Edward's cap blew off. In trying to recover the cap the boy was hit by the 5:15 train bound for Boston. He was not observed by the engine crew on the train. Walter Pearson ran for assistance and the young victim's body was found near the St. James st. bridge. The boy is survived by his parents and four brothers.

Asks Questions About City Paying For Land At West Newton

Ex-Alderman Powers Seeks Information Regarding Land Where New Police Building Was Erected

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen on April 17, a public hearing was held on the taking by right of eminent domain of land at West Newton on which the police headquarters building of the City of Newton is located.

Former Alderman Edward H. Powers asked President Collins of the Aldermen who had petitioned for the taking of this land. Collins replied that the Public Works Committee of the Aldermen have asked for this land to be taken by right of eminent domain. Powers said that as a member of the 1930 Board of Aldermen he was one of the two members of that Board who had opposed the action of the Aldermen that year in favoring the locating of the police building at the triangle site at Newton Centre, where it was proposed to have it included in the City Hall group. He said that Alderman Bowen and himself had contended that the police building should be located at West Newton, and that subsequently the Board reversed its decision and decided to have the new structure erected on its former site. The former alderman outlined the history of the land which it is now proposed to take by eminent domain.

This land was formerly the site of the Second Congregational Church. In 1917 it was purchased by a group of West Newton citizens and on August 3rd of that year these citizens in a declaration of trust designated new trustees John S. Alley, George J. Barker and Charles E. Hatfield. On Feb. 25, 1918, the land was deeded to the City of Newton with the proviso that within 30 years from October 1, 1917 it be used as part of the site for a new city hall. Subsequently Mr. Alley died and Henry B. Day was chosen trustee to succeed him.

Several years ago the city, at a cost of about a quarter of a million dollars, purchased a large tract of land at Newton Centre as a site for a new City Hall. In 1930 Mayor Weeks proposed to the Aldermen that the long delayed building of the much needed new city hall be proceeded with, and the Board agreed with him. Then a final attempt was made by West Newton residents to have the new municipal capitol built on the site of the old city hall, and on land adjoining. A meeting of the Aldermen called to consider this matter evidenced that the majority of the Board favored the Newton Centre location. Shortly afterwards the Middlesex County Commissioners purchased two lots of land on Cherry and Elm sts., West Newton, as the site for a new court house. A little later the Aldermen voted to petition for authority to borrow outside the debt limit to finance the building of a new city hall and war memorial at the "triangle" site in Newton Centre. Negotiations were then started with the County Commissioners to have the new court house erected on Washington st., instead of on the side streets where the county had bought the two parcels of land. The county officials agreed to deed these two lots to the city in exchange for a court house site on Washington st. The first plan of the new court house and police headquarters showed the former building on the site occupied by the former church building, which had been converted into a city hall annex, and had been occupied by the Public Buildings Department. This plan, submitted by James Ritchie, the architect of the two buildings, showed the new police building located on the site of the old police building, on land owned for many years by the city; this land and building in past years was the site of the old Pierce School. This plan was shown to the Aldermen on December 1, 1930. At this same meeting a recommendation was received by the Aldermen from Mayor Weeks asking that $9000 be appropriated to tear down the city hall annex (the old church building) and to move the old police building.

At the hearing on April 17, Mr. Powers stated that before the Aldermen made this appropriation they had been told by Mayor Weeks that he felt assured that the donors of the old church property would agree to the use of this land for the public building proposed, instead of a new city hall. On February 16, 1931, the Aldermen voted to authorize Mayor Weeks to convey to the County of Middlesex land occupied by the old police station in exchange for the two parcels on Cherry and Elm sts., purchased some months before by the county. The plans had been changed altering the locations of the court house and police building. The former was to be erected on the city-owned land, and the latter on the land donated under a restriction by the group of West Newton people.

Continuing, Powers said that on March 16, 1931, the Aldermen, at the request of the Mayor, appropriated $115,000 for the erection of the new police building on the old church site. He stated that he voted for this appropriation in the belief that the consent of the donors had been obtained, in accordance with the assurance which had been given to the Aldermen. Had he been aware that this agreement had not been made, he would not have voted to have the police building erected on a lot which subsequently must be paid for, when the city owned a large lot of land adjoining, then occupied by the old city hall. He said that he did not doubt Mayor Weeks' sincerity in this matter, as the latter had, in his 1931

Kiwanis Club

Half an hour of side-splitting Scotch and Irish stories, preceding a five-minute sermonette by the Rev. John Nichol Mark of Arlington, furnished entertainment and instruction of unusual character at the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club yesterday, in the Charles River Country Club. The speech of the famous Unitarian minister was one of the best delivered before the Newton Club this season. Many guests were present.

The Rev. Henry Van Dyke's poem "The Compass" formed the basis for Rev. Mark's talk. The "four points" of this famous poem were repeatedly stressed and made a deep impression on the Kiwanians.

After-dinner stories, descriptive of many points which rolled from his lips with a rich Scotch burr, prepared the way for the serious side of his discourse. The witticisms came in rapid fire, more than a score of them, all rather cleverly blended, so that the Kiwanian response was more or less a continuous applause.

He closed by repeating Van Dyke's "Compass," outlining the "four things a man must do" if he would—

To think without confusion clearly.
To love our fellow men sincerely.
To act from honest motives purely.
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

Day Jr. High School

Under the skilful direction of Miss Irene Wilson, division IIB presented "Elmer," at the last assembly before vacation. The leading part was taken by Arthur Kenney who was supported by Florence Seegitz, Maybeth Gibson, Virginia Schwer, Norman Whitney, Sophia Wright, Yvonne Goethel, Harry Gough, Barbara Hamlin.

Jean Sullivan, Patricia Spaulding and Edward Temple spent a vacation in New Hampshire. Doris Mergendahl visited in Vermont and William Welsh journeyed to New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Results of the inter-room boys' basketball games gave the championships to Room 20 for the seventh grade, Room 23 for the eighth grade and Room 26 for the ninth grade.

Boys' Varsity basketball letters were awarded to Richard Buck, Ralph Salvucci, George Whitehead, Allan MacQuarrie, William Daniels, Amato DeLuca, Domenico Pecorari, Peter Donovan, Tony Prata, Clarence Benedict, Norman Whitney, John Reche, Alfred Colletti, Lloyd Walker, Clarence Cormier, William Kinney, Richard Whitney, Harry Gough, Daniel Colletti, Alfred Farina. The squad has shown excellent attitude, team work and co-operation.

United States ranger, Mr. C. N. Nichols, was the guest speaker at the assembly on April 26th. He illustrated his talk with films and slides of the Yellowstone and Mt. Rainier national parks.

The honor roll for the third quarter has been announced. Of the 83 pupils whose names appear, 41 have been on the list all the year.

Warren Jr. High

Warren's last assembly was commemorated to Paul Revere. The program was in charge of Marjorie MacNaught. After the thrift report, read by Molly Soule, a radio play, "The Three Riders" was given. Several readings were rendered by Helena Allen, Noel Allen, Barclay Feather, Edward Paul, and William Cowel. Arthur Hiscoe entertained with a vocal solo. At the end of the program the boys remained for a talk given by Mr. Forbes, principal of the Trade School.

COLBY JUNIOR COLLEGE NEWS

The Colby Honorary Varsity Basketball teams have been chosen and the Newton girls elected to the teams are as follows: Miss Jane Sandora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Randolph of 30 Tarleton road, Newton Centre; Miss Doris Bauckman of 306 Dedham street, Newton Centre; Miss Alice Jack, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Jack of 379 Austin street, West Newton; and Miss Florence Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett A. Greene of 1038 Centre street, Newton Centre.

The Colby Junior College Athletic Association is also sponsoring a gym exhibition on Saturday, April 29. This day will be given over to the various activities of the Physical Education Department. Each girl in Colby will participate. Miss Doris Bauckman of 306 Dedham street, Newton Centre, is acting as general chairman of the exhibition.

The newly organized Spanish Club of Colby is planning to present "A Romantic Young Lady" by Gregorio Martinez Sierra, author of "Cradle Song." The cast includes: Miss Alice Thompson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Arthur Thompson of 114 Walnut street, Newton Highlands; Doris Bauckman of 306 Dedham street, Newton Centre; and Margaret Chandler, daughter of Mr. Stanley W. Chandler of 55 Morse road, Newtonville.

Each year a prize speaking contest is held at Colby sponsored by the Burpee Prize Speaking Fund. Miss Margaret Chandler daughter of Mr. Stanley W. Chandler has been chosen to speak in the semi-finals.

Rotary Club

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The tenth anniversary of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday was fittingly observed by the club members and their guests when Frank D. Taylor, past president of the Watertown Rotary Club, gave an inspiring address on "The Aims and Objects of Rotary." He said in part, "As in the Bible, the book of truth, the length, breadth, and height of Rotary are equal, well balanced, shapely and pleasing. The purpose of Rotary is to unite men in friendship and understanding, not to make us all alike, but to give us unity as we are. Like the materials for a building, the architect, Rotary, molds us and unites us, each serving in our capacities to make a beautiful and serviceable unity. Rotary does not necessarily impose prohibition in life but it recognizes acceptable limitations. Rotary does not wish to transform men but to teach truth and foster faith in government, in institutions, and in ourselves."

The club was honored with five of the past presidents—Ira S. Roe, Cecil W. Clark, Charles D. Ansley, Edward Mellus, and the founder and first president, William T. Halliday.

At a short business meeting the club elected the following directors for the year 1933-1934: Lyson A. Bruce, Jr., John J. Cahill, Harry H. Hanson, Raymond Lang, Walter McCammon, A. Norman Needy and Horace W. Orr.

B. C. CLUB BREAKFAST WELL ATTENDED

Opening its activity with church services and Communion Breakfast attended by 200, the newly organized Boston College Club of Newton had an auspicious start in life Sunday. The services at Our Lady's Church, Newton, were at 9:00 o'clock with Rev. Fr. Russell Haley celebrating the Mass and having a part of his sermon on the great possibilities of the organization. The breakfast following took place in the auditorium of Our Lady's High School.

Noted speakers were among those to address the membership, including Rev. Fr. Michael J. Ahern, S.J., director of the Catholic Truth Hour, and head of the chemistry department of Weston College, who urged the membership to take a forward step in Catholic action. Charles F. Hurley, state treasurer, gave an address in the course of which he advocated a national banking system to rediscant sound mortgages held by local banks to prevent bank closings through inability to make liquid their assets.

Rev. Fr. John A. Tobin, S.J., of Boston College, invoked the divine blessings and voiced appreciation of being selected as chaplain for the club. Dr. William T. O'Halloran, president of the club, officiated as toastmaster, welcoming the guests and remarking on the enthusiasm shown as a sign auguring well for the new club. Other speakers included Rev. Robert Mantle, representing the Rev. Lawrence Slattery, pastor of Our Lady's Church; Alderman Bernard D. Farrell, vice president of the club, and chairman of the committee in charge; John A. Tobin, president of the B. C. Alumni Association; Henry Smith, treasurer of the B. C. Alumni Association; Charles Harrington, president of the B. C. Club of Cambridge; Frank McCrehan, baseball coach; Edward O'Brien, well-known football referee, and Paul Fitzgerald, grand knight of the Newton Council, K. of C.

Assisting Committee Chairman Farrell in supervising details of the arrangements were: Treasurer Francis Frazier, Secretary John F. Desmond and a large committee, previously announced.

It is planned to hold a dance some time in May.

Daly Post V. F. W.

At a regular meeting of the Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daly Post No. 2384, V. F. W., held on Monday evening of this week Commander David L. Keefe appointed a Finance Committee consisting of the following comrades: Christopher J. Norton, chairman; Ray Adams, Edward Hildreth, Earl Eames and John Riley.

A large delegation of the Post will journey to Milford tomorrow to participate in a parade in that town in conjunction with the 104th Infantry, 26th Div., A. E. F. reunion. Officer of the Day, Arthur L. Gaw will be in charge of the colors at this observance.

Comrade Martin Stanton has been selected as chairman of committee in charge of a real old fashioned Dutch Supper to be conducted in May.

The membership committee under the leadership of Comrade George McNamara as chairman will soon start drive for new members, as there are several hundred eligibles residing in Newton, that have not "signed up" as yet.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Gertrude Lockwood of Clark st., Newton Centre, is chairman of the committee from the Business Women's League which is arranging for a Pop Concert to be held in the Lee Auditorium on Friday evening, April 28. Paul Shirley will conduct his Little Symphony Orchestra Group, and Walter H. Kidder, baritone, will be the assisting artist. The proceeds will go to benefit the Boston Y. W. C. A.

Steel-tape measurements prove that the Essex Terraplane has more leg-room, head-room and hip-room than any other low-priced car.

But inch-superiority does not measure the true comfort of Terraplane seating arrangements.

Cushions are thicker and are shaped to fit the figure, springs are more resilient. The driver's seat may be pushed backwards or forwards several inches to accommodate both long "Lincoln-legs" and short "Napoleon-legs." The steering-post, with five adjustments, can be raised or lowered to the most comfortable position. This means a car almost individually tailored to fit you.

These comfort-provisions, added to thermostatically-controlled, two-way shock-absorbers, airwheel tires, long sprayed springs and lowest center of gravity, make Terraplane-riding as comfortable as arm-chair-sitting.

DREAMER-PROPHET NEEDED FOR LEADER

Says Poet, Auslander Speaking in West Newton

Following a most cordial introduction by the pastor, Rev. Herbert Hitchen, as a fitting speaker on the anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare and of the death of Rupert Brooke, Joseph Auslander gave the final number in this season's series of lectures and recitals at the West Newton Unitarian Church on Sunday evening. By his strikingly picturesque personality and his serious, thoughtful demeanor, relieved by scintillating touches of humor, the youthful poet fascinated his audience as he led them into the land of "The Dreamer" and his "Winged Horse-sense."

Mr. Auslander asserted that he was proud to be a dreamer. "The dreamer," said he, "is the only real realist. Had we had a little more of the dreamer at Washington, we might not have had this collapse through which we are now struggling. We need the statesman who feels compassion for the oppressed, who can believe because it is unbelievable; one unbound by narrow nationalism, a prophet and a poet." "Christ was a dreamer and spoke in poetry."

With apparent emotion, he read his poem, "Words," which he said was his first writing printed, published by the Atlantic Monthly when he was still a student at Harvard. From his second book he read "The Pearl Maker," after the remark that "Anything I have written which is worth a nickel has been written because I had to write it." "The Pearl Maker," he said, represents the pain and oppression of an idea in the mind of the poet which pains and harrows his soul until he must write to free himself.

He next read "Ulysses in Autumn," explaining that he wrote it one summer when he could not get away for his customary sea voyage. He said he sublimated his desire for the salt water by going with this old wanderer down to his ships by the sea.

He closed the recital by reading a poem by John Masefield and as an encore read a poem he wrote as an introduction for Mr. Masefield when he spoke in New York recently.

At the close of the lecture Rev. Hitchen announced that he hoped that another course may be given next year.

MUSICALE

An informal Musicales will take place on next Sunday afternoon, April 30, at 5:30 p. m., in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newtonville. The program was postponed from February, first because of inclement weather and later to avoid conflict with the Newtonville Union Lenten services. The adjective "informal" attempts to describe the solo and ensemble numbers, including well-known classics, which are planned to provide an enjoyable three-quarters of an hour for the general public. Albert F. Jackson, Baritone; Anton Kovar, Violinist; and R. Lawrence Capon, Organist, will take part. The organ is a four manual Hutchings and one of the finest in the city.

"600 MILES A DAY IN OUR TERRAPLANE WITHOUT FATIGUE"

"Our return from Washington, D. C. to San Antonio, a distance of 1850 miles was completed in three days and a few hours. The thing that struck my fancy most was that we could drive 600 miles a day, enjoy a night's rest, and continue next day without fatigue that usually accompanies such a drive."—R. E. W., San Antonio, Tex.

SIMILAR PROBLEMS

Premier Ramsay MacDonald on Wednesday evening broadcast a message to the American people that was well worth the attention of every citizen. We were particularly impressed with several of the thoughts expressed by the British statesman. First that American economic problems affecting unemployment, low prices, and the like are similar to England's, when stripped of local influences. Second, that the way to everlasting peace is not through war—there can never be a war to end war. Third, that we can be friends with other nations through mutual understanding and forbearance. Truly the way to international peace is not through stilted and formal documentary signatures, but through recognition of the human element.

Under The Gilded Dome

Considerable interest was manifested this week in the public hearings before the Committee on Taxation regarding Governor Ely's recommendations for a tax program calling for a sales tax, tax on intangibles, reduction in income tax exemptions and other means of providing revenue aimed at the reduction of the state tax burden upon cities and towns. There is a general opinion of uncertainty regarding the possibility of a favorable report on the sales tax by the committee. On the other hand it is more or less expected that the tax on intangibles will be accepted while the reduction in exemptions on income taxes will probably encounter a severe test in the Senate, at least, and its passage somewhat doubtful.

Should the sales tax be reported favorably by the committee or be substituted for an unfavorable report and be accepted by the Legislature it will provide for a 1 cent tax per dollar or fraction on practically every commodity sold. At just what fractional part of the dollar the tax will become effective is one of the major points in question. The only exemptions expected under the law, in addition to those articles which come below the minimum price set, are for gasoline and malt beverages now taxed. The tax will not be pyramided but will only be levied once, on the final retail sale to the consumer. The consumer will pay the tax through provisions made to prevent absorption of the tax by the retailer.

The law is very similar to that recently enacted by New York except in the matter of exemptions.

The stealing or misappropriation of the Sacred Codfish has provided a topic of considerable interest this week. It is believed to be a college prank and may be restored shortly although various clues to date have proved valueless in solving the mystery.

Governor Ely signed the general appropriations bill this week which takes care of the state's budgeted finances. In its final stages additional appropriations of $25,000 for expenses of the State Liquor Commission, $4,000 for the expenses of administration of the emergency finance board, and $12,500 for the completion of the State pier at the Cape Cod canal were made.

An amendment to the so-called Parliamentary bill for legalizing betting at horse races was adopted under which the entire matter will be put upon the ballot at the special election on June 13th. The bill, first reported favorably without a referendum by the Legal Affairs committee, was referred to the Ways and Means committee some time ago. This committee reported favorably upon the bill but imposed a referendum to be on the ballot at the State election in the fall of 1934. The new amendment, which was offered by Rep. Derham of Uxbridge and who has been active in seeking its passage, was made possible as Governor Ely had set June 13th as the date for a special election to name delegates to the Constitutional Convention to ratify or reject repeal of prohibition. The Derham amendment went to a roll-call vote with Rep. Baker voting in favor and Representatives Brimblecom and Luitwiler against its adoption. The total vote was 142 to 82.

The bill reducing salaries of county employees in similar fashion to that enacted regarding state employees met with considerable opposition and lengthy debate. On a roll-call vote with Newton's three representatives voting in favor of its passage 149 were in favor and 75 against.

On Thursday the House met at one o'clock and remained in session until nearly five o'clock with a lengthy calendar before it. Four adverse reports of committees were substituted. The first of these dealt with a report of the committee on Banks and Banking giving leave to withdraw on a bill to subject the sale of securities of public utility holding companies to state supervision. The bill was substituted on a rising vote. Another report of the same committee for leave to withdraw on a bill providing that savings banks be prohibited from investing in securities

THE MACHINE TRADE AT THE NEWTON TRADE SCHOOL

New England has always been recognized for the skill and ingenuity of her machinists. Many of the mechanical inventions so commonplace today were conceived by Yankees. Today there is more variety of mechanical work in New England than in any similar area in the country. Massachusetts employed over 45,000 machinists in 1929.

The machinist's trade is a man's trade; offering the thrill of construction and mastery of huge mechanical monsters or the master-craftsman's skill in the fabrication of accurate, sensitive, mechanical devices of precision and delicacy.

For years it was customary in this, as in other trades, for a boy to serve a long apprenticeship in one or several shops. This method taught the boy by having him perform the many different phases of machine work. If he wished to learn the "why's and wherefore's" connected with the trade it was necessary for him to study, either at home or in evening classes.

Today, the modern trade school offers an opportunity for boys to learn the fundamentals of the Machinist's Trade together with the essential related scientific and mathematical facts pertaining to that trade.

The trend of modern mass production has been to create an ever increasing number of specialized machine operatives with a corresponding decrease in the number of skilled all-around machinists. The old-time machinist who prided himself on his ability to perform any or all tasks of a mechanical nature has become nearly extinct. True, the ramifications of machine work have branched out in so many directions that it is rarely one finds a real all-around man.

Yet it is possible to teach the boy of today enough of the fundamentals of the Machinist's Trade to enable him to enter the industry, backed up with a carefully planned and thoroughly taught foundation. Such a boy has a tremendous advantage over his untrained brother.

The Machine Course of most Trade Schools is the very backbone of those schools. Why? Because so many boys and their parents recognize the widespread opportunities for a boy properly trained in this trade. In this day of modern machinery the field of opportunity is almost unlimited. Machinery, as we all know, does a thousand and one things formerly done by hand. Machines must be built, they must be repaired and serviced; all these require skilled mechanics.

The Machine Course of the Newton Trade School is arranged to enable the boy to learn those fundamentals most desirable to a prospective employer. The shops are clean, light and well equipped with modern machine tools, most of which are individually motor driven. Real machines are built by the boys. The parts are made and the complete machines are assembled and "run in" by the boys. The boys are taught to make the drawings and blueprints used in making these machines. Real factory production methods are simulated as closely as possible and the boys are constantly reminded of the time element in connection with all work.

All work in the shops and classrooms is under the supervision of experienced tradesmen, trained in the profession of teaching their knowledge to the boys. The method of instruction is individual, permitting each boy to progress as rapidly as he is able.

Machines there are, and machines there will be in the years to come. The better machinist of today is the foreman of tomorrow, and the foreman of today is the superintendent of tomorrow—perhaps the owner of his own busy little shop.

Trained boys make better mechanics; trade school training is the best in its field—that of fitting for profitable employment upon graduation.

Of 667 boys graduated from machine departments during the last five years, 73% of these found employment in the trade at an average entering wage of $19.00 per week. It pays to be trained as a machinist! Next week we discuss the Automobile Course.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A veteran employee at City Hall suggests that it would be both practical and sentimental to move the bell from the tower of the old City Hall to the tower of the new City Hall.

Things are so topsy-turvy that our government is somewhat at a loss to know just what to do. Some of the extreme measures which have been taken in the efforts to end the depressing condition which is now in its fourth year, seem reasonable. Other radical steps must surely follow. Some of the relief measures suggested appear ridiculous. In our opinion one of these is the proposal to retire on pensions all Federal employees who have been in the service over 30 years. This would mean that many thousands of men about 50 years of age would be forced to retire and accept pensions. Such men comprise the most experienced and efficient employees in the various Federal departments. To force them into retirement from their positions would not only seriously impair the efficiency of the various branches of government activities, but would put these men (and women) into competition for jobs with the millions of people already unemployed. Men in their early 50s who entered the service young, would be forced to retire. Men over 60, who entered the service when over 30, would retain their positions. Sensible, isn't it?

Dolly Gann's articles in the "Sunday Globe" about her social activities as "brother's" official hostess, including the question of social priority, are amusing to some of us. They show how supposedly honest to goodness, democratic American citizens, not alone the "aristocrats" from cities, but small town girls, like "Dolly", try to "put on the dog."

The brewers are doing more to discourage the sale of the new alleged 3.2% beer than all the prohibition advocates in the country. The brewers are so anxious to make hay while the sun shines that they are going to have plenty of cloudy days ahead. They are shoving the beer out as fast as they can mix it, without giving it time to ferment, and instead of this malt liquor being a palatable beverage of 3.2%, it is a flat, somewhat bitter concoction containing 1.35% or less of alcohol, and it has as much kick as a rheumatic toad. We haven't much sympathy for those who are protesting about this beer not being up to the strength or quality it is supposed to have. Anyone who is easy enough to buy it, particularly at the prices now charged, deserves little sympathy.

And the hopeful persons who have been rushing to procure beer licenses, probably will be able to realize how the fellows felt who put money into miniature golf courses. It will take some time to undo the resentment created by disgruntled drinkers of the sorry imitation of real beer which has been foisted upon the thirsty.

A Boston newspaper, which interviewed members of License Commission in various cities regarding the weak beer now being sold, quoted Mr. Gorinkle of the Newton Commission as saying that licenses of dealers in this city would be revoked if it will be found they are selling beer which contains less than the supposed alcoholic content. What are the storekeepers supposed to do? Have expensive chemical analyses made of the beer? They are not to blame if the brewers push out stuff as fast as it is made. The members of the Commission need not worry much about the beer being under standard. New breweries which will go into business, and a disappointed crowd of purchasers of the phony beer will correct the situation.

If the "inside stuff" of the strenuous efforts which have been, and are being made by politicians and supposed statesmen of Massachusetts to prevent the exposure, prosecution and just punishment of the bank wreckers in this State, were revealed, the people of this Commonwealth would have a rude awakening, and there would be some fallen idols. In the meanwhile the thousands of victims of the defunct banks are suffering the pangs of poverty.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The present period of National reconditioning has diminished the ranks of those who used to tell us what was going to happen next. All guesses are off.

Oddments

Razzing by his office pals is often the lot of a young man when his contemplated marriage becomes a matter of common knowledge. The tormentors usually exhibit grotesque ideas of humor, few of which hit the mark. It is all well-intentioned and that's about the best that may be said of it. Yet now and then a bit of originality is displayed and therefore is worth repeating. In an office which I frequently visit they have a sort of notice board where all who work may read. Occasionally something unofficial makes its way there. Last week one of the staff became engaged and the newspapers duly chronicled the fact. Somebody clipped the announcement and pasted it upon the board, with the caption, "Another welfare case."

Reference has been made in this column, with as much acid as could be gathered on my pen, to theatre ushers who wait until you are comfortably seated and then command you to "Rise, please." No doubt it is necessary to their system of seating patrons. When it happens to you several times during an evening your supply of patience is threatened. Over in Cambridge at the University Theatre they do something I have never before encountered. After the request is made and you comply, the usher says, "Thank you, sir; or 'Thank you, madam.' A neat bit of politeness that goes a long way. Credit goes to Stanley Sumner, the manager, who used to be in Newton and whom we miss.

One-man cars are now operated on the Newton-Brighton Elevated trolley cars evenings and Sundays. A saving practice and no doubt, and necessary. But what a puzzle it makes for passengers. When the car stops they bolt for the back door, if it closed and then clamber breathlessly on the front end. The traveling public in consequence is more or less mixed-up, but as far as that goes who isn't these days?

The Happiness of Horror

As a matter of truth the cold weather of April didn't upset me half as much as it did a lot of people. I found the rainy evenings propitious for reading from an immense volume called, "The Supernatural Omnibus." Never have I encountered so extensive a collection of stories about apparitions, witchcraft, were-wolves, diabolism, necromancy, satanism, divination, sorcery, voodoo and ghosts. It is not a scientific work but a book containing some of the best fiction of several centuries dealing with the most engrossing of grizzled experiences designed to send chills up one's spine and stand one's hair on end.

Long ago I first exhibited my craving for these yarns. They seemed to be part of the heavy rain that beat against the glass and the accompanying wind that rattled window frames, slammed doors and snatched off dead limbs of trees. The sense of security that came of locked doors, brightly shining lamps and ample warmth invited the mood. If some grown-up had a narrative to relate that was packed with dread there was no more attentive listener than I. The more I shuddered with horror the greater my enjoyment. Tiptoeing to bed I used to lie quietly, but wide awake. Too scared to stir, listening for the slightest noise and fearful lest some unforeseen circumstances should some day find me in a haunted house, I marveled at the self-possession of those brave and daring souls who faced ghastly surroundings and did not lose their reason.

The same "kick" still remains for me. My aging mind and bones continue to respond to the weird and mysterious, the ghoul and inexplicable. All of this, of course, carries with it the stipulation that the tale be well told. I insist that it be the writing of a master. Such stories are never convincing unless presented by a gifted writer.

When hear somebody say, "How foolish!" If so, I must contradict. One's imagination is useless, if you ask me, unless fed a bit of spookiness now and then. Not as a diet but as spice or seasoning in a world of monotonous materialism. Please don't tell me I'm wrong.

Forgotten Keepsakes

A good wife knows her husband's failings and respects them. For that reason she permits him to keep framed or unframed, or both, flashlight pictures taken at class dinners or gatherings of business, political or fraternal bodies. In the average household I'll wager they have tucked away a dozen or so such souvenirs.

Every house-cleaning season—and one is now on if I am not off in my reckoning—sees a collection assembled for the lord of the manor to pass upon. "Are you sure you want to keep these?" his wife asks, intimating plainly that she can't for the life of her understand what earthly use they can be.

"Oh, yes," comes the prompt response. "These mean a lot to me. A woman doesn't understand such things."

"Well," she demands, "where, for instance, was that one taken?" He doesn't answer for a minute, but studies the print, wondering what it represents. Finally he smiles, with a dawning recollection of a clambake to which he was invited and where under the spell of goodfellowship he subscribed $2 for a photograph.

"Yes, that's me," he exclaims with pride, pointing to a figure in the second row half-concealed by the men each side of him. "We had a great time that day. I'll never forget it."

"And this one," snaps his helpmeet, thrusting before him another photograph.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 30.

The Golden Text is: "Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?" (Job 31:3.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord; but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness. Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way; and he that hateth reproach shall die. . . . The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath" (Proverbs 15:9, 10, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The sinner makes his own hell by doing evil, and the saint his own heaven by doing right. . . . Perfect and Infinite Mind enthroned is heaven. The evil beliefs which originate in mortals are hell" (p. 266).

NEW EDISON MANAGER AT NEWTON

Announcement was made this week by the Edison Company of Boston of the appointment of Frank H. Wentworth to the post of manager at the Newton Centre store, succeeding John H. Kent, who has been transferred to the company's Needham office. The changes thus effected are part of a general reassignment of merchandising men in charge of Edison shops throughout the metropolitan Boston area. Mr. Wentworth was formerly located at the Edison Company's Winchester office, and brings to his new post a broad knowledge of modern electrical merchandising methods and practices coupled with a long experience in the electric utility business.

"That one?" he mutters. "Now where was that taken? Oh, yes, yes, I remember; I'd like to keep that one. Don't mind me, dear, if I am sentimental."

"And this one, and this one," she pursues, ruthlessly. "More sentiment, I suppose. And you never look at them and never think of them until I dig them out. How do you expect me to keep a house clean while all sorts of things like these are allowed to accumulate."

"Can't you put them aside for a little while," he pleads, "I'll go over them and see what ought to be thrown out." She is a good wife, as I have said, and an understanding one, so she softens and says, "Oh, very well, but I'm sure they'll still be around the next time we clean house."

He doesn't answer; he knows she's not a false prophet.

VISITORS WELCOME

INTEREST OF WOMEN

HAS RAISED STANDARDS

OF CONSTRUCTION

Maud Brodrick, designer and builder of more than 60 homes in Newton, Weston, Waban, Wellesley and Milton has been the guest of honor at a home building, for whom a woman, a woman's needs in a home.

Her latest architectural masterpiece is a home of Tudor type in the Manor House road development in Newton Centre, and is the best proof of her own statement that "women have a natural aptitude for home building."

"The increased interest of women in the fundamentals of construction has raised the standard of modern home building," says Mrs. Brodrick. "Forming a sentimental attachment for a house, however lovely it may be, no longer influences Mrs. Home Seeker. She must see value for her money. She is informed on topics like modern plumbing and heating systems, knows the labor and saving devices and has learned to look deeper than the 'powder and paint' when selecting a home. She appreciates intelligent planning; the closet and wardrobe space; the kitchen efficiency, and even before she goes into repairs over a color scheme, the graceful curve of a staircase or the view from the library window, she wants to know how the heater performs, whether there is a thermostat control and a humidifier. And can you blame her? She has to manage this 'big business' of home making and manage it efficiently."

After months of research the latest development in the field of automatic refrigeration has at last been introduced to the public with announcement of the new Electrolux gas refrigerator — entirely cooled by air and requiring even less gas than formerly.

Here are some of the many features made possible by the new development — absolute silence; defrosts without stopping; quick trigger release for ice cube trays; temperature regulator by which, with the turn of a dial, varying degrees of coldness may be secured. Two-temperature chilling units guarding against sudden changes in room temperature.

In addition to lowering cost of operation, by elimination of water and reduction in the amount of gas used, the initial prices of the air-cooled Electrolux are now much lower than formerly.

OIL AND OIL BURNERS

Convinced that oil for heating residences and large buildings is already well established and destined to increase rapidly the Stetson Fuel Company, of 839 Boylston st. Boston, is acting as distributor for Heil oil burners and for fuel oils for every use.

The Heil oil burner is built for economy, efficiency and durability. It gives complete combustion, and so materially lessens the labor and expense of cleaning. This type of oil burner can be installed in any type of heating system, steam, hot water, vapor, or warm air. Frederick B. Walker, of the Stetson Fuel Company, is well known in the Newtons as former owner of the Bracket Coal Company.

The company carries a complete line of Florence kitchen range oil burners.

Better fuel oils for Greater Boston is the motto of the Stetson Corporation. Their oils are specially treated at extra cost to eliminate odor. Special refining features produce material that will vaporize and gasify more readily, thus permitting complete combustion and clean burning, which always leads to higher efficiency and greater economy. The oils distributed by the Stetson Corporation are uniform, thus minimizing adjustments and avoiding unnecessary expense and loss of efficiency.

Call Commonwealth 9865 for a sample of the Stetson range oil or trial order of Stetson fuel oil.

DAMON HALL NEWS

The announcement was made today that the commencement play and pageant will be "The Palace of Knossos" from the pen of Elizabeth Fadden. This work is based upon the tradition of the Minotaur in the Labyrinth in the island of Crete, to whom fourteen Greek youths were sacrificed each year. The liberation by Theseus from this dreadful fate by killing the beast and escaping from the Labyrinth by means of a ball of silken cord is portrayed.

The loan exhibit of reproductions of masterpieces from the Medici Society will be on exhibition the entire week with frequent lectures open to the students and friends of the school.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Federation

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held May first. The Newton Centre Woman's Club again this year will be hostess at their beautiful and commodious Club House, beginning with Luncheon at one o'clock, prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. Clement H. Lippincott, chairman of the Federation Social committee, tickets for which are 50 cents. Following this there will be an informal reception to the retiring officers. At 2:30 o'clock the business meeting will be called, for annual reports, election of officers, and any other business which may be in order.

Those entitled to vote in the business meeting will be shown reserved seats upon presentation of delegate tickets.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Clubs will be held on Friday, May 5th. Luncheon will be served at one p. m., followed by the business meeting, annual reports, and election of officers. Mrs. John F. Capron will preside, and will introduce the guests of honor on this occasion, who include the twelfth District director, Mrs. Seldon E. James, representing the State Federation; Mrs. Charles C. Wilson, nominated as incoming president of the Newton Federation; Miss Martha P. Wight, president of the Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club; Mme. Apolline Blair, conductor of the Newton Centre Choral Club; and Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, chairman of the Music committee, who will play a number of piano solos.

A pleasurable evening is being arranged by the Ways and Means committee, of which Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., is chairman, for Wednesday, May 3rd, this being the last activity of this committee for the season. A Dramatic Play Reading will be given at the Club House at 8 o'clock, some of the parts of which will be taken by men. This entertainment is open to the gentlemen, as well as to clubwomen. There will be a silver collection at the door, instead of admission charge.

State Federation

ANNUAL MEETING. Massachusetts clubwomen are looking forward to their meeting at the attractive New Ocean House at Swampscott for the three May days, the 16th through the 18th, with their wealth of entertaining features and reports of the year's activities and progress. For some time they have been making their reservations with the hotel. Some of the plans for programs and receptions have been announced already, as has also the ballot offered by the Nominating committee. Further announcement comes for the musical highlights, as arranged by Mrs. George F. Schroeder, State chairman of the division of Music, which include the following: Tuesday afternoon, Boston Symphony Ensemble; Wednesday afternoon, Mary Dyer, dramatic Soprano, and her husband, Einar Hausen, Violinist; and Wednesday evening, Processional march and program by the Samagra Quintet of the Groton Woman's Club.

RADIO. Mrs. Bernard S. Babeau, Motion Picture adviser in the Woman's Club of Brockton and chairman of the Better Films Council of Brockton, will talk over Station WBZ, on May 6, during the State Federation broadcasting period. Her work is part of the nation-wide better films movement. In January she began to enlist the interest of various local organizations and now the Brockton Council is comprised of 50 representatives from 36 organizations, the larger groups having more than one representative. Music for this program will be given by Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, Pianist-composer, and the director of the thirteenth district, Mrs. Frank O. Pierce, will speak to the director's topic of the year, "Working Together Is Progress."

The program for Saturday, the 29th, has already been given in full, but reminder is given that the general topics to be considered are Child Welfare, in a talk on "The Future Generation," and Citizenship Training and "How to Go About Getting a Civil Service Job."

Newton Community Club

Friday and Saturday, the 28th and 29th, are the dates for the Rummage Sale to be held by the Newton Community Club in the interests of Club funds, at the vacant store, 245 Washington street, Newton Corner. Wearing apparel suitable for spring and summer, household articles, and all manner of appealing items may be obtained at bargain prices at this affair. This activity will close the season for this Club, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, president of the Club for the past two years, is General chairman in charge, and will be glad to receive articles from Club members for the sale, and will answer inquiries (tel. N. 1129-W).

RECENT EVENTS

American Home Day at the Newton Centre Woman's Club is always one of great interest to all members. This year's event, on Friday, April 21st, beginning at 10 a. m., includes a visit to five unusually charming homes, all splendid examples of different types of architecture.

Mrs. Leslie D. Hawbridge, of 230 Dudley road, Chestnut Hill, opened her beautiful English Colonial home, where the hostesses were Mrs. S. R. Porter, Miss M. E. Steeves, and Mrs. Almon Foster.

The home of Mrs. Edward Page, at 144 Bigelow road, West Newton, is a perfect exemplification of the Italian influence. Hostesses there were Mrs. P. E. Weldon, Miss Dorothea Hayworth, and Mrs. A. L. Eastman.

The Norman type of architecture was shown to excellent advantage in the home of Mrs. Julian R. Holley, of Allerton road, Newton Highlands. There the hostesses were Mrs. T. A. Seabrook, Mrs. W. R. K. Mick, and Mrs. F. D. Bond.

The home of Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, 6 Woodchester street, is of the English Tudor style; where Mrs. C. A. Riley, Mrs. S. F. Boston, and Mrs. T. B. Powers were hostesses.

The Samuel F. Smith home (author of "America") at 1181 Centre street, is an historical example. There the hostesses were Mrs. L. B. Gould, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Walters.

After the visit to these homes, luncheon was served at the Club House, Mrs. G. W. Ulmer had charge of the part of the day's affairs, with the assistance of Mrs. W. T. Hollis, Mrs. J. B. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. S. M. Fitchet, and Mrs. Frank H. Wright.

Included in the afternoon's program was a spring and summer Style Show. Among the Club members chosen to model gowns, from the Sally Wheeler Frock Shop, were Mrs. Elmer W. Davis, Mrs. W. T. Bryant, Mrs. B. R. Dunn, Mrs. E. A. Andrews, Mrs. S. F. Boston, Miss Marjorie Gould, Mrs. H. C. Gibson, Mrs. H. R. Kellar, Miss D. Haworth, Mrs. W. T. Hollis, Mrs. W. H. Raye, Mrs. G. W. Ulmer, and Miss Martha Wight and Miss Stevenson from the Junior Club. The Fashion Show was in charge of Miss Hannah Bond, assisted by Mrs. Fred D. Bond and Mrs. C. C. Rausch.

The following concerns made most generous contributions to this affair: Hosiery from Bond's Convenience Shop, Newton Centre; and the flowers carried were given by the Boston Gardening Company, in Boston.

Waban Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Waban Woman's Club was held at the Neighborhood Club House on Monday, April 17th, at 1:30 p. m. Spring was in the air and the stage delightfully arranged as an outdoor terrace by the House and Hospitality committee, which, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter B. Hatfield, has brought many lovely stage arrangements before the audiences throughout the year. Mrs. Samuel La Rhetie and social committee, of which Mrs. John E. Denham and Mrs. Louis W. Arnold were the hostesses, served a delicious dessert, a pleasing climax to a year in which attractive and tempting teas have been a usual feature.

This was followed by the business meeting, at which Mrs. George E. May the treasurer, read her splendid report, showing the large amount donated to various charities, especially to the Newton Community Chest.

The Scholarship Fund committee, Mrs. Albin L. Richards, chairman, reported that the Scholarship had been awarded this year to Miss Alice Burbon.

Several notices were read by Mrs. Horace W. Shepard, the corresponding secretary. Then the recording secretary, Mrs. Edward H. Woods, read her comprehensive report of the year's work, in which, in her own inimitable way, she had combined most skillfully the reports of the various committee chairmen, emphasizing the high lights of their respective activities.

After the election of the following officers, the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to cards: president Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller; vice-presidents, Mrs. Benetto R. Ridge, Mrs. Solomon Townsend; recording secretary, Mrs. Edward H. Woods; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Horace W. Shepard; treasurer, Mrs. George E. May; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Russell Burnett; new director, Mrs. Ira S. Rowe; and Nominating committee 1933-1934, Mrs. G. Earle Parker, Mrs. John M. Bierer, Mrs. R. J. M. Fyfe, and Mrs. Howard G. Musgrave.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held its last meeting for the season on April 24th in the Library at Newton. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the Community Service committee, reported that the Clothing Chest is now located in the basement of the new City Hall, and will remain open until further notice. The urgent need for clothing continues, and with the Chest operating through the spring, clothing for the warmer weather will be most acceptable to the committee in charge of the distribution.

From the sale of Christmas Health Seals, Mrs. Charles A. Riley stated that $3976.07 is for use in Newton under the direction of the Welfare Bureau, and the committee is delighted to report that by careful financing they will be able to take care of the same number of children as last year, camp expenses having decreased somewhat. This report was received with applause.

The question of adding a committee on International Relations to those already functioning in the Federation, which was continued from the March meeting, was again presented by Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, and after considerable discussion, it was voted to include such a committee. To those Clubs not having an International Committee, it will be suggested that a member be appointed to act upon the new Federation committee.

The next business was a report from Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, on the disposal of the petition relative to moving pictures suitable for children at Newton. This petition has at last gone forward to Mr. Will T. Hays, Mrs. Braman having conferred with the New England representatives of the motion picture industry. It was the opinion of the Executive Board of the Federation that it was expedient to form, for one year, a Motion Picture committee, which will contact with the State committee.

The Board expressed its appreciation of the use of a room at the Newton Library for its meetings, and decided to present for their shelves a copy of Progress and Achievement, a History of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the suggestion of Mrs. John F. Capron, the members of the Board present, stood, in token of the esteem and admiration in which they hold the retiring president.

The Club Year will close with the Annual Meeting May first, notice of which appears elsewhere.

Newton Community Club

The following new officers were elected to serve for the year 1933-1934 at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Community Club held at the Underwood School Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, April 25th: President, Mrs. Steven B. Wilson; first vice-president, Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer; second vice-president, Mrs. Harold C. Daniels; third vice-president, Mrs. Joseph W. Gerrity; recording secretary, Mrs. Albert A. Schaal; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Kendal L. Woodrough; treasurer, Mrs. George L. Parker; auditor, Miss Margaret H. Aubin; directors, term expiring 1935, Mrs. John T. Alden, and Mrs. Theodore R. SIX NEWTON GIRLS HONORED AT RADCLIFFE

Six Newton girls have this spring been elected to office at Radcliffe College. The elections were held prior to and immediately after the spring holidays but it is only this week that the majority have gone in to office. Four are graduates of the Newton High School.

Mary Douglass of Bowdoin st., Newton Highlands, and Jessie Bourne of Chestnut Hills, also a graduate of the Newton High School, were the only two sophomores to be elected to office in the Student Government Association. Miss Douglass, who was vice-president and president of her class in her first two years at Radcliffe, was chosen secretary, and Miss Bourne was elected treasurer.

Eleanor Vanderhoof '36, of Dexter rd., Newtonville, was chosen treasurer of the Catholic Club.

Helen Brooks, '34, of Pelham st., Newton Centre, has been appointed chairman of publicity for the Student Government Association which gives her the privilege of sitting on the Student Council. Miss Brooks has had experience on the Radcliffe Daily and on the College Press Board. Lillian Wright, '34, of Jewett st., Newton, has been elected president of the Science Club. She was last year's treasurer of that organization and dramatic editor of the Radcliffe Daily.

Janet Ryther, '34, of Erie ave., Newton Highlands, was appointed chairman of the House Committee by the Executive Board of the Student Government Association. Virginia Townsend of Lakewood rd., Newton Highlands, '34, is the new vice-president of the Science Club. Miss Townsend has been appointed chairman of Community Chest for the coming year which entitles her to sit on the Student Council.

Recent Engagements

Announcement has been made by Mrs. J. Leslie Glimmer of Pittsburgh, Pa. and "Valley View Farm," Emmitsburg, Maryland, of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Grace Glimmer, to Lieut. B. W. Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Hogan of West Newton. Miss Glimmer is a graduate of St. Joseph's College of Emmitsburg, Pa., class of 1925. She also studied abroad and at John Hopkins University and Columbia University. Lieut. Hogan who is a member of the Medical Corps of the United States Navy, is a graduate of Boston College class of 1921 and Tufts Medical School in 1925. He is at present connected with the Philadelphia Hospital. They are to be married on May 27th.

Mrs. John J. Markward of 11 Elliot ave. has announced the engagement of her niece, Miss Eleanor Reilly Shea to Dr. Milles O'Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. O'Bryan of Fort Scott, Kansas. Miss Shea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Shea of Indian Orchard, a suburb of Springfield, and was graduated from Smith College in the class of 1927 and has been affiliated with the Thorndike Memorial Laboratory. Dr. O'Bryan attended Clark University, Northwestern University and received his Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland in the class of 1930, and is a member of the faculty at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hood Bonelli of West Newton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Darling Bonelli, to Mr. George Donald Smith, son of the Reverend and Mrs. William Abbot Smith of Waterville, Maine. Miss Bonelli is a graduate of Miss Lee's School in Boston and made her debut in 1928 at The Ritz Carlton Hotel. Mr. Smith attended Oberlin College and Colby College and is at present at the Columbia University School of Library Service. A Luncheon was given on last Saturday at the Brae Burn Country Club in honor of Miss Bonelli, who is a great grand niece of Sir Timothy Darling.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farwell Bemis of 40 Old Orchard rd., Chestnut Hill, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Bemis, to Charles Goodrich Thompson, also of Chestnut Hill. Miss Bemis attended the Buckingham School in Cambridge, Bryn Mawr and also the Museum School in Boston, as well as studying in Paris and Lausanne. Mr. Thompson graduated from Harvard with the class of 1927 and spent a year in England at the School of Economics, later attending the Harvard Law School from which he graduated with the class of 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Leonard of 51 Brooks ave., Newtonville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Veda Mae Leonard to Dr. Victor N. Rochette of Concord, New Hampshire.

Miss Leonard is House Director of the Episcopal Hospital of Washington, D. C. Dr. Rochette is a member of the medical staff at the State Hospital of Concord, N. H. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

The engagement of Miss Elizabeth Eleanor Springham, daughter of Mrs. John Springham of Oak st., Newton Upper Falls to Rev. Benjamin G. Seaboyer, pastor of the Methodist Church in Wilmington, Mass. Miss Springham is a graduate of the Boston Deaconess Training School and is engaged in deaconess work at Brewer, Maine. Miss Springham has had a social welfare work and is social secretary of the Bangor Children's Home in Maine.

Rodeo at Reservation

This coming Saturday, April 29th, will see one of the year's biggest activities at the Nobscoot Reservation—the Annual Rodeo. It is expected that there will be about 600 Scouts and Scouters on hand, to do conservation work, such as planting trees, cutting out undergrowth, working on fire lanes and so on.

In the evening, there will be the big round-up in the Legion Cabin, with broncho busting, cross-cut saw contests, roping and all the features that go to make up a real Scout round-up. Each Troop, in order to enter the round-up events, (or to get into the Legion cabin at all that evening) must wear a brand, made up by the Scouts; many Troops have already registered brands, such as the triangle No. 3 bar S, Crowing Cock, diamond 4A, bar 10 and so on.

During the past week, the school vacation week, there were 418 Scout-nights at the Nobscoot Reservation. Troop 1 had a group at the Ohio for a big treasure hunt. Following Troops were at Nobscoot: 2, 3, 4A, 4B, 5, 7A, 7B, 9, 11, 14, 15, 16, 18, 20, 21 and 22; following Wellesley Troops were also there—1, 2A, 2B and 7. Despite the rainy weather, there was a raft fun, and a great deal of camp improvement accomplished. Some Scouts slept in pup-tents, in preparation for the Camporee on May 13 and 14.

In addition to that camping, the following Troop sent groups elsewhere: Troop 6, Newtonville, to Nobscoot; Troop 4A, Highlands, to Monadnock; Troop 4B, Highlands, to Camp Barker, Douglas, Mass.; and Troop 18, Centre, to Chocoma. The sum total of Scout-nights spent in camping last week was very near the 600 mark—an all-time record for the Council.

Coming Events
The calendar of activities for the coming weeks for Troops of Norumbega Council is a full one.

On April 28th, evening, there will be a mass meeting of the Wellesley District Troops at the Alice Phillips School.

On the 29th, the Rodeo. May 13 and 14th, the Camporee. In this event Patrols under their own boy leaders go to the Nobscoot Reservation with their over-night camping equipment, set up camp and run their own show for overnight. The judging is done by Scoutmasters of the Council and each Patrol is rated on the job it does.

May 18th—Annual meeting of the Council.

May 20 and 21—Certified Examiners' training session at the Nobscoot Reservation.

May 26th—Big Court of Honor, the annual one, at 8:30 p. m. May 27 and 28th—New England Rover Meet at Nobscoot. Representative Rovers (18 years to 80) from all over this section will attend to discuss the Rover idea (service). Dean Frederick Rand Rogers, of Boston University, will speak and lead the discussion at the evening meeting.

May 30th—Memorial Day observances.

June 7th—Leaders' Meeting. June 17 and 18—Mass Troop Camp. Open to all Troops of the Council to camp under their own leaders and to "run their own show."

Y.P.S. OF CENTRAL CHURCH TO GIVE CONCERT MAY 5

The Young People's Society of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will present, on Friday evening, May 5th at 8 o'clock in the Social Hall, "In the Good Old Summer Time," a comedy in three acts, by Adam Applebud, a new play by an old favorite.

Those taking part in the performance are Phyllis Stafford, Leighton Harris, Barbara Tolman, Fairfield Carr, James Stewart, Helen Brandt, Dorothy Wales, Kenneth Winslow, John Kennett, Virginia Conant, Ruth Andrews, Roger Maynard, Betty Weatherhead, William Fish.

The play, which is under the direction of Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, will be followed by a social hour and dancing.

NEWTON BUSINESS ASSOCIATES MEET

A meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held last night at the Elks' Building, Centre street. Sixty-five Newton business men and their employees were present. The meeting was presided over by President Wilfred Chagnon. An address on modern business methods was given by Mr. Buisch of the National Cash Register Company. Mr. Buisch said that his observations in traveling about the country show him that business is improving.

COMMUNITY GATHERING

Residents of Newton Highlands will hold a community gathering in the auditorium of the John W. Weeks Junior High School Friday evening, May 5th. The Men's Club and the Woman's Club are sponsoring the affair which in many respects will be a revival of "Village Night" so popular in past years. The growth of the village necessitated abandoning the annual frolic for want of a hall, but ample facilities are now once more provided in the new school building.

and firemen of the Town of Milton was decided in favor of the employees of that town on Wednesday by Judge Avery of the Quincy court. The attorneys in that case were also Mr. McLaughlin for the police and firemen and Mr. Bartlett for the Selectmen of Milton. Judge Avery ruled that the wages could not be cut unless the Selectmen could prove that the finances of the town were imperiled. Mr. Bartlett announced that he would take the case to a higher court.

Asks About City Paying For Land

Powers asked how many, and who of the donors of the old church lot are now demanding payment for his land? City Solicitor Bartlett, who had proceeded to the roster, alongside President Collins, answered Powers' questions. Mr. Bartlett said that Henry B. Day and the Travelli heirs ask payment for their holdings in the property. The former Ward 1 alderman inquired if Mr. Day, as a trustee, had not been interviewed in 1930 regarding his willingness to have the police building erected on the site. Mr. Bartlett replied that Mr. Day had reluctantly agreed, provided the other donors also agreed. Powers asked how many of the donors had given their consent. He was told "about five."

Mr. Bartlett commented that many of the donors had died and their heirs were scattered far and wide, and only about half of them could be reached. Powers called attention to the fact that the city has until 1947 to use the land for a city hall. He said that while it is quite improbable that the land will ever be used for such a purpose, still, such a thing is possible, and if the city is not legally compelled to pay for this property until 1947, why expend the large sum now, with conditions as they are, and the city compelled to pay increasing demands for the relief of the unemployed. He also asked why the city should pay made demands, just because a few of the former owners of the property are asking payment for the shares they contributed? Mr. Bartlett did not answer these questions.

Alderman T. Morton Gallagher arose to reply to Powers, but President Collins told him that he should postpone his remarks until the Board of Aldermen at a subsequent meeting takes official action on this matter.

RADIO ROBINS GIVE FIRST CONCERT

The "Radio Robins," the juvenile chorus of Newton Centre, assisted by members of the orchestra, both under direction of Mrs. Florence Wood Russell, gave their first concert in Trinity Parish House on Tuesday afternoon before an audience that filled every seat in the hall.

The chorus of children sang a number of selections, beginning with "America" which was accompanied by the orchestra, made up of Betty Vose and Norma Daniels, violinists, Eva Parsons and Margery Coughlan, cellists, William Ellingwood, drum, and Robert DeLong and Frederic Klein, clarinetists. Other numbers by the little chorus were "Sweet and Low," "Old Black Joe," and "Toyland, Toyland," in which the solo was sung by Master Prescott Smith of Bowen St. Four other children arrayed as toys added to the interest of this number, presenting a charming little doll dance. Joyce Nordstrom as the French doll, Marian Cappadona as the Chinese doll, Billy DeStefano as the Jack-in-the-box, and Teddy Sweeney as the gay tin soldier, all were entrancingly garbed and went through their dance in perfect time. The orchestra gave one brief selection, the chorus of "Goodnight, Sweetheart," and surprised their hearers by playing in time and tune, as they have had but four rehearsals. The other soloist of the afternoon was a young lady of nine, Gloria Florin, who gave an old fashioned ballad entitled "My Grand-ma's Advice." The audience was most appreciative of the entire entertainment.
